

Bert Smith returned on Friday from his visit at Muskegon, Ill. Mrs. Smith stopped off at Milwaukee for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Anderson before returning home.

—See Kelly, all next week at Daly's Theatre.

Sept. 16. Note of Application for Final Settlement. Wood County Court in Probate. In the Matter of the Estate of William Schmitt, deceased.

On reading and filing the application of Christ Goldoff, executor under the will of said deceased, representing among other things, that he has fully administered the said estate and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing his account for his administration, and that the residue of the said estate be assigned to such persons as are by law entitled to the same.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this court, at a general term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids on the 20th day of October, 1914, at 9 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place of examining and allowing said account, and of assigning the residue of said estate be given to all persons interested, by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.

Dated the 15th day of September 1914.

By the Court: W. J. CONWAY, County Judge.

Chas. E. Briere, Attorney for the Estate of W. J. Conaway, Grand Rapids, Wis.

DR. J. K. GOODRICH, OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN. Phone 822. Entrance west of Bank of Grand Rapids. Office hours: 9 12, 2-5, 7-8.

A. J. CROWNS, Attorney at Law. MacKinnon Block. Phone 826. Grand Rapids, Wis.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF The Bank of Grand Rapids, located at Grand Rapids, State of Wisconsin, at the close of business on the 12th day of Sept. 1914, pursuant to call by the Commissioner of Banking.

RESOURCES:
Loans and discounts	$438,485.74
Overdrafts	2,873.12
Bonds	25,500.00
Stocks and other securities	4,400.00
Other real estate owned	4,400.00
Due from approved reserve banks	25,068.11
Checks on other banks and cash items	6,551.48
Cash on hand	21,685.61
Ordnance	19,838.52
Total	$559,471.99

LIABILITIES:
Capital stock paid in	$50,000.00
Surplus fund	10,000.00
Undivided profits	4,276.70
Due to banks—deposits	6,700.00
Individual deposits subject to checks	234,829.73
Time certificates of deposit	205,958.51
Savings deposits	48,783.94
Reserve for taxes	932.11
Total	$559,471.99

Wood—ss. I. E. B. Redford, Cashier, of the above named bank, do solemnly swear, that the foregoing statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

E. B. Redford, Cashier.

Correct Attest: Isaac P. Witter, Geo. W. Mead, Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 16th day of September, 1914. Eleanor Slattery, Notary Public. My commission expires July 1, 1917.

CITY POINT.

The steel crew have been busy laying steel the past week.

Rev. Nelson of Iowa spent the past few days here, visiting with friends and relatives.

The Hawk's family from Iowa, spent Sunday here.

John Sullivan, Mina and Lillian Christopherson attended the dance at Bisig's march Wednesday night.

Mr. Voight had a monument erected by his wife's grave.

Mr. Atwood has rented a house in Grand Rapids where he will move his family soon.

Mrs. Burke and children returned from Plover Monday.

Mrs. Claud Orance and son are visiting at Grand Rapids.

Free dance at Ellis Hall last Saturday night. Good time reported by all.

Mrs. Geo. Schroeder returned to her home in Grand Rapids Tuesday after a few days visit at her parents home.

Bert Hancock spent Sunday in Pray.

Peter Hanutka and Rachael Voigt took in the dance at Bisig's Sunday night.

L. H. Ellis was a business caller at Arcadia Friday.

Frank Hancock, D. Diehn, and John Reshel were business callers at Black River Falls the first of the week.

Services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stien Nelson's Tuesday night.

Town board met at Sherwood on Monday on business concerning a new road.

Mrs. C. Nelson and baby left for Milwaukee Saturday for a week's visit.

Mamie McWold is keeping house for Christ Nelson while his wife is away visiting.

Several from here attended the auction at Mrs. Joe James' Tuesday. Ladies aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Hans Olson Saturday afternoon, Sept. 19.

There are four congressional candidates in this, the Eighth district. They are Edward E. Browne, Republican; A. C. Schmidt, Democrat; A. R. Buckman, Democrat; Henry Boorman, Social Democrat.

—Sherman Kelly Stock Co., all next week at Daly's Theatre.

Dismiss Charge.

The case of F. D. Calway of Neillsville against James Jensen, proprietor of the Jensen garage, in which the latter was charged with having substituted old tires for new ones on an automobile left in his garage for repairs, has been dismissed on motion of District Attorney Briere.

It was proven conclusively that the charge was totally unwarranted and the complainant has publicly retracted the charge.

Legal Battle Ended.

The case of the W. D. Connor Lumber Company vs. Soo Railroad which was bitterly fought some years ago when the village of Auburndale was partly destroyed from fire alleged to have been caused by the negligence of the railroad and which was won by the latter was settled this week when the Connor company paid the $400 witness costs that incurred.

—Come to the style show Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Sackcloth coats, suits and dresses. Sackcloth afternoon. Living models, show-ers' Orchestra. Johnson & Hill Co.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

Plant Wheat is Advice.

That wheat and rye are going to be at top prices next year and that it will be a wise move for the farmers in this section to plant heavy in these crops this fall is the opinion of L. M. Nash.

"Both wheat and rye will be sky high next year," said Mr. Nash this morning, "and I think that my advice right. Wood county rye has the reputation of bringing the best price on the market anywhere. Even if the war does end in a short time Europe will take all of the American grain it can get next year and for several years to come."

SHERMAN KELLY AND BIG STOCK COMPANY.

—Comes to Daly's Theatre for a week's engagement commencing Sunday, Sept. 20th. This is the show you all to see, and Mr. Kelly assures the management that he has a larger and better company than ever. 4 acting people and 10 singing voices. Opening play "The District Leader."

Can't Be Blamed This Time For Getting Help From Stalwarts.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 16.—To the Editor: Now that the result of the primary or nominating election is known, I desire to offer a few words of heartfelt thanks to those who thought me worthy of their support and a few words of assurance to those whose duty, as they saw it, led them in the opposite direction.

This time there can be no complaint that my nomination was aided by votes of Stalwart Republicans. The Democratic majority for me is decisive and unless we are to have a split after every primary election all real Democrats should abide by the result. There can be no party administration of the government unless parties are prepared to acquiesce in the result of party nominations made fairly and legally. I have been advertised by some of the opposition, particularly by a newspaper outside of my party, as a reactionary and a Tory. This is far from the truth. I am a progressive in nearly every respect with the progressive policies of President Wilson and even with much of the late Moore party during its lucid intervals. I did oppose the state income tax, but regard that question as settled in favor of the tax. I confess I am disposed to question and investigate innovations before I adopt them, but no one will find me a laggard or an obstructionist in matters of sane progress. So I say to you fellow Democrats, we have no substantial differences. I have no animosities, and with this good feeling on my part for all and hoping for reciprocity and concord, I ask you to close up your ranks and march to victory in November.

(Signed) JOHN C. KAREL.

Living Models showing coats, suits, dresses and Millinery Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6. Johnson & Hill Co.

Rev. H. Maack and wife of Clintonville were guests at the home of Rev. Paulz several days the past week while enroute to La Crosse. On Sunday, Rev. Maack preached to his former congregation at a mission festival at the east side German Lutheran church. They expect to spend several more days in the city with friends on their return from La Crosse.

—Sherman Kelly Stock Co. commencing Sunday, Sept. 20th.

WANT COLUMN.

FOUND—Lost setter dog came to my house on Sunday, Sept. 13. Color, black and white. 34

EXCHANGE FOR FARM AND STOCK—A stone front brick building 3 stories and basement with good hot water heating plant. We live on first floor, 2nd and 3rd we rent as furnished rooms and bring in $60 per month. In good location. Price $6,000. Mrs. E. S. 500. Owner, N. A. Nelson, 649 W. 63 Place, Chicago Ill. (No agents.)

FOR SALE—166 acre farm with good buildings in Shawano County one and one-fourth miles from Split Rock Station. Will consider small city property as part trade. Mrs. F. S. Bauer. R. R. 1

FOR SALE—Two horses. Cheap. Also Holstein Bull one and one-half years old. Inquire 760 3rd St Phone 333.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Improved Farms, Wild lands and city property. Jno. T. Zaloudek 443 9th A. N. Grand Rapids, Wis. 44

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Hardware store at Batavia, Ill. doing good business. Will exchange for partly improved farm. Must be clear. No agents need apply, price $8,500, for further information write D. B. Kimball, Batavia, Ill. 24

WANTED—Place to work for room and board, by high school boy, while attending school. John Fosicki, 1237 W. Cleveland st. 1

FOR SALE—Forty acre farm for sale. Enquire at Tribune.

WANTED—Position as housekeeper Mrs. Hattie Myers, Nekosia, Wis., R. D. 1, Box 15. 24

FOR SALE—New Piano. Inquire at Steinberg's store.

FOR SALE—House and two lots, near foundry, Fifth Ave. N. Sam Nagalski. 74

WANTED TO BUY OR TRADE—Three brown leghorn single comb cockrels, Forest Mangel, Phone 787 Rock 6th st north.

FOR SALE—Grade team, 5 and 6 years old, 2400 lbs., both mares; one riding pony, broke double, single, or saddle; one spring colt four months old, drill seeder practically new; one sulky plow slightly used; driving team 3 and 4 years old, 1800 lbs. Will sell either of the above teams separate or single. Karl Kronholm, Route 4. 44

FOR SALE—Portable saw-mill with Price $100.00. J. C. Benimier 429 Goggins St. Grand Rapids, Wis. 24

FOR SALE—30 ft. gasoline launch 7-horse power engine, reversible bronze propeller. Cash bargain. Phone or write A. J. Freund, Grand Rapids, Wis. 44

FARM FOR SALE—With or without personal property. Peter Krom-enacker, R. D. 4, C'ty. 44

FOR SALE—Pure bred Holstein bulls from one to ten months of age sired by a grandson of Colantha 4th of Johanna the most famous dairy cow of the world. C. H. IMIG, Junction City. Farm one mile north of Grand Rapids Station. 44

FOR SALE—A fine residence property. Will sell east 1/2 foot of my residence property, being the east 60 feet of lots 1 and 2 block 11 of Wood's Addition. E. I. Philoe 44

FOR SALE—A bargain in a forty acre farm in the town of Rudolph, Good barn and buildings. Want to sell everything, owing to old age. Louis Lyonnais, R. F. D. 2. 44

WANTED—Housekeeper for two. Inquire of M. Mathews, Grand Rapids, Wis., R. F. D. No. 8.

JUDGE KAREL'S LETTER.

Can't Be Blamed This Time For Getting Help From Stalwarts.

Women's Club Meets.

The members of the Women's Club held their first regular meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. W. A. Drumb.

The evening's program proved very interesting. Mrs. Earl Pease rendered a report on the Biennial Convention held in Chicago in June. The report covering the work of the convention completely and Mrs. Pease was highly complimented on her work.

Mrs. Drumb, who was the delegate of the club to the eight district convention which was held at her report which was also enthusiastically received.

Miss Gaskill gave a talk on her trip thru the Yellowstone Park this summer. The talk was enhanced by a number of beautiful illustrations.

The annual banquet of the club will be held next Monday night at the home of Mrs. Earl Pease. This is the only occasion of the year when mere man is able to break into the circle.

FOR SALE!

Forty residence lots east and west side $20.00 up to $500.00. One 30 foot business lot east side. See Geo. N. Wood. 14

Vote High License.

Nekosia voted on high license yesterday and the result of the balloting was an increase in the annual license tax from $200 to $500.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Guenther have returned from a visit at Madison.

Miss Lizzie McCannely visited in Merrill several days the past week.

Miss Elsie Krieger returned Tuesday from a month's visit in Chicago.

D. C. Pickett departed on Tuesday evening for Milwaukee to attend the state fair.

Miss Laura Rood of Britt, Iowa is a guest at the home of her brother, C. W. Rood.

Miss Vera Beardsley of La Crosse is a guest at the home of Mrs. Grant Beardsley home.

Hugh Miscoff of Halder was in the city on Saturday visiting at the Arthur Slekles home.

Miss Edith Stewart departed last week for Oshkosh to attend the State Normal school.

John McLaughlin returned last week from a months visit with his brother in Minnesota.

Miss Mae Schmal departed on Friday for Rice Lake where she will teach in the public schools.

Dr. W. Harvie and family autoed to Oshkosh on Sunday to spend several days at the Chapman home.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Witter returned last week from a visit in New York and other points in the east.

—Style show at Johnson & Hill's Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6. Sackcloth's Orchestra will furnish music.

E. C. Ketchum and Chester Roberts have purchased Ford Touring cars from Huntington & Lesig the past week.

Mrs. J. P. Zehren of Split Rock is spending a few days in the city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bauer.

Rev. Logan, pastor of the M. E. church has been re-appointed to fill the local pulpit by the bishop of the district.

Peter Diedrich went to Stevens Point on Monday to begin the preparatory work for repairs on the dam of the Jackson Milling Co.

A large publishing house desires to employ local representative to handle installment collections. Woman preferred. Address H. H. Holm, 403 Watkins Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Vera Randall of Marshfield and Wallace Fairbanks of this city has been announced.

T. A. Taylor and M. Weeks received a 17 foot launch yesterday from the Deperre Boat Co. The boat is a beauty and will be used for pleasure purposes on Lake Byron.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Blaisdell who have been visiting at the Louis Laramie home for the passed few weeks have left for Boulder Junction, Wisconsin, where they will make their home.

Roy Arndt who has been night operator at the local telephone exchange for some years has resigned his position and will leave for Madison where he will enter the university.

Miss Nellie Palmatier has gone to Medford, where she has been engaged as supervisor of music and drawing in the schools of that city. Miss Palmatier graduated from the University at Madison last spring.

There has been an unprecedented rush on the part of foreigners to take out U. S. naturalization papers since the war commenced and as a result 49 would be voters will take out papers on September 26 at the court-house.

L. J. Reinhardt is taking a two week's vacation from his duties at the Johnson & Hill Co. store. Mr. Reinhardt expects to leave with his family this week for Rhinelander to visit with relatives. They will make the trip in their auto.

WOMAN SUICIDES.

Mrs. Fred Hill of Ninth street ended her life last Wednesday afternoon by hanging. Her husband discovered the body, which was suspended from the stair banister, on his return from work. The cause for the action is not known with the exception that Mrs. Hill had been melancholy for some time.

The suicide was deliberately planned as evidence showed that she bathed and dressed with great care before committing the violent deed. After tying the rope to the banister and wrapping her throat in an apron, Mrs. Hill kicked the chair on which she was standing away.

Mr. Hill returned home about five o'clock but the body was cold so death must have occurred some hours before.

The police took charge of the case at once but as it obviously a case of suicide no inquest was held.

A large family of children survive the unfortunate woman. The funeral took place Saturday, the Rev. Paulz of the Lutheran church officiating. Interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Jurors Drawn.

The list of jurors for the October term of circuit court which will convene in this city next month is as follows:

Grand Rapids City—Amos Hasbrouck, Geo. Werner, Kenneth McCannely, John T. Heiser, Wm. Chambers, Wm. Barnes.

Marshfield City—P. J. Kraus, H. I. Baker, Chas. C. Hansen, Carl Peterson, Herman Bauer, Henry Daehli, Wm. G. Tremmel.

Plover—Fred Horton.

Litch—J. A. VanEpps, Anton Henseler.

Rudolph—John Bates.

Cameron—James R. Chapman.

Sargaga—Geo. Peterson.

Richfield—John E. Gadsden, Wm. H. Dohn.

Rempington—Thos. Kelley.

Auburndale Village—Frank Borg.

Nekosia—Wm. Daniels, Matt Sol-senberger, Herman Ross.

Milladore—Louis Blenker, Jos. E. Linzmayer, James Brozek.

Litzmeyer, Ignatz Kozek.

Shelby—Oskar Laroux.

Shelby—John Granger, Chas. Knuth, J. B. Atkins, John Wehr.

Start New Theatre.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the proposed new Palace Theatre held last Friday, it was decided to commence operations on the building at once and the work of removing the buildings now on the site has started. The new playhouse will be constructed on what is known as the McDonald property on Third avenue south.

The directors of the theatre selected by the stockholders are: R. A. McDonald, president, P. L. Bossert, vice president, C. M. Hill, treasurer, and W. H. Phinzel secretary.

It is the purpose of the new amusement company to book high class attractions and to show only the best motion pictures obtainable. The theatre will cost $12,000, and will seat from 600 to 800 people.

The management expects to open the house to the public before January 1.

Entertain Teachers.

The annual reception tendered to the public school teachers by the Ladies of the Federation was held on Saturday night at the home of Mrs. O. T. Hougren. Every teacher in the city with two exceptions were present and the evening was enjoyably spent.

The reception was an informal, "get acquainted" affair and highly appreciated by the teachers, many of them who are as yet strangers in this city. Light refreshments were served.

One of the features of the evening was the musical selections offered by Miss Marjorie Macbeth, who has charge of the music in our schools. Miss Macbeth is a finished musician, and her efforts were enthusiastically received.

Pioneer Resident Dies.

Frederick G. Reusch, a Wood County pioneer, died yesterday at his home in Alford after a lingering illness. Mr. Reusch was 63 years old and has been a resident of Wood county for 25 years. He was a veteran of the Civil war, serving in the 24th Illinois Cavalry and was a member of the local G. A. R. post.

Besides a widow, deceased is survived by two sons and four daughters, Leo and Edward Reusch, Mrs. Frank Ham of Rudolph, Mrs. Fred La Bret of this city, Mrs. George Steiner, Malden, Washington, and Mrs. Edwin Marx, of Daney.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at St. Joseph's church, Alford, Rev. M. Willner of Pittsville officiating.

Mention Hambrecht for Speaker.

The state press is commenting favorably on the candidacy of George P. Hambrecht who secured the Republican nomination in the primaries by a 3 to 1 vote for the assembly and his name has been suggested by several papers for the speakership.

The Madison Democrat published the following in an editorial in its issue of September 5:

"George P. Hambrecht has been nominated in Wood county. He was an able and independent member in 1903. He might readily, if the lower house is republican, come forward as a candidate for the speakership."

Yesko-Pavloski.

A. S. Mary Yesko of Sigel and Nick Pavloski of this city were married at the St. Peter & Paul church yesterday by the Rev. P. R. Ciszewski. The couple were attended by John Yesko, brother of the bride and Mrs. Veronice Pavloski. After the ceremony the wedding party left for Sigel where a breakfast was served at the home of the bride.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our gratitude to all our friends who so kindly helped us during our late bereavement. Especially do we thank those who brought floral offerings.

Fred Hill.

Geo. Warming.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Odgaard.

Are to Wed.

Albert Leder, of Grand Rapids, and Miss Stella Fehrmann of this county, have been licensed to wed.—Merrill Herald.

Team Looks Good.

With thirty husky athletes reporting for practice and prospects of a team that will weigh 160 pounds, the local high school football team has commenced its pre-season practice with the best material for a championship team that it has had in a good many years.

For the past several seasons the high school team has had to play along with light material, inadequate equipment and without expert coaching. This year all of these difficulties have been surmounted. Superintendent Schwego was fortunate in signing Coach Brown who is an old Michigan star and it is expected that with his help the local pig-skin chasers will be able to pester the enemies goal with telling effect in the coming campaign. Five veterans of last year's team will form the nucleus of this year's machine and with twenty-five men fighting for the six remaining positions the outlook is extremely rosy.

Games have already been booked with La Crosse, Sparta, Stevens Point, Normal, Wausau, Merrill, and Wausau and it is expected that two or three more games will be added to the schedule.

Opens Law Office.

Arthur J. Crowns who has spent the passed three years at Fox Lake where he engaged in the practice of law has returned to this city and has opened an office in the MacKinnon block. Mr. Crowns is well known in this city and his decision to locate in this city has met with much favor by his many friends.

In connection with his decision to leave Fox Lake and locate in Grand Rapids, the Fox Lake representative says the following of Mr. Crowns:

"A. J. Crowns, who has been connected with the law firm of North & Crowns in this village for the past few years, has severed his connections with the firm and left on Tuesday for Grand Rapids where he will locate to practice law. Art located here shortly after graduating from the University of Wisconsin, going into partnership with Senator North and has been very successful in his law practice here, winning nearly all of his cases. He is an energetic young man and has left for Grand Rapids to enable him to enter a larger field for his activities. He made many friends here, who, while regretting his departure, will wish him every success in his new location."

To Rebuild Witter Hotel.

The proposed enlargement and reconstruction of the Witter Hotel was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the stockholders held last Friday night.

The contract for the alterations was awarded to George Miller and Louis Schroeder. The improvements are to be completed and ready for occupancy by December 1. The plans call for twenty bed rooms fitted with every convenience, a new dining room, writing room, office, sample room and other improvements. The exterior of the building is to be done over in stucco and new porches erected on the river side of the building.

D. J. Gerow, the present manager has taken a five year lease on the hotel.

The new officers elected by the company are:

President—E. P. Arglin.

Vice-President—J. A. Cohen.

Sec. and Treas.—Earl Pease.

New Dam Innovation.

The dam of the Merrill Railway and Lighting company is nearly completed. The dam is one of unusual type and was designed by E. S. King, manager of the company. According to L. A. DeGuere of this city, who made the plans for the dam according to Mr. King's theory, the new scheme is an innovation in dam building and something that dam men have been working for years.

The gates, all of steel, set firmly on concrete piers, may be entirely opened to permit a full flow of flood tide water without endangering the dam at any point. To do this it was necessary to obtain a free gateway for the water, without the use of "slab boards" as is the common practice. The gates may be raised free from all water and adjustable poles at the sides, holding these in place, may also be taken out, giving an unobstructed flow to the water. This is a decided innovation in dam building.

Automobile Turns Turtle.

An automobile owned by Gerald Fritzinger and driven by James Welsh skidded and overturned on the Rudolph road about six miles from this city last Thursday with the result that all the occupants were more or less shaken up and the car was badly wrecked. The other members of the party were Carl Fritzinger and Frank Dudley. Dudley was rendered unconscious and was not revived for several minutes.

According to the report of the men the car was moving at a moderate speed when the accident occurred.

Evidently they did not realize the speed at which they were travelling for witnesses of the mishap seemed to be unanimous in the opinion that they were pushing Barney Oldfield's straightaway record pretty hard shortly before the loop-the-loop stunt took place.

Rev. Guilbert to Leave Nekosia.

Rev. E. S. Guilbert who has been pastor of the Congregational church at Nekosia for the past three years has resigned his position and accepted a similar one with the Central Park Congregational church of Chicago. The resignation will take effect September 28th.

Mr. Guilbert has made a splendid record at Nekosia and the place he leaves vacant will be a hard one to fill.

Gross Makes Two Sales.

Louis Gross sold the Mrs. Mary Ranthum 80 acre farm in the town of Soper to H. P. Treasurer of Watertown Wis., who has taken possession. Mr. Gross also sold the Persohn property located near the Green Bay depot to John Possley who has taken possession.

—Sackcloth's Orchestra at Johnson & Hill's Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6.

Albert Leder, of Grand Rapids, and Miss Stella Fehrmann of this county, have been licensed to wed.—Merrill Herald.

HERMAN WITT IS KILLED BY TRAIN.

Herman Witt for twenty-five years an employee of the Centralla Pulp & Water Power Co., was killed in the yards of that company yesterday afternoon by a South-bound train.

Mr. Witt, who was a man well along in the sixties, was very deaf and the tragedy was undoubtedly due to this fact. He was walking down the track with his back to the oncoming train. Hugh Boles, who is foreman in the yards, saw the danger he was in and tried desperately to attract his attention. Failing in this he signalled the engine crew but could not make them hear. Before anything could be done Mr. Witt had been run down. The body was horribly mutilated.

The tragic end of Herman Witt comes as a great shock for he was well known in this city, having been a resident of Grand Rapids for 44 years. Besides his wife, two sons, Albert and Leonard, and one daughter Mrs. Henry Vantassel, survive him.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Moravian church, Rec. Mellicke officiating.

Opens Law Office.

Arthur J. Crowns who has spent the passed three years at Fox Lake where he engaged in the practice of law has returned to this city and has opened an office in the MacKinnon block. Mr. Crowns is well known in this city and his decision to locate in this city has met with much favor by his many friends.

In connection with his decision to leave Fox Lake and locate in Grand Rapids, the Fox Lake representative says the following of Mr. Crowns:

"A. J. Crowns, who has been connected with the law firm of North & Crowns in this village for the past few years, has severed his connections with the firm and left on Tuesday for Grand Rapids where he will locate to practice law. Art located here shortly after graduating from the University of Wisconsin, going into partnership with Senator North and has been very successful in his law practice here, winning nearly all of his cases. He is an energetic young man and has left for Grand Rapids to enable him to enter a larger field for his activities. He made many friends here, who, while regretting his departure, will wish him every success in his new location."

To Rebuild Witter Hotel.

The proposed enlargement and reconstruction of the Witter Hotel was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the stockholders held last Friday night.

The contract for the alterations was awarded to George Miller and Louis Schroeder. The improvements are to be completed and ready for occupancy by December 1. The plans call for twenty bed rooms fitted with every convenience, a new dining room, writing room, office, sample room and other improvements. The exterior of the building is to be done over in stucco and new porches erected on the river side of the building.

D. J. Gerow, the present manager has taken a five year lease on the hotel.

The new officers elected by the company are:

President—E. P. Arglin.

Vice-President—J. A. Cohen.

Sec. and Treas.—Earl Pease.

New Dam Innovation.

The dam of the Merrill Railway and Lighting company is nearly completed. The dam is one of unusual type and was designed by E. S. King, manager of the company. According to L. A. DeGuere of this city, who made the plans for the dam according to Mr. King's theory, the new scheme is an innovation in dam building and something that dam men have been working for years.

The gates, all of steel, set firmly on concrete piers, may be entirely opened to permit a full flow of flood tide water without endangering the dam at any point. To do this it was necessary to obtain a free gateway for the water, without the use of "slab boards" as is the common practice. The gates may be raised free from all water and adjustable poles at the sides, holding these in place, may also be taken out, giving an unobstructed flow to the water. This is a decided innovation in dam building.

Automobile Turns Turtle.

An automobile owned by Gerald Fritzinger and driven by James Welsh skidded and overturned on the Rudolph road about six miles from this city last Thursday with the result that all the occupants were more or less shaken up and the car was badly wrecked. The other members of the party were Carl Fritzinger and Frank Dudley. Dudley was rendered unconscious and was not revived for several minutes.

According to the report of the men the car was moving at a moderate speed when the accident occurred.

Evidently they did not realize the speed at which they were travelling for witnesses of the mishap seemed to be unanimous in the opinion that they were pushing Barney Oldfield's straightaway record pretty hard shortly before the loop-the-loop stunt took place.

Rev. Guilbert to Leave Nekosia.

Rev. E. S. Guilbert who has been pastor of the Congregational church at Nekosia for the past three years has resigned his position and accepted a similar one with the Central Park Congregational church of Chicago. The resignation will take effect September 28th.

Mr. Guilbert has made a splendid record at Nekosia and the place he leaves vacant will be a hard one to fill.

Gross Makes Two Sales.

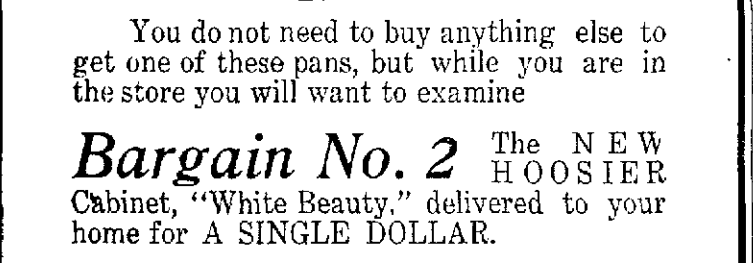

Louis Gross sold the Mrs. Mary Ranthum 80 acre farm in the town of Soper to H. P. Treasurer of Watertown Wis., who has taken possession. Mr. Gross also sold the Persohn property located near the Green Bay depot to John Possley who has taken possession.

—Sackcloth's Orchestra at Johnson & Hill's Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6.

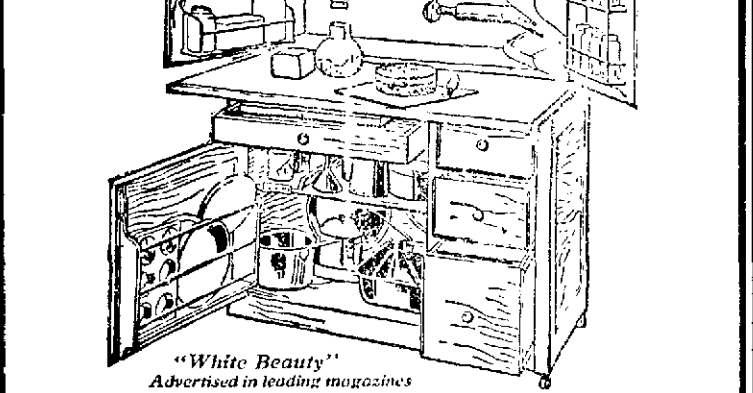

Albert Leder, of Grand Rapids, and Miss Stella Fehrmann of this county, have been licensed to wed.—Merrill Herald.

TWO BIG BARGAINS FOR WOMEN

Bargain No. 1 TOMORROW we continue our sale of a few more quart aluminum sauce pans, to women only, usually sold at 35c to 50c, for

Bargain No. 2 The NEW HOOSIER Cabinet, "White Beauty," delivered to your home for A SINGLE DOLLAR.

The New Hoosier Cabinet Fits Any Kitchen

This New Hoosier has 40 special Labor-Saving features, 17 entirely new. Every woman who has seen it is enthusiastic. We want you to see this great cabinet now.

There are Kitchen Cabinets—and Kitchen Cabinets

Almost every cupboard built for kitchens is called a kitchen cabinet nowadays. Every woman who has a kitchen has some kind of storage cupboard, but the women who use Hoosiers save millions of steps because of the scientific conveyances built into the Hoosiers.

700,000 women use Hoosiers—most of them have bought through the recommendation of their friends. That's the safest guide we know.

Read the Hoosier $1 Plan

Note how fair it is—how the guarantee protects you—and see this Hoosier Cabinet tomorrow.

1. You may choose any of the new Hoosiers—"White Beauty," or "Oak Interior" at slightly less price.
2. $1 puts your Hoosier in your home at once. $1 weekly quickly pays for it.
3. The low cash price fixed by the factory prevails strictly—no extra fees.
4. This sale is under the direct supervision of the Hoosier Company.
5. The sale is strictly limited to our small allotment of new Hoosiers.
6. Your money back if you are not delighted with your Hoosier.

See the big bargain you will get in your Aluminum Pan will pay you for coming down. You don't need to buy anything else. Don't put this off, for other women are reading this too—and those who wait too long will be too late.

J. W. NATWICK
West Side Furniture Dealer

FALL PRESENTATION of STYLECRAFT MODES For FALL and WINTER

Thursday, Friday and Saturday
Sept. 17th, 18th and 19th

If you could spare just a trifle of time, we're sure you would find pleasure in viewing our new and wonderful assortment of Style Craft Models, Redingotes, Cape Coats and Balmacaans. The popular colors are Russian Green, Prune, Copenhagen, Navy and Black.

Ladies' and Misses Coats from.....$6.50 to $30.00
Children's coats up from.....$2.50
Ladies' and Misses Suits from.....$13.50 to $30.00
Mackinaws from.....$6.75 down to $4.98

SWEATERS for women, men and children, colors, size and prices that will please you.

FALL WAISTS—All the best fall styles are ready for you in Organdies, Silks, Flannels and Fancies

NEW FALL CLOAKING and DRESS GOODS.
Pleasing styles and colors at very low prices.

W. C. WEISEL

DRUMB & SUTOR, Publishers.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, September 16, 1914.

VOLUME XLV. NO. 15.

Bert Smith returned on Friday from his visit at Muskegon, Ill. Mrs. Smith stopped off at Milwaukee for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Anderson before returning home.

—See Kelly, all next week at Daly's Theatre.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

The Bank of Grand Rapids, located at Grand Rapids, State of Wisconsin, at the close of business on the 12th day of Sept. 1914, pursuant to call by the Commissioner of Banking.

RESOURCES:
Loans and discounts	$438,486.74
Overdrafts	2,873.12
Bonds	35,530.00
Stocks and other securities	4,400.00
Other real estate owned	4,400.00
Due from approved reserve banks	35,068.11
Checks on other banks and cash items	6,551.49
Cash on hand	21,685.01
Orders	10,828.52
Total	$559,471.99

LIABILITIES:
Capital stock paid in	$50,000.00
Surplus fund	10,000.00
Undivided profits	4,276.70
Due to banks—deposits	6,700.00
Individual deposits subject to checks	234,820.73
Time certificates of deposit	295,958.51
Savings deposits	46,783.94
Reserve for taxes	932.11
Total	$559,471.99

State of Wisconsin, County of Wood—ss.

I, E. B. Redford, Cashier, of the above named bank, do solemnly swear, that the foregoing statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

E. B. Redford, Cashier.

Correct Attest: Isaac P. Witter, Geo. W. Mead, Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me

It is ORDERED, That said application be heard before this court, at a certain term thereof to be held at the date of the day of October, 1914, at 9 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place of examining and allowing said account and of assigning the residue of said estate to be given to all persons interested in said estate, by the publication of this order, for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.

Dated this 16th day of September, 1914.

By the Court.

W. J. CONWAY, County Judge.

Chas. E. Friese, Attorney for the Estate.

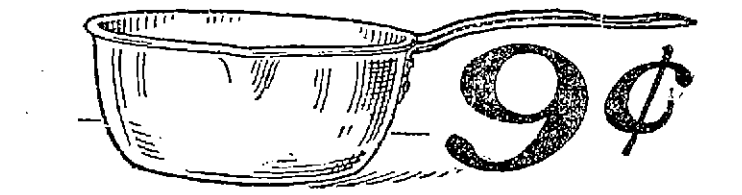

J. A. Kress, Grand Rapids, Wis.

DR. J. K. GOODRICH, OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN
Phone 822.
Entrance west of Bank of Grand Rapids. Office hours: 9-12, 2-5, 7-8.

A. J. CROWNS
Attorney at Law
MacKinnon Block Phone 836
Grand Rapids, Wis.

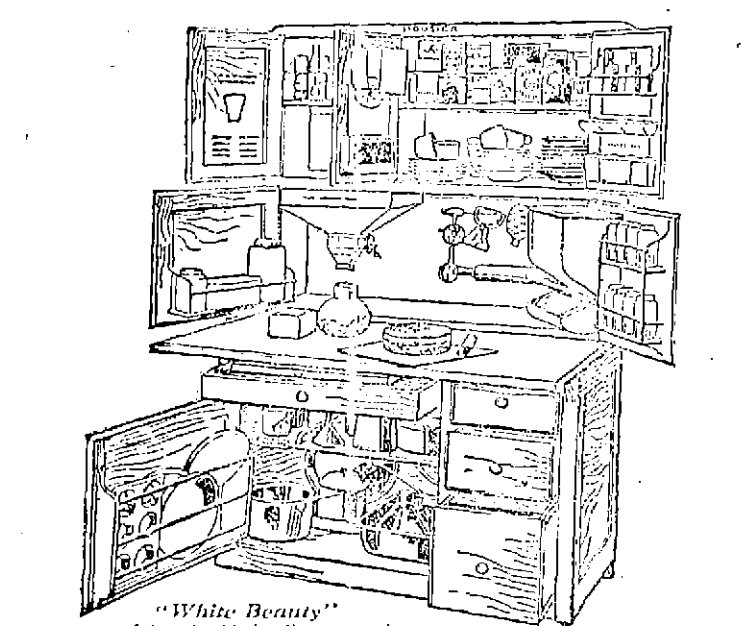

TWO BIG BARGAINS FOR WOMEN

Bargain No. 1 TOMORROW we continue our sale of a few more quart aluminum sauce pans, to women only, usually sold at 35c to 50c, for

You do not need to buy anything else to get one of these pans, but while you are in the store you will want to examine

Bargain No. 2 The NEW HOOSIER Cabinet, "White Beauty," delivered to your home for a SINGLE DOLLAR.

The New Hoosier Cabinet Fits Any Kitchen

This New Hoosier has 40 special Labor-Saving features, 17 entirely new. Every woman who has seen it is enthusiastic. We want you to see this great cabinet now.

There are Kitchen Cabinets—and Kitchen Cabinets

Almost every cupboard built for kitchens is called a kitchen cabinet nowadays. Every woman who has a kitchen has some kind of storage cupboard, but the women who use Hoosiers save millions of steps because of the scientific conveniences built into the Hoosiers.

700,000 women use Hoosiers—most of them have bought through the recommendation of their friends. That's the safest guide we know.

Read the Hoosier $1 Plan

Note how fair it is—how the guarantee protects you—and see this Hoosier Cabinet tomorrow.

1. You may choose any of the new Hoosiers—"White Beauty," or "Oak Interior" at slightly less price.
2. $1 puts your Hoosier in your home at once. $1 weekly quickly pays for it.
3. The low cash price fixed by the factory prevails strictly—no extra fees.
4. This sale is under the direct supervision of the Hoosier Company.
5. The sale is strictly limited to our small allotment of new Hoosiers.
6. Your money back if you are not delighted with your Hoosier.

See the big bargain you will get in your Aluminum Pan will pay you for coming down. You don't need to buy anything else. Don't put this off, for other women are reading this too—and those who wait too long will be too late.

J. W. NATWICK
West Side Furniture Dealer

this 16th day of September, 1914.

Eleanor Slattery, Notary Public.
My commission expires July 1, 1917.

CITY POINT.

The steel crew have been busy laying steel the past week.

Rev. Nelson of Iowa spent the past few days here, visiting with friends and relatives.

The Hawk's family from Iowa, spent Sunday here.

John Sullivan, Miss and Lillian Christopher attended the dance at Bissig's marsh Wednesday night.

Mr. Voight had a monument erected by his wife's grave.

Mr. Atwood has rented a house in Grand Rapids where he will move his family soon.

Mrs. Burke and children returned from Plover Monday.

Mrs. Claude Cramer and son are visiting at Grand Rapids.

Free dance at Ellis Hall last Saturday night. Good time reported by all.

Mrs. Geo. Schroeder returned to her home in Grand Rapids Tuesday after a few days visit at her parents home.

Bert Hancock spent Sunday in Plover.

Peter Hanutka and Rachael Voigt took in the dance at Bissig's Sunday night.

L. H. Ellis was a business caller at Arcadia Friday.

Frank Hancock, D. Diehn, and John Reisel were business callers at Black River Falls the first of the week.

Services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stien Nelson's Tuesday night.

Town board met at Sherwood on Monday on business concerning a new road.

Mrs. C. Nelson and baby left for Milwaukee Saturday for a week's visit.

Mamie McWold is keeping house for Christ Nelson while his wife is away visiting.

Several men here attended the auction at Mrs. Joe James' Tuesday.

Ladies aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Hans Olson Saturday afternoon, Sept. 19.

There are four congressional candidates in this, the Eighth district. They are Edward B. Browne, Republican; A. C. Schmidt, Democrat; A. R. Buckman, Democrat; Henry Boorman, Social Democrat.

—Sherman Kelly Stock Co., all next week at Daly's Theatre.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—Come to the style show Thursday, Friday and Saturday. See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

SHERMAN KELLY AND BIG STOCK COMPANY.

—Comes to Daly's Theatre for a week's engagement commencing Sunday, Sept. 20th. This is the show you all to see, and Mr. Kelly assures the management that he has a larger and better company than ever. A. acting people and 10 singing voices.

Opening play "The District Leader."

Plant Wheat is Advice.

That wheat and rye are going to be at top prices next year and that it will be a wise move for the farmers in this section to plant heavy in these crops this fall is the opinion of L. M. Nash.

"Both wheat and rye will be sky high next year," said Mr. Nash this morning, "and I think that my advice right. Wood county rye has the reputation of bringing the best price on the market anywhere. Even if the war does end in a short time Europe will take all of the American grain it can get next year and for several years to come."

Dismiss Charge.

The case of F. D. Calway of Neillsville against James Jensen, proprietor of the Jensen garage, in which the latter was charged with having substituted old tires for new ones on an automobile left in his garage for repairs, has been dismissed on motion of District Attorney Biers. It was alleged to have been caused by the negligence of the railroad and which was won by the latter was settled this week when the Connor company paid the $400 witness costs that incurred.

Legal Battle Ended.

The case of the W. D. Connor Lumber Company vs. Soo Railroad which was bitterly fought some years ago when the village of Abundant was partly destroyed from fire alleged to have been caused by the negligence of the railroad and which was won by the latter was settled this week when the Connor company paid the $400 witness costs that incurred.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

JUDGE KAREL'S LETTER.

Can't Be Blamed This Time For Getting Help From Stalwarts.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 10.—To the Editor: Now that the result of the primary or nominating election is known, I desire to offer a few words of heartfelt thanks to those who thought me worthy of their support and a few words of assurance to those whose duty, as they saw it, led them in the opposite direction.

This time there can be no complaint that my nomination was aided by votes of Stalwart Republicans. The Democratic majority for me is decisive and unless we are to have a split every primary election all real Democrats should abide by the result. There can be no party administration of the government unless parties are prepared to acquiesce in the result of party nominations made fairly and legally. I have been advised by some of the opposition, particularly by a newspaper outside of my party, as a reactionary and a Tory. This is far from the truth. I am a progressive in hearty accord with the progressive policies of President Wilson and the progressive legislation enacted by the Wisconsin legislature.

The late Moose party during its lucid intervals. I did oppose the state income tax, but regard that question as settled in favor of the tax. I confess I am disposed to question and investigate innovations before I adopt them. I am not a reactionary, but a progressive in matters of same progress. So I say to you fellow Democrats, we have no substantial differences. I have no animosities, and with this good feeling on my part and hoping for reciprocity and concord, I ask you to close up your ranks and march to victory in November.

(Signed) JOHN C. KAREL.

—Living Models showing coats, suits, dresses and Millinery Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6. Johnson & Hill Co.

Rev. H. Mack and wife of Clintonville were guests at the home of Rev. Pault several days the past week while enroute to La Crosse. On Sunday, Rev. Mack preached to his former congregation at a Mission Festival at the east side German Lutheran church. They expect to spend several more days in the city with friends on their return from La Crosse.

—Sherman Kelly Stock Co. commencing Sunday, Sept. 20th.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

—See Kelly and learn to laugh all next week at Daly's.

WOMAN SUICIDES

Mrs. Fred Hill of Ninth street ended her life last Wednesday afternoon by hanging. Her husband discovered the body, which was suspended from the stair banister, on his return from work. The cause for the action is not known with the exception that Mrs. Hill had been melancholy for some time.

The suicide was deliberately planned as evidence showed that she bathed and dressed with great care before committing the violent deed. After tying the rope to the banister and wrapping her throat in an apron, Mrs. Hill kicked the chair on which she was standing away.

Mr. Hill returned home about five o'clock but the body was cold so death must have occurred some hours before.

The police took charge of the case at once but as it obviously a case of suicide no inquest was held.

A large family of children survive the unfortunate woman. The funeral took place Saturday, the Rev. Pault of the Lutheran church officiating. Interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Women's Club Meets.

The members of the Women's Club held their first regular meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. W. A. Drumb.

The evening's program proved very interesting. Mrs. Earl Pease read a report on the Biennial Convention held in Chicago in June. The report covering the work of the convention completely and Mrs. Pease was highly complimented on her work. Mrs. Drumb, who was the delegate of the club to the right district convention, which was held at her report which was also enthusiastically received.

Miss Gaskill gave a talk on her trip thru the Yellowstone Park this summer. The talk was enhanced by a number of beautiful illustrations.

The annual banquet of the club will be held next Monday night at the home of Mrs. Earl Pease. This is the only occasion of the year when men are able to break into the circle.

FOR SALE.

—Forty residence lots east and west side $20.00 up to $500.00. One 30 foot business lot east side. See Geo. N. Wood. 71*

Vote High License.

Nekoosa voted on high license yesterday and the result of the balloting was an increase in the annual license tax from $200 to $500.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Guenther have returned from a visit at Madison.

Miss Lizzie McCanly visited in Merrill several days the past week.

Miss Ellice Krueger returned Tuesday from a month's visit in Chicago.

D. C. Eckert departed on Tuesday evening for Milwaukee to attend the state fair.

Miss Laura Rood of Britt, Iowa is a guest at the home of her brother, C. W. Rood.

Miss Vera Beardsley of La Crosse is a guest at the home of Mrs. Grant Beardsley home.

Hugh Miscoff of Halder was in the city on Saturday visiting at the Arthur Sickles home.

Miss Edith Siewert departed last week for Oshkosh to attend the State Normal school.

John McLaughlin returned last week from a month's visit with his brother in Minnesota.

Miss Mae Schabel departed on Friday for Rice Lake where she will teach in the public schools.

Dr. W. Harvie and family autoed to Oshkosh on Sunday to spend several days at the Chapman home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Witter returned last week from a visit in New York and other points in the east.

—Style show at Johnson & Hill's Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6. Saecker's Orchestra will furnish music.

J. C. Ketchum and Chester Roberts have purchased Ford Touring cars from Huntington & Lesig the past week.

Mrs. J. P. Zehren of Split Rock is spending a few days in the city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Bauer.

Rev. Logan, pastor of the M. E. church has been re-appointed to fill the local pulpit by the bishop of the district.

Peter Dietrich went to Stevens Point on Monday to attend the preparatory work for repairs on the dam of the Jackson Milling Co.

A large publishing house desires to employ local representative to handle installment collections. Woman preferred. Address R. H. Holm, 403 Watkins Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Vera Rood to Mr. H. H. Baisdel who have been visiting at the Louis Larame home for the past few weeks have left for Boulder Junction, Wisconsin, where they will make their home.

Roy Arndt who has been night operator at the local telephone exchange for some time has resigned his position and will leave for Madison where he will enter the university.

Miss Nellie Palmatier has gone to Medford, where she has been engaged as supervisor of music and drawing in the schools of that city. Miss Palmatier graduated from the University at Madison last spring.

There has been an unprecedented rush on the part of foreigners to take out U. S. naturalization papers since the war commenced and as a result 49 would be voters will take out papers on September 26 at the court-house.

L. J. Reinhardt is taking a two week's vacation from his duties at the Johnson & Hill Co. store. Mr. Reinhardt expects to leave with his family this week for Rhinelander to visit with relatives. They will make the trip in their auto.

Entertain Teachers.

The annual reception tendered to the public school teachers by the Ladies of the Federation was held on Saturday night at the home of Mrs. O. T. Housen. Every teacher in the city with two exceptions were present and the evening was enjoyably spent.

The reception was an informal, "get acquainted" affair and highly appreciated by the teachers, many of them who are as yet strangers in this city. Light refreshments were served.

One of the features of the evening was the musical selections offered by Miss Marjorie Macbeth, who has charge of the music in our schools. Miss Macbeth is a finished musician and her efforts were enthusiastically received.

Pioneer Resident Dies.

Frederick G. Rensch, a Wood County pioneer, died yesterday at his home in Alford after a lingering illness. Mr. Rensch was 68 years old and has been a resident of Wood County for 25 years. He was a veteran of the Civil War, serving in the 29th Illinois Cavalry and was a member of the local G. A. R. post.

Resides a widow, deceased is survived by two sons and four daughters. The late Edward Rensch, Frank, Ham of Rudolph, Mrs. Fred La Boe of this city, Mrs. George Stedman, Malden, Washington, and Mrs. Edwin Marx, of Daney.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at St. Joseph's church, Alford, Rev. M. W. Witter officiating.

Mention Hambrecht for Speaker.

The state press is commenting favorably on the candidacy of George P. Hambrecht, who secured the Republican nomination in the primary by a 3 to 1 vote for the assembly and also of the Madison Democrat, who secured the nomination for the speakership.

The Madison Democrat published the following in an editorial in its issue of September 5:

"George P. Hambrecht has been nominated in Wood County. He was an able and independent member in 1909. He might readily, if the lower house is republican, come forward as a candidate for the speakership."

Yeske-Payloski.

Miss Mary Yeske of Sigel and Nick Payloski of this city were married at the St. Peter & Paul church yesterday by the Rev. E. K. Ciesowski. The couple were attended by John Yeske, brother of the bride and Miss Veronice Payloski. After the ceremony the wedding party left for Sigel.

Geo. Warming, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Odgaard

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our gratitude to all our friends who so kindly helped us during our late bereavement. Especially do we thank those who brought floral offerings.

Fred Hill.

Geo. Warming, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Odgaard

Are to Wed.

Albert Leder, of Grand Rapids, and Miss Stella Fehrmann of this county, have been licensed to wed.—Merrill Herald.

Gross Makes Two Sales.

Louie Gross sold the Mrs. Mary Randolph $80 acre farm in the town of Seneca to H. P. Treasurer of Watertown Wis., who has taken possession. Mr. Gross also sold the 100 acre property located near the Green Bay depot to John Possley who has taken possession.

Saecker's Orchestra at Johnson & Hill's Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6.

Team Looks Good.

With thirty husky athletes reporting for practice and prospects of a team that will weigh 160 pounds, the local high school football team has commenced his pre-season practice with the best material for a championship team that it has had in a good many years.

For the past several seasons the high school team has had to play along with light material, inadequate equipment and without expert coaching. This year all of these deficiencies have been surmounted. Superintendent Schwede was fortunate in signing Coach Brown who is an old Michigan star and it is expected that with his help the local pigskin chasers will be able to dispose the enemy's goal with flying feet in the coming campaign. Five veterans of last year's team will form the nucleus of this year's machine and with twenty-five men fighting for the six remaining positions the outlook is extremely bright.

Games Have Already been Booked.

With La Crosse, St. Francis, Stevens Point, Normal, Wausau, Merrill, and Waukegan and it is expected that two or three more games will be added to the schedule.

Jurors Drawn.

The list of jurors for the October term of circuit court which will convene in this city next month is as follows:

Grand Rapids City—Amos Hassbrouck, Geo. Werner, Kenneth McCannell, David T. Holzer, Wm. Channock, Wm. Baran, Wm. J. Kras, R. J. Baker, Chas. C. Hansen, Carl Peterson, Herman Bauer, Henry Dueltman, Geo. Trommel, Fred Horton.

Lincoln—J. A. VanEpps, Anton Hennrich.

Rudolph—John Bates, Camron—James R. Chapman, Saratoga—Geo. etePrson, Richfield—John E. Gadsden, Wm. H. Bohm.

Recreation—Thos. Kofsky.

Abundant Village—Frank Bore, Nekosca—Wm. Daniels, Matt Solenberger, Herman Ross.

Milwaukee—Louis Blenker, Matt Linzmaier, James Brozek, Joe. E. Linzmaier, Janetz Koller.

Sherry—Oleidas Larocour.

Sigel—John Granger, Chas. Knuth, J. B. Atkins, John Wheeler.

Start New Theatre.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the proposed new Palace Theatre held last Friday it was decided to commence operations on the building at once and the work of removing the buildings now on the site has started. The new playhouse will be constructed on what is known as the McDonald property on Third avenue south.

The directors of the theatre selected by the stockholders are: R. A. McDonald, president, P. L. Bossert, vice president, G. M. Hill, treasurer, and W. H. Finzel secretary.

It is the purpose of the new management to build a high class of attractions and to show only the best motion pictures obtainable. The theatre will cost $12,000 and will seat from 600 to 800 people.

The management expects to open the house to the public before January 1.

Rebuild Witter Hotel.

The proposed enlargement and reconstruction of the Witter Hotel was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the stockholders held last Friday night.

The contract for the alterations was awarded to George Miller and Louis Schroeder. The improvements are to be completed and ready for occupancy by December 1. The plans call for twenty bed rooms fitted with every convenience, a new dining room, writing room, office, sample room and other improvements. The exterior of the building is to be done over in stone and new porches erected on the river side of the building.

D. J. Gerow, the present manager has taken a five year leave on the hotel.

The new officers elected by the company are:

President—E. P. Apple, Vice President—J. A. Cohen, Sec. and Treas.—Earl Pease.

New Dam Innovation.

The dam of the Merrill Railway and Lighting company is nearly completed. The dam is one of unusual type and was designed by E. S. King, manager of the company. According to L. A. DeGuerre of this city, who made the plans for the dam, the new scheme is an innovation in dam building and something that dam men have been working for for years.

The gates, all of steel, set firmly on concrete piers, will be entirely opened to permit a full flow of flood tide water without endangering the dam at any point. To do this it was necessary to obtain a free gateway for the water, without the use of "slab boards" as is the common practice. The gates may be raised free from all water and adjustable poles at the sides, holding these in place, may also be taken out, giving an obstructed flow to the water. This is a decided innovation in dam building.

Automobile Turns Turtle.

An automobile owned by Gerald Fritzinger and driven by James Welch skidded and overturned on the road just west of the city. The car was badly wrecked. The other members of the party were Carl Fritzinger and Frank Dudley. Dudley was rendered unconscious and was not revived for some minutes.

According to the report of the men the car was moving at a moderate speed when the accident occurred. Evidently they did not realize the need at which they were travelling for witnesses of the mishap seemed to be unanimous in the opinion that they were pushing Barney Oldfield's straightaway record pretty hard shortly before the loop-the-loop stunt took place.

Rev. Guilbert to Leave Nekoosa.

Rev. E. S. Guilbert who has been pastor of the Congregational church at Nekoosa for the past three years has resigned his position and accepted of a similar one with the Central Park Congregational church of Chicago. The resignation will take effect September 13th.

Mr. Guilbert has made a splendid record at Nekoosa and the place he leaves vacant will be a hard one to fill.

Yeske-Payloski.

Miss Mary Yeske of Sigel and Nick Payloski of this city were married at the St. Peter & Paul church yesterday by the Rev. E. K. Ciesowski. The couple were attended by John Yeske, brother of the bride and Miss Veronice Payloski. After the ceremony the wedding party left for Sigel.

Geo. Warming, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Odgaard

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our gratitude to all our friends who so kindly helped us during our late bereavement. Especially do we thank those who brought floral offerings.

Fred Hill.

Geo. Warming, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Odgaard

Are to Wed.

Albert Leder, of Grand Rapids, and Miss Stella Fehrmann of this county, have been licensed to wed.—Merrill Herald.

Gross Makes Two Sales.

Louie Gross sold the Mrs. Mary Randolph $80 acre farm in the town of Seneca to H. P. Treasurer of Watertown Wis., who has taken possession. Mr. Gross also sold the 100 acre property located near the Green Bay depot to John Possley who has taken possession.

Saecker's Orchestra at Johnson & Hill's Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6.

Saecker's Orchestra at Johnson & Hill's Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6.

HERMAN WITT IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Herman Witt for twenty-five years an employee of the Centralia Pulp & Water Power Co., was killed in the yards of that company yesterday afternoon by a Soo freight train.

Mr. Witt, who was a man well along in the sixties, was very deaf and the tragedy was undoubtedly due to this fact. He was walking down the track with his back to the oncoming train. Hugh Boles, who is foreman in the yard, saw the danger he was in and tried desperately to attract his attention. Failing in this he signaled the engine crew but could not make them hear. Before anything could be done Mr. Witt had been run down. The body was horribly mangled.

The tragic end of Herman Witt comes as a great shock for he was well known in this city, having been a resident of Grand Rapids for 44 years. Besides his wife, two sons, Albert and Leonard, and one daughter, who resided in Grand Rapids, he was a member of the First Norwegian church, Rev. Mellicke officiating.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Norwegian church, Rev. Mellicke officiating.

Opens Law Office.

Arthur J. Crowns who has spent the past three years at Fox Lake, Ill., has returned to this city and has opened an office in the Mackinon block. Mr. Crowns is well known in this city and his decision to locate in this city has met with much favor by his many friends.

In commenting upon his decision to leave Fox Lake and locate in Grand Rapids, the Fox Lake Representative says the following of Mr. Crowns:

"A. J. Crowns, who has been connected with the law firm of North & Crowns in this city for the past few years, has severed his connections with the firm and left on Tuesday for Grand Rapids where he will locate to practice law. Mr. Crowns has been very successful in his law practice here, winning nearly all of his cases. He is an energetic young man and has left for Grand Rapids to enable him to enter a larger field of legal activity. His public friends here, who will regret his departure, will wish him

The Land of Broken Promises

A Stirring Story
of the Mexican Revolution

By DANE COOLIDGE
Author of
"The Flamingo"
"Hidden Waters"
"The Tropicana," Etc.
Illustrations by Don J. Lavin

(Copyright, 1914, by Frank A. Munsey)

CHAPTER XXIV—Continued.

Up along the hillside and after the fugitives ran with vented eagerness, racing each other for the higher ground and the first shot at the rebels. First Alvarez on his white horse would be ahead, and then, as they encountered rocks, the Yaquis would surge to the front. It was a race, and at the same time it was a rout, for, at the first glimpse of that oncoming body of warriors, the cowardly followers of Bernardo Bravo took to their heels and fled.

But over the rocks to Chihuahua, no matter how scared, can hope to outdistance a Yaqui, and the pop, pop of rifles told the fate of the first luckless stragglers. For the Yaquis, after a hundred and sixty years of guerrilla warfare, never waste a shot; and as they saw the white horse and the rider, they saved the shot and the crash of a sudden volley drifted down from the rocky slopes the men who had been fleeing, as if by magic, to the front of the hill.

Fainter and fainter came the shots as the pursuit led on to the north, and as Hooker strained his eyes to follow a huge form that intuition told him was Amigo, he was awakened suddenly from his preoccupation by the touch of some unseen hand. He was in the open with people all about him—Spanish refugees, Americans, triumphant miners and their wives—but that touch made him forget the battle above him and instantly think of Gracia.

He turned and hurried back to the corral where Copper Bottom was kept, and there he found her waiting, with her head all saddled, and she challenged him with her eyes. The sun gleamed from a pistol that she held in her hand, and again from her golden hair, but he saw only her eyes, so brave and daring, and the challenge to mount and ride.

Only for a moment did he stand before her gaze, and then he caught up his saddle and spoke soothingly to his horse. They rode out of the corral together, close to the gates behind them and passing down a gulch to the rear. All the town lay silent below as they turned toward the western pass.

The time had come. Well he knew the dangers that lay between them and the American line. Dangers not for him but for her. In the hills and passes and on the cactus-covered plain were thousands of men with whom she would not be safe for an instant, and against whom he must guard her that she might be delivered safely to Phil. And he loved her then as he had not believed it possible to love a woman. He loved this woman that he was attempting to save for another man, a "partner" who had at the best but half as much love for her, who had been unfaithful to every promise. And across the border this man was waiting for the woman Bud Hooker loved. That he take her to him was a more severe test of his manhood than any to which he had before been subjected. That he be untrue to the trust she reposed in him never entered his mind for a moment. With a strong man's love for her he thought only of how he was to conduct her safely out of the dangers which surrounded her.

Soldiers, miners, and refugees, men, women, and children, every soul in Fortuna was on the hill to see the last of the battle. It had been a crude affair, but bravely ended, and something in the dramatic suddenness of this victory had held all eyes to the close. Bud and Gracia passed out of town unnoticed, and as soon as they had rounded the point they spurred on till they gained the pass.

"I know you would come!" said Gracia, smiling radiantly as they paused at the fork.

"Sure!" answered Hooker with his good-natured smile. "Count me in on anything—what way does this trail go, do you know?"

"It goes west twelve miles toward Arizpe," replied Gracia confidently, "and then it comes into the main road that leads north to Nogales and Gadsden."

"That sounds about right for us," replied Bud. "Gadsden's the place we need to head for, and we want to get there mighty quick, too. If them rebels will let us, I guess that's what they'll have to do whether they want to or not."

They rode on together for some distance, the girl seemingly oblivious of the dangers which surrounded her, and Hooker watching carefully for every sign of difficulty.

"What is there here?" inquired Bud, pointing at a fainter trail that led off toward the north. "This country is new to me. Don't know, eh? Well, if we followed that trail we'd run into them rebels, anyway, so we might as well go to the west. Is your saddle light? We'll hit it up then."

"I'd like to strike a road upon the trail," replied Bud.

They hurried on, following a well-marked trail that alternately climbed ridges and descended into arroyos, until finally it dropped down into a precipitous canon where a swollen stream rushed and bubbled, and while they still watched expectantly for the road, the evening quickly passed.

They had no opportunity for conversation, for the trail was too narrow to permit of their riding side by side. Bud was thinking not only of the dangers that surrounded them, but of the errand on which he was engaged, and what the end of it meant to him.

First the slanting rays of the sun struck fire from the high yellow grass, then the fire faded and the sky glowed an opalescent blue; then, through blues and purples, the heavens turned to black above them and all the stars came out. Thousands of frogs made the canyon resound with their throaty day's work at the branding, he had stood guard half the night. Sleep was a luxury to him, like water to a mountain sheep—and so were all the other useless things that town-bred people required.

People like Gracia, people like Phil were different in all their ways. To ride, to fight, to find the way—there he was a better man than Phil; but to speak to a woman, to know her ways, and to enter into her life—there he was no man at all.

She trusted to his courage to protect her, and that he could do, but it was to a man such as Phil she would give her love. Phil could not love her more than he did, but Phil's ways could be more attractive to her. His adventurous life with his father had not been such as to cultivate the little niceties that appealed to women. It was only his privilege to serve, but he gloried in that privilege now as he watched beside her as she slept, and his vigil but strengthened his resolution to see her safely through to Phil.

He sighed now as he saw the first flush of dawn and turned to where she slept, calm and beautiful, in the solemn light. How to waken her, even that was a question, but the time had come to start.

Already, from Fortuna, Del Rey and his man-killing rurales would be on the trail. He would come like the wind, that devil little captain, and he would wake her! He trumped near as he led up the unwilling mounts; then, as time pressed, he spoke to her, and at last he knelt at her side.

"Say!" he called, and when that did not serve he laid his hand on her shoulder.

"Wake up!" he said, shaking her gently. "Wake up, it's almost day!"

Even as he spoke he went back to the phrase of the cowboy—where was his rifle? It was light. But Gracia woke up wondering and stared about her strangely, unable to understand.

"Why—what is it?" she cried. Then, as he spoke again and backed away, she remembered him with a smile.

"Oh," she said, "is it time to get up? Where are we, anyway?"

"About ten miles from Fortuna," answered Hooker soberly. "Too close—we ought to be over that divide."

He pointed ahead to where the valley narrowed and passed between two hills, and Gracia sat up, blinking back her hair that had fallen from its place.

"Yes, yes!" she said resolutely. "We must go on—but why do you look at me so strangely?"

"Don't know," mumbled Bud. "Didn't know I was. Say, let me get them saddle-blankets, will you?"

He went about his work with embarrassed awkwardness, clapping on saddles and bridles, coiling up ropes, and offering her his hand to mount. When he looked at her again it was not strangely.

"Hope you can ride," he said. "We got to get over that pass before anybody else makes it—after that we can take a rest."

"As fast as you please," she answered steadily. "Don't think about me. But what will happen if they get there first?"

She was looking at him now as he searched out the trail ahead, but he pretended not to hear. One man in that pass was as good as a hundred, and there were only two things he could do—shoot his way through, or turn back. He believed she would not want to turn back.

CHAPTER XXV.

Though the times had turned to war, all nature that morning was at peace, and they rode through a valley of flowers like rich grass and lady in a pageant. The rich grass rose knee-deep along the hillside, the desert trees were aligned with the tenderest green and twined with morning-glories, and in open glades the poppies and sand-verbena spread forth masses of blue and gold.

Already on the mesquite-trees the mocking-birds were singing, and bright flashes of tropical color showed where cardinal and yellowthroat passed. The day was still unclouded, upon the grass, and yet they hurried on, for some premonition whispered to them of evil, and they thought only to gain the far pass.

Beyond that lay comparative safety, but no man knew what dangers lurked between them and that cleft in the mountains. Del Rey and his rurales or Bravo and his men might be there. In fact, one of the other probably was there, and if so there would be a fight, a fight against heavy odds if he were alone, and odds that would be greatly increased because he must protect Gracia.

To the west and north rose the high and impassable mountain which had barred their way at night; across the valley the flat-topped Chinlusa threw their bulk against the dawn; and all behind was broken hills and gulches, any one of which might give up armed men. Far ahead, like a knife-gash between the ridges, lay the pass to the northern plains, and as their trail swung into the open they put spurs to their horses and galloped.

Once through that gap, the upper country would be before them, and they could pick and choose. Now they must depend upon speed and the chances that their way was not blocked. Somewhere in those hills to the east Bernardo Bravo and his men were hidden. Or perhaps they were scattered, turned by their own defeat into roving bands or vengeful partisans, laying waste the Sonoran ranches as they fought their way back to Chihuahua. There were a hundred evil chances that might befall the fugitives, and while Bud scanned the country ahead Gracia cast anxious glances behind.

"They are coming!" she cried at last, as a moving spot appeared in the rear. "Oh, there they are!"

"Good!" breathed Hooker, as he rose in his stirrups and looked back. "Why, good?" she demanded, curiously.

"They're only three of 'em," answered Bud, looking round to see if anybody has a second fly before the summer is gone, but if you are impatient and want to make a show you must order your dead file by the box from New York, spread out on your paper in a quiet place, and put 'em on the machine used by all the respectable druggists.

First Leading Article.

May 12 seems an important anniversary for the newspaper world, because some consider that on that date, in 1791, the Morning Chronicle first brought into being the leading article.

It was merely a short paragraph, which stated that "the great and firm body of the Whigs of England, true to their principles, had decided in favor of Mr. Fox as the representative of the pure doctrine of Whiggery," and suggesting as a result that Burke should retire from the house of commons. This paragraph was published in the part of the Morning Chronicle where leading articles afterwards appeared, and for that reason is reckoned the forerunner of editorial comments on the topics of the day.

Fair Odds.

Judge Musgrove set up a leisurely law office in the town square in Tellico. It looked dignified to have his name as counselor-at-law painted on the door; besides, it provided a haven for him and his listeners could repair when the rain drove them from the sidewalk in front of the Snedcor house, and as a forum for the continuation of the judge's memoirs of the war.

When a man begins to find himself feeling sorry for the slow progress of civilization, he ought to remember that he very seldom sees a patent rocker now.

Don't Be Disheartened.

When a man begins to find himself feeling sorry for the slow progress of civilization, he ought to remember that he very seldom sees a patent rocker now.

Look in pigs for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Never read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are long, drawn, and full of business interest.

Hard to Corner, and You Haven't Always Got Him When You Think He Is Landed.

You have been warned against him. You have been told that he is as dangerous as dynamite.

You have read that he leaves a trail of dead men behind him.

You have bought a sheet of typewriter and are on the watch for his coming.

Bud. "I was afraid they might be in front," he explained, as she gazed at him with a puzzled smile.

"Yes," she said; "but what will you do if they catch us?"

"They won't catch us," replied Hooker confidently. "Not while I've got my rifle. Ah!" he exclaimed, still looking back, "now we know all about it—that sorrel is Manuel del Rey's!"

"And will you kill him?" challenged Gracia, rousing suddenly at the name. Hooker pretended not to hear. Instead, he cocked his eye up at the eastern mountain, whence from time to time came muffled rifle-shots, and turned his horse to go. There was trouble over there to the east some where Alvarez and his Yaquis, still harrying the retreating rebels—and some of it might come their way.

With Del Rey behind them, even though in light, he was the least of their troubles, and could be easily cared for with a rifle shot if they could not distance him. Hooker knew that the two rurales with him would not continue the pursuit if their leader was out of the way, so that it would not be necessary to injure more than one man.

"All right," observed Bud with a quizzical smile, "I'll have to kill him for you!"

She gazed at him a moment with eyes that were big with questioning, but the expression on his rugged face baffled her.

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

"I would not forget it," she cried impulsively. "No, after all I have suffered, I should not let the man who has helped me meet his fate! But who do you—ah!" she cried, with a sudden tragic bitterness. "You smile! You have no thought for me—you care nothing that I am afraid of him! Ah, ah!"

Dios, for a man who is brave—to ride me of this devil!"

"Never mind!" returned Bud, his voice thick with rising anger. "If I kill him it won't be for you!"

He jumped Copper Bottom ahead to avoid her, for in that moment she had touched his pride. Yes, she had touched his pride, but she had destroyed a dream he had, a dream of a beautiful woman, always gentle, always noble, whom he had sworn to protect with his life. Did she think he was a paladino Mexican, a hot-country lover, to be inflamed by a glance and a smile? Then Phil could have her, and welcome. Her trade had lessened his burden. Now his fight was but a duty to his partner in the performance of which he would be no less careful, but to turn her over to Phil would not now be painful.

"Ah, Bud!" she appealed, spurring up beside him, "you did not understand! I know you are brave—and if he comes!" she struck her pistol fiercely—"I will kill him myself!"

"Never mind," answered Bud in a kinder voice. "I'll take care of him. Just keep your eyes on the trail," he added, as she rode on through the brush, "and I'll take care of Del Rey."

He beckoned her back with a jerk of the head and resumed his place in the lead. Here was no place to talk about men and motives. The mountain above was swirling with rebels, there were rurales spurting behind—yes, even now, far up on the eastern hillsides, he could see armed men, and now one was running to intercept them.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle. He rode warily, watching the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

The Land of Broken Promises

A Stirring Story
of the Mexican Revolution

By DANE COOLIDGE
Author of
"The Fighting Waters"
"The Twicken," Etc.
Illustrations by Don J. Levin

(Copyright, 1914, by Frank A. Munsey)

CHAPTER XXIV—Continued.

Up along the hillside and after the fugitives they ran with eager eagerness, meeting each other for the higher ground and the first shot at the hillside. First Alvarez on his white horse was to be ahead, and then, as they encountered rocks, the Yaquis would surge to the front. It was a race and at the same time it was a rout, for, at the first glimpse of that oncoming body of warriors, the cowardly followers of Bernardo Bravo took to their heels and fled.

But over the rocks no Chihuahuan, no matter how scared, can pop to outdistance a Yaqui, and the pop, pop of rifle told the fate of the first luckless stragglers. For the Yaquis, after a hundred and sixty years of guerilla warfare, never waste a shot. They are as savage yells and the crash of a sudden volley drifted down from the rocky heights the men who had been besieged in Fortuna knew that death was abroad in the hills.

Fainter and fainter came the shots as the pursuit led on to the north and, as Hooker strained his eyes to follow a huge form that intuition told him was Amigo, he was awakened suddenly from his preoccupation by the touch of some unseen hand. He was in the open with people all about him—Spanish refugees, Americans, triumphant miners and their wives—but that touch made him forget the battle above him and instantly think of Gracia.

He turned and hurried back to the corral where Copper Bottom was kept, and there he found her waiting, with her roan all saddled, and she challenged him with her eyes. The sun gleamed from a pistol that she held in her hand and again from her golden hair, but he saw only her eyes, so brave and daring, and the challenge to mount and ride.

Only for a moment did he stand before her gaze, and then he caught up his saddle and spoke soothingly to his horse. They rode out of the corral together, clearing the gates behind them and passing down a gulch to the rear. All the town lay silent below them as they turned toward the western pass.

The time had come. Well he knew the dangers that lay between them and the American line. Dangers not for him but for her—in the hills and passes, and on the cactus-covered plain were thousands of men with whom she would not be safe for an instant, and against whom he must guard her that she might be delivered safely to Phil. And he loved her then as he had not believed it possible to love a woman. He loved this woman that he was attempting to save for another man, a "pardner" who had at the best been reckless of every trust, who had been unfaithful to every promise. And across the border this man was waiting for the woman Bud Hooker loved. That he take her to him was a more severe test of his love than any to which he had before been subjected. That he be untrue to the trust she reposed in him never entered his mind for a moment. With a strong man's love for her he thought only of how he was to conduct her safely out of the dangers which surrounded her.

Soldiers, miners, and refugees, men, women, and children, every soul in Fortuna was on the hill to see the end of the battle. It had been a crude affair, but bravely ended, and something in the dramatic suddenness of this victory had held all eyes to the close. Bud and Gracia passed out of town unnoticed, and as soon as they had rounded the point they spurred on till they gained the pass.

"I know you would come!" said Gracia, smiling radiantly as they paused at the fork.

"Sure!" answered Hooker with his good-natured smile. "Count me in on anything—which way does this trail go, do you know?"

"It goes west twelve miles toward Arizapo," replied Gracia confidently, "and then it comes into the main road that leads north to Nogales and Gadsden."

"That sounds about right for us," replied Bud. "Gadsden's the place we want to head for, and we want to get there mighty quick, for the Yaquis will not wait to guess that we've had they'll have to do whether they want to or not."

They rode on together for some distance, the girl seemingly oblivious of the dangers which surrounded her, and Hooker watching carefully for every sign of danger.

"What is there up here?" inquired Bud, pointing at a fainter trail that led off toward the north. "This country is new to me. Don't know, eh?"

"Well, if we followed that trail we'd run into them rebels, anyway, so we might as well go to the west. Is your handle all right? We'll hit it up then—like to strike a road before dark."

They hurried on, following a well-marked trail that alternately climbed ridges and descended into arroyos, until finally it dropped down into a precipitous canon where a swollen stream rushed and bubbled and, while they sat watching expectantly for the road, the evening quickly passed.

They had no opportunity for conversation, for the trail was too narrow to permit of their riding side by side. Bud was thinking not only of the dangers that surrounded them, but of this canon in which he was engaged, and what the end of it meant to him.

First the slanting rays of the sun struck fire from the high yellow crags, then the fire faded and the sky showed an opal-blue; then, through dark blues and purples the heavens turned to black out. The darkness of frogs made the canyon resound with their throaty look around to see if anybody has a second fly before the summer is gone, but if you are impatient and want to make a show you must order your dead flies by the bin from New York. You can get them in a quiet place, and put 'em on the machine used by all the respectable druggists.

First Leading Article. May 12 seems an important anniversary for the newspaper world, because some consider that on that date, in 1891, the Morning Chronicle first brought into being the leading article.

It was merely a short paragraph, which stated that "the great and firm body of the Whigs of England, true to the principles of the crown, in favor of Mr. Fox, the representative of the pure doctrine of Whiggery," and suggesting as a result that Burke should retire from the house of commons. This paragraph was published in the part of the Morning Chronicle where leading articles afterwards appeared, and the date is reckoned as the birth of the leading article.

day's work at the branding, he had stood guard half the night. Sleep was a luxury to him, like water to a mountain-sheep, and so were all the other useless things that town-bred people required.

People like Gracia, people like Phil—they were different in all their ways. To ride, to fight, to find the way to a new town, to know the land, to know the ways, and to enter into her life—there was no man at all.

She trusted to his courage to protect her, and that he could do, but it was to a man such as Phil she would give her love. Phil could love her more than he did, but Phil's ways could be more attractive to her. His adventurous life with his father had not been such as to cultivate the little niceties that appealed to women. It was only his privilege to serve, but he gloried in that privilege now as he watched beside her as she slept, and he was sure that his own intuition to see her safely through to Phil.

He sighed now as he saw the first flush of dawn and turned to where she slept, calm and beautiful, in the solemn light. How to waken her, even that was a question, but the time had come to start.

Already, from Fortuna, Del Rey and his man-killing rurales were on the trail. He would come like the wind, that dashing little captain, and nothing but a bullet would stop him, for his honor was at stake. Nay, he had told Bud in so many words:

"She is mine, and no man shall come between us."

It would be hard now if the rurales should prove too many for him—if a bullet should check him in their flight and she be left alone. But how to wake her! He tramped near as he lay up the unwilling mounds; then, as time pressed, he spoke to her, and at last he knelt at her side.

"She is mine, and no man shall come between us," he called, and when that did not serve he laid his hand on her shoulder.

"Wake up!" he said, shaking her gently. "Wake up, it's almost day!"

Even as he spoke he went back to the phrase of the cow-camp—here men rise before the sun, and Gracia woke up wondering and stared about her strangely, unable to understand.

"Why—what is it?" she cried. Then, as he spoke again and backed away, she remembered him with a smile.

"Oh," she said, "is it time to get up? Where are we, anyway?"

"About ten miles from Fortuna," answered Hooker soberly. "Too close—we ought to be over that divide."

He pointed ahead to where the valley narrowed and passed between two hills, and Gracia sat up, binding back her hair that had fallen from its place.

"Yes, yes!" she said resolutely. "We must go on—how many do you look at me, no?"

"Don't know," mumbled Bud. "Didn't know I was. Say, let me get them saddle-blankets, will you?"

He went about his work with embarrassed swiftness, slipping on saddles and bridles, coiling up ropes and offering her his hand to mount. When he looked at her again it was not strangely.

"Hope you can ride," he said. "We got to get over that pass before any body else makes it—after that we can take a rest."

"As fast as you please," she answered steadily. "Don't think about it. But what will happen if—they get there first?"

She was looking at him now as he searched out the trail ahead, but he pretended not to hear. One man in that pass was as good as a hundred, and there were only two of them. He could do—so he went through, or turn back. He believed she would not want to turn back.

CHAPTER XXV.

Though the times had turned to war, all nature that morning was at peace, and they rode through a valley of flowers like knight and lady in a peasant. The rich grass rose knee-deep along the hillsides, the desert trees were filigreed with the tenderest green and twined with morning-glories, and in open glades the poppies and sand-petals spread forth masses of blue and gold.

Already on the mesquit-trees the mocking-birds were singing, and bright flashes of tropical color showed where cardinal and yellow-throat passed. The dew was still untouched upon the grass, and the morning light was for some premonition whispered to the eyes of evil, and they thought only to gain the far pass.

Beyond that lay comparative safety, but no man knew what dangers lurked between them and that cleft in the mountains. Del Rey and his rurales were there, in fact, one of the rebels probably was there, and if so there would be a fight, a fight against heavy odds if he were alone, and odds that would be greatly increased because he must protect Gracia.

To the west and north rose the high and impassable mountain which had barred their way in the night, across the valley the flat-topped Fortuna threw their bulwark against the dawn; and all behind was broken hills and gulches, any one of which might give up armed men. Far ahead, like a knife-gash between the ridges, lay the pass to the northern plains, and as they rode the trail swung into the open they put spurs to their horses and galloped.

Once through that gap, the upper country would lie before them and they could pick and choose. Now they must depend upon speed and the chance that their way was not blocked.

Somewhere in those hills to the east were Bernardo Bravo and his men, hidden. Or perhaps they were scattered, turned by their one defeat into roving bandits or vengeful partisans, laying waste the Sonoran ranches as they fought their way back to Chihuahua. There were a hundred eyes that might befall the fugitives, and Bud and Gracia cast anxious glances behind.

"They are coming!" she cried at last, as a moving spot appeared in the rear. "Oh, there they are!"

"Good!" breathed Hooker, as he rose in his stirrups and looked.

"Why, good?" she demanded, curiously.

"They're only three of 'em," answered Bud.

look around to see if anybody has a second fly before the summer is gone, but if you are impatient and want to make a show you must order your dead flies by the bin from New York. You can get them in a quiet place, and put 'em on the machine used by all the respectable druggists.

First Leading Article. May 12 seems an important anniversary for the newspaper world, because some consider that on that date, in 1891, the Morning Chronicle first brought into being the leading article.

It was merely a short paragraph, which stated that "the great and firm body of the Whigs of England, true to the principles of the crown, in favor of Mr. Fox, the representative of the pure doctrine of Whiggery," and suggesting as a result that Burke should retire from the house of commons. This paragraph was published in the part of the Morning Chronicle where leading articles afterwards appeared, and the date is reckoned as the birth of the leading article.

The "crimes" in the German army last year may thus be summarized: Five hundred desertions from the colors, 1,000 thefts and 338 cases of ill-treatment of private by non-commissioned officers.

It was merely a short paragraph, which stated that "the great and firm body of the Whigs of England, true to the principles of the crown, in favor of Mr. Fox, the representative of the pure doctrine of Whiggery," and suggesting as a result that Burke should retire from the house of commons. This paragraph was published in the part of the Morning Chronicle where leading articles afterwards appeared, and the date is reckoned as the birth of the leading article.

It was merely a short paragraph, which stated that "the great and firm body of the Whigs of England, true to the principles of the crown, in favor of Mr. Fox, the representative of the pure doctrine of Whiggery," and suggesting as a result that Burke should retire from the house of commons. This paragraph was published in the part of the Morning Chronicle where leading articles afterwards appeared, and the date is reckoned as the birth of the leading article.

Dios, for a man who is brave—to ride to this devil!"

"Never mind!" returned Bud, his voice thick with rising anger. "If I kill him it won't be for you!"

He jumped Copper Bottom ahead to avoid her, for in that moment she had touched his pride. Yes, she had done more than that—she had destroyed a dream he had, a dream of a beautiful woman, always gentle, always noble, whom he had sworn to protect with his life. Did she think he was a paladino Mexican, a hot-country lover, to be inflamed by a glance and a smile? Then Phil could have her, and welcome. Her trade had lessened his burden. Now his fight was but a duty to the east—some performance of which he would be no less careful, but to turn her over to Phil would not now be painful.

"Ah, Bud!" she appealed, spurring up beside him. "you did not understand! I know you are brave—and if he comes, I'll attack him myself!"

"Never mind," answered Bud in a kinder voice. "I'll take care of you. Just keep your horse in the trail," he added, as she rode on through the brush, and I'll take care of Del Rey."

He beckoned her back with a jerk of the head and resumed his place in the lead. There was no place to talk about men and motives. The mountain riders were coming with rebels, there were rurales spurring behind—yes, even now, far up on the eastern hillsides, he could see armed men—and now one was running to intercept them!

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

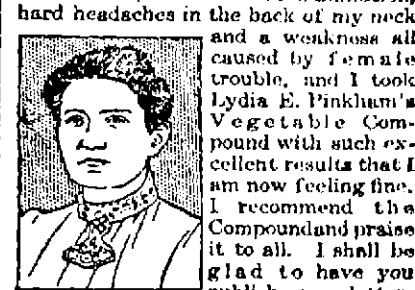

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Bud reached for his rifle, jerked up a cartridge, and sat crosswise in his saddle, his eyes fixed on the distant runner, until suddenly he pulled in his horse and threw up a welcoming hand. The man was Amigo—no other could come down a hillside so swiftly—and he was signaling him to wait.

IN ALL OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

There is Hardly a Woman Who Does Not Rely Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Princeton, Ill.—"I had inflammation, hard headaches in the back of my neck and a weakness all caused by female trouble, and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with such excellent results that I can now feel fine. I recommend the Compound and praise it to all. I shall be glad to have you publish my letter."

There is scarcely a neighbor around me who does not use your medicine."—Mrs. J. P. Johnson, R. No. 4, Box 30, Princeton, Illinois.

Experience of a Nurse. Poland, N.Y.—"In my experience as a nurse I certainly think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a great medicine. I wish all women with female troubles would take it. I took it when passing through the Change of Life with great results and I always recommend it to all my patients. I know it will help them in time. I will gladly do all I can to help others to know of this great medicine."

—Mrs. HORACE NEWMAN, Poland, Herkimer Co., N. Y.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can quickly be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Purely vegetable—act surely and gently on the liver and bowels. No more Biliousness, Head-ache, Dizziness, Indigestion. They do their duty. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

GOODYEAR TIRES AT ANTE-BELLUM PRICES

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announce that Mr. A. B. Williams, president of the Company, thus explains their unique position.

"We advanced Goodyear prices, and others did theirs, when the rubber panic came. Almost in a day crude rubber rose in New York from 10 cents per pound to much over a dollar."

"The New York supply was too small to consider. We called our London people to buy up the pick of the rubber there. By acting quickly and paying cash they obtained 1,500,000 pounds of the finest rubber."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

"We are using the same grade of rubber and the same amount of it as we always have used in these tires."

"We are running our factory with three shifts, and we are now nearly all on the way to the Goodyear factory in Akron. It constitutes the best of the London supply."

Representing T. A. Buck

A Business Adventure of Emma McChesney

By EDNA FERBER

Author of "Dawn O'Hara," "Buttered Side Down," etc.

Emma McChesney, Mrs. (I place it in the background because she generally did) swung off the 2:15, crossed the depot platform, and dived into the hotel bus. She had to climb over the feet of a fat man in brown and a lean man in black, to do it. Long practice had made her perfect in the art. She knew that the fat man and the thin man were hogging the end seats so that they could be the first to register and get a choice of rooms when the bus reached the hotel. The vehicle smelled of straw, and mold, and stables, and dampness, and tobacco, as buses have from old Jones Chuzzlewit's time to this. Nine years on the road had accustomed Emma McChesney's nostrils to the bus smell. She gazed absently out of the window, crowned one leg over the other, remembered that her snug suit-suit wasn't built for that attitude, uncrossed them again, and caught the delighted and understanding eye of the fat traveling man, who was in sympathy in brown and brown suit, brown coat, brown scarf, brown hat, brown-bordered handkerchief just peeping over the edge of his pocket. He looked like a colossal chocolate fudge.

"Red-faced, grinning, and a naughty wink—I'll bet he sells collars and undershirts," mused Emma McChesney. "And the other one—the tall, lank fellow—must be a bookkeeper, or perhaps he's a lyric bureau reader, scheduled to give an evening of humorous readings for the Young Men's Sunday Evening club course at the First M. E. church."

During those nine years on the road for the Featherbrook Skirt company, Emma McChesney had picked up a wide line or two on human nature. She was not surprised to see the fat man in brown and the thin man in black jump out of the bus and into the hotel before she had had time to straighten her hat after the wheels had turned. Perhaps you think that last descriptive sentence is as unnecessary as it is garbled. But don't you get a little picture of her—trim, taut, tailored, mannish-looking, flat-heeled, linen-collared, sailor-hatted?

"You've made a mistake, haven't you?" she inquired.

"Mistake?" repeated the clerk, removing his eyes from their loving contemplation of his right thumb-nail. "Guess not."

"Oh, think it over," drawled Emma McChesney. "I've never seen nineteen, but I can describe it with both eyes shut, and one hand tied behind me. It's an inside room, isn't it, over the kitchen, and just next to the water but where the inside comes to dry water for the scrubbing at 5 a. m.?" And the boiler room gets in its best bumps for nineteen, and the patent ventilators work just next door, and there's a pet rat that makes his headquarters in the wall between eighteen and nineteen, and the housekeeper whose room is across the hall is afflicted with a bronchial cough. The picture's clear, isn't it? For a place in the list I selected a book in my library entitled Poems on Several Occasions, published in 1749, by one Jones, a poet whose name was unknown to me till I perused his verse. The pages were so fresh that I cherished the belief that I was the only reader in a century and a half. I had the pride of possession in Jones. It was some time after that I came across, in Walpole's letters, an allusion to my esteemed poet. It seems that Colley Cibber, when he thought he was writing to the prime minister, had recommended the bearer, Mr. Henry Jones, for the vacant laurel. Lord Chesterfield will tell you more of him. I was never more astonished in my life than when I visualized the situation, and saw my friend Jones' name on a list of a demand for the reversion to the laureate.

It seemed that Walpole was equally surprised, and when he next met Lord Chesterfield the eager question was—Who is Jones, and why should he be recommended for the position of poet laureate? Lord Chesterfield answered: "A better poet would not take the post and a worse ought not to have it." It appears that Jones was an Irish bricklayer and had made his custom to work a certain number of hours according to an undeviating rule. He would lay a layer of bricks and then compose a line of poetry, and so on till his day's task was over. This accounts for the marvelous evenness of his verse.

This was but a small discovery but it gave a real pleasure, for should I meet any of the regulars on the big level, "he reminds me of a San Juan Hill gangster full of coke. When you run up again with them devils you do just as the Kaiser has made all the other kings and things do—call out the reserves."—New York Tribune.

NOT AN ORIGINAL DISCOVERY
Writer Thought That He Had Found Jones, But He Was Very Late to Get in the Field.
Several years ago I wrote an essay for the Atlantic Monthly on "The Hired Worst Block." For a place in the list I selected a book in my library entitled Poems on Several Occasions, published in 1749, by one Jones, a poet whose name was unknown to me till I perused his verse. The pages were so fresh that I cherished the belief that I was the only reader in a century and a half. I had the pride of possession in Jones. It was some time after that I came across, in Walpole's letters, an allusion to my esteemed poet. It seems that Colley Cibber, when he thought he was writing to the prime minister, had recommended the bearer, Mr. Henry Jones, for the vacant laurel. Lord Chesterfield will tell you more of him. I was never more astonished in my life than when I visualized the situation, and saw my friend Jones' name on a list of a demand for the reversion to the laureate.

It seemed that Walpole was equally surprised, and when he next met Lord Chesterfield the eager question was—Who is Jones, and why should he be recommended for the position of poet laureate? Lord Chesterfield answered: "A better poet would not take the post and a worse ought not to have it." It appears that Jones was an Irish bricklayer and had made his custom to work a certain number of hours according to an undeviating rule. He would lay a layer of bricks and then compose a line of poetry, and so on till his day's task was over. This accounts for the marvelous evenness of his verse.

This was but a small discovery but it gave a real pleasure, for should I meet any of the regulars on the big level, "he reminds me of a San Juan Hill gangster full of coke. When you run up again with them devils you do just as the Kaiser has made all the other kings and things do—call out the reserves."—New York Tribune.

NOT AN ORIGINAL DISCOVERY
Writer Thought That He Had Found Jones, But He Was Very Late to Get in the Field.
Several years ago I wrote an essay for the Atlantic Monthly on "The Hired Worst Block." For a place in the list I selected a book in my library entitled Poems on Several Occasions, published in 1749, by one Jones, a poet whose name was unknown to me till I perused his verse. The pages were so fresh that I cherished the belief that I was the only reader in a century and a half. I had the pride of possession in Jones. It was some time after that I came across, in Walpole's letters, an allusion to my esteemed poet. It seems that Colley Cibber, when he thought he was writing to the prime minister, had recommended the bearer, Mr. Henry Jones, for the vacant laurel. Lord Chesterfield will tell you more of him. I was never more astonished in my life than when I visualized the situation, and saw my friend Jones' name on a list of a demand for the reversion to the laureate.

It seemed that Walpole was equally surprised, and when he next met Lord Chesterfield the eager question was—Who is Jones, and why should he be recommended for the position of poet laureate? Lord Chesterfield answered: "A better poet would not take the post and a worse ought not to have it." It appears that Jones was an Irish bricklayer and had made his custom to work a certain number of hours according to an undeviating rule. He would lay a layer of bricks and then compose a line of poetry, and so on till his day's task was over. This accounts for the marvelous evenness of his verse.

This was but a small discovery but it gave a real pleasure, for should I meet any of the regulars on the big level, "he reminds me of a San Juan Hill gangster full of coke. When you run up again with them devils you do just as the Kaiser has made all the other kings and things do—call out the reserves."—New York Tribune.

known to me till I perused his verse. The pages were so fresh that I cherished the belief that I was the only reader in a century and a half. I had the pride of possession in Jones. It was some time after that I came across, in Walpole's letters, an allusion to my esteemed poet. It seems that Colley Cibber, when he thought he was writing to the prime minister, had recommended the bearer, Mr. Henry Jones, for the vacant laurel. Lord Chesterfield will tell you more of him. I was never more astonished in my life than when I visualized the situation, and saw my friend Jones' name on a list of a demand for the reversion to the laureate.

It seemed that Walpole was equally surprised, and when he next met Lord Chesterfield the eager question was—Who is Jones, and why should he be recommended for the position of poet laureate? Lord Chesterfield answered: "A better poet would not take the post and a worse ought not to have it." It appears that Jones was an Irish bricklayer and had made his custom to work a certain number of hours according to an undeviating rule. He would lay a layer of bricks and then compose a line of poetry, and so on till his day's task was over. This accounts for the marvelous evenness of his verse.

This was but a small discovery but it gave a real pleasure, for should I meet any of the regulars on the big level, "he reminds me of a San Juan Hill gangster full of coke. When you run up again with them devils you do just as the Kaiser has made all the other kings and things do—call out the reserves."—New York Tribune.

NOT AN ORIGINAL DISCOVERY
Writer Thought That He Had Found Jones, But He Was Very Late to Get in the Field.
Several years ago I wrote an essay for the Atlantic Monthly on "The Hired Worst Block." For a place in the list I selected a book in my library entitled Poems on Several Occasions, published in 1749, by one Jones, a poet whose name was unknown to me till I perused his verse. The pages were so fresh that I cherished the belief that I was the only reader in a century and a half. I had the pride of possession in Jones. It was some time after that I came across, in Walpole's letters, an allusion to my esteemed poet. It seems that Colley Cibber, when he thought he was writing to the prime minister, had recommended the bearer, Mr. Henry Jones, for the vacant laurel. Lord Chesterfield will tell you more of him. I was never more astonished in my life than when I visualized the situation, and saw my friend Jones' name on a list of a demand for the reversion to the laureate.

It seemed that Walpole was equally surprised, and when he next met Lord Chesterfield the eager question was—Who is Jones, and why should he be recommended for the position of poet laureate? Lord Chesterfield answered: "A better poet would not take the post and a worse ought not to have it." It appears that Jones was an Irish bricklayer and had made his custom to work a certain number of hours according to an undeviating rule. He would lay a layer of bricks and then compose a line of poetry, and so on till his day's task was over. This accounts for the marvelous evenness of his verse.

This was but a small discovery but it gave a real pleasure, for should I meet any of the regulars on the big level, "he reminds me of a San Juan Hill gangster full of coke. When you run up again with them devils you do just as the Kaiser has made all the other kings and things do—call out the reserves."—New York Tribune.

known to me till I perused his verse. The pages were so fresh that I cherished the belief that I was the only reader in a century and a half. I had the pride of possession in Jones. It was some time after that I came across, in Walpole's letters, an allusion to my esteemed poet. It seems that Colley Cibber, when he thought he was writing to the prime minister, had recommended the bearer, Mr. Henry Jones, for the vacant laurel. Lord Chesterfield will tell you more of him. I was never more astonished in my life than when I visualized the situation, and saw my friend Jones' name on a list of a demand for the reversion to the laureate.

It seemed that Walpole was equally surprised, and when he next met Lord Chesterfield the eager question was—Who is Jones, and why should he be recommended for the position of poet laureate? Lord Chesterfield answered: "A better poet would not take the post and a worse ought not to have it." It appears that Jones was an Irish bricklayer and had made his custom to work a certain number of hours according to an undeviating rule. He would lay a layer of bricks and then compose a line of poetry, and so on till his day's task was over. This accounts for the marvelous evenness of his verse.

This was but a small discovery but it gave a real pleasure, for should I meet any of the regulars on the big level, "he reminds me of a San Juan Hill gangster full of coke. When you run up again with them devils you do just as the Kaiser has made all the other kings and things do—call out the reserves."—New York Tribune.

NOT AN ORIGINAL DISCOVERY
Writer Thought That He Had Found Jones, But He Was Very Late to Get in the Field.
Several years ago I wrote an essay for the Atlantic Monthly on "The Hired Worst Block." For a place in the list I selected a book in my library entitled Poems on Several Occasions, published in 1749, by one Jones, a poet whose name was unknown to me till I perused his verse. The pages were so fresh that I cherished the belief that I was the only reader in a century and a half. I had the pride of possession in Jones. It was some time after that I came across, in Walpole's letters, an allusion to my esteemed poet. It seems that Colley Cibber, when he thought he was writing to the prime minister, had recommended the bearer, Mr. Henry Jones, for the vacant laurel. Lord Chesterfield will tell you more of him. I was never more astonished in my life than when I visualized the situation, and saw my friend Jones' name on a list of a demand for the reversion to the laureate.

It seemed that Walpole was equally surprised, and when he next met Lord Chesterfield the eager question was—Who is Jones, and why should he be recommended for the position of poet laureate? Lord Chesterfield answered: "A better poet would not take the post and a worse ought not to have it." It appears that Jones was an Irish bricklayer and had made his custom to work a certain number of hours according to an undeviating rule. He would lay a layer of bricks and then compose a line of poetry, and so on till his day's task was over. This accounts for the marvelous evenness of his verse.

This was but a small discovery but it gave a real pleasure, for should I meet any of the regulars on the big level, "he reminds me of a San Juan Hill gangster full of coke. When you run up again with them devils you do just as the Kaiser has made all the other kings and things do—call out the reserves."—New York Tribune.

SPIES INTEREST KAISER'S SON

Crown Prince's Brusque Querry Some-what Annoyed the British Ambassador.

The conflict between England and Germany recalls an incident of an illuminating character between the Crown Prince Frederick William and the British ambassador at Berlin, Sir Edward Goschen, which almost brought to a sudden end a brilliant dinner given in honor of the Kaiser's heir at the embassy in the German capital last February.

Over the coffee Crown Prince Frederick William turned to Sir Edward Goschen and demanded brusquely: "Where are your spies?"

"Spies?" exclaimed the astounded diplomat. "I cannot understand what your business means."

"Why," returned the heir to the throne of the empire, "your two spies, your military attaché, Colonel Russell, and your naval attaché, Captain Anderson."

"Neither the military attaché," Sir Edward replied Sir Edward Goschen, "nor the naval attaché has anything to do in the nature of spying. I can assure that in the most energetic fashion. The British government has formally prohibited spying on the part of its representatives and the attaché has not sent a single report to London which has been examined by me."

"Well," insisted the crown prince, "we also have military and naval attachés, and I know what their reports treat of."

The British ambassador went on to argue the point, but the crown prince, not at all satisfied, changed the conversation and spoke of horses.

Unnoticed. She—Herbert, I can't find my bathing dress anywhere. He—See if you've got it on—Punch.

A Prominent Trait. "I understand Dolly is all in." "Not quite. The exclaim still sticks out."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Too Dangerous to Overlook. Kidney trouble is too often overlooked and too long delayed. It is the source of many ailments, and should not be neglected. It is the source of many ailments, and should not be neglected. It is the source of many ailments, and should not be neglected.

A Wisconsin Case. Mrs. E. T. Carr, of the City of Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "I have been suffering from kidney trouble for some time, and have been advised to take Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I have taken them and feel much better. I have been advised to take Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I have taken them and feel much better. I have been advised to take Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I have taken them and feel much better."

Biggest Mare in the World. Nebraska, in the United States, claims to have produced the biggest mare in the world. In "Nebraska," which was bred on a farm at Falls City. She is 20 1/2 hands high, 11 feet 8 inches in girth, has 32 inches in length of head, 42 inch shoulders, 20 inch throat, 30 inch collar, and weighs over 2,500 pounds. She is perfect in every particular, kind, gentle, and intelligent, of beautiful color, and is truly a model of her species.

A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE. Is a good tonic in the morning and fits you for a day's work. Try Broadway Coffee, Gold Buckle Coffee, or Silver Buckle Coffee. It will please. For sale at all retailers. E. R. Godfrey & Sons Co. Adv.

Professional. A roistering blade once found a well-known musician in an all-night cafe. "How could you sink to this?" said the blade. "What, sink?" replied the musician. "Did you think I was a guest of the night? I'd have you know I'm here simply as a pianist."

England's Richest Woman. Lady Wontage is said to be the wealthiest woman in England. She inherited an immense fortune from her father, Lord Overstone, the Midland banker. She has no children, and the title becomes extinct at her death. She inherited vast estates from her husband as well as from her father.

Important to Mothers. EXAMINE carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of W. D. Hoagland. In Use For Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

In a Modern Restaurant. Patron—They tell me your head chef has left. Why is that? Waiter—Well, sir, we had to discharge him. The manager hired a new tango dancer and he couldn't afford to keep them both.

No Doubt you are acquainted with a lot of men who are standing on the ragged edge of doing something wonderful—and that's as they ever get.

Take care of the pennies. They are useful for buying things in the slot machines.

The wolf at the door sometimes comes disguised as a bill collector.

Sore Eyes Granulated Eyelids, Eyes inflamed by exposure to Sun, Dust and Wind quickly relieved by Marine Eye Drops. No Stinging, just Eye Comfort. Your Druggist's 50c per Bottle. Marine Eye Salve Tubes 25c. For Booklet the Eye Care Druggists or Marine Eye Drops Co., Chicago.

Killed By Stomped Elephant. A stampeding elephant trampled and killed three persons as they were following a Brahmin marriage procession through the streets of Bahal, Bengal. The procession, headed by the usual band of musicians, had arrived at the bride's house when one of the elephants became furious. The guests in the howdah leaped to the ground, where the bridegroom's father, a priest, and another guest, were trampled to death under the elephant's feet. Four other persons were injured. This incident was the first of the following day by a police sergeant, and the wedding was postponed.

Murdered In. In a certain literary club years ago one of the members, in proposing the name of a candidate for membership, mentioned, among his qualifications, that he could speak several dead languages. To this the opponent replied that he never heard the gentleman in question speak but one dead language and he murdered that as he went along.

STANL

Doctors Gave Him Up

A Music Teacher Saved From A Catarrhal Disease By Peruna.

Prof. W. L. Perkins, Wayneboro, Va., writes: "I was under the care of a doctor for four months, but did not improve at all. At last he gave me up to die of bronchial catarrh. So I thought I would try a bottle of Peruna. I began to feel better at once. Now I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I want to thank you, Dr. Hartman, for your advice. I shall always praise your Peruna for catarrh of the lungs."

Chance for an Argument. Poet Edmund Gosse says the obvious, simple, poignant things seem all to have been said in poetry. It would be interesting to stand by and hear Mr. Gosse repeat that remark to the hustling advertising man of some big department store.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Unnoticed. She—Herbert, I can't find my bathing dress anywhere. He—See if you've got it on—Punch.

A Prominent Trait. "I understand Dolly is all in." "Not quite. The exclaim still sticks out."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Too Dangerous to Overlook. Kidney trouble is too often overlooked and too long delayed. It is the source of many ailments, and should not be neglected. It is the source of many ailments, and should not be neglected. It is the source of many ailments, and should not be neglected.

A Wisconsin Case. Mrs. E. T. Carr, of the City of Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "I have been suffering from kidney trouble for some time, and have been advised to take Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I have taken them and feel much better. I have been advised to take Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I have taken them and feel much better. I have been advised to take Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I have taken them and feel much better."

Biggest Mare in the World. Nebraska, in the United States, claims to have produced the biggest mare in the world. In "Nebraska," which was bred on a farm at Falls City. She is 20 1/2 hands high, 11 feet 8 inches in girth, has 32 inches in length of head, 42 inch shoulders, 20 inch throat, 30 inch collar, and weighs over 2,500 pounds. She is perfect in every particular, kind, gentle, and intelligent, of beautiful color, and is truly a model of her species.

A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE. Is a good tonic in the morning and fits you for a day's work. Try Broadway Coffee, Gold Buckle Coffee, or Silver Buckle Coffee. It will please. For sale at all retailers. E. R. Godfrey & Sons Co. Adv.

Professional. A roistering blade once found a well-known musician in an all-night cafe. "How could you sink to this?" said the blade. "What, sink?" replied the musician. "Did you think I was a guest of the night? I'd have you know I'm here simply as a pianist."

England's Richest Woman. Lady Wontage is said to be the wealthiest woman in England. She inherited an immense fortune from her father, Lord Overstone, the Midland banker. She has no children, and the title becomes extinct at her death. She inherited vast estates from her husband as well as from her father.

Important to Mothers. EXAMINE carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of W. D. Hoagland. In Use For Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

In a Modern Restaurant. Patron—They tell me your head chef has left. Why is that? Waiter—Well, sir, we had to discharge him. The manager hired a new tango dancer and he couldn't afford to keep them both.

No Doubt you are acquainted with a lot of men who are standing on the ragged edge of doing something wonderful—and that's as they ever get.

Take care of the pennies. They are useful for buying things in the slot machines.

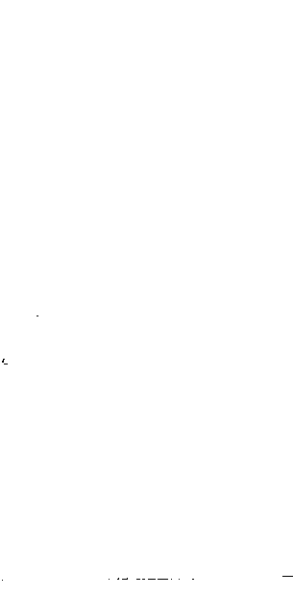

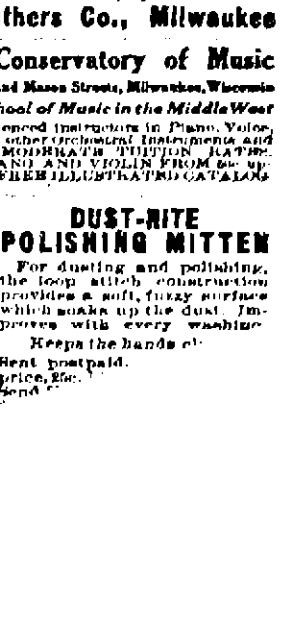

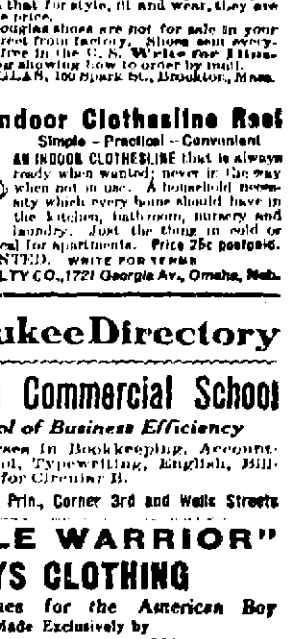

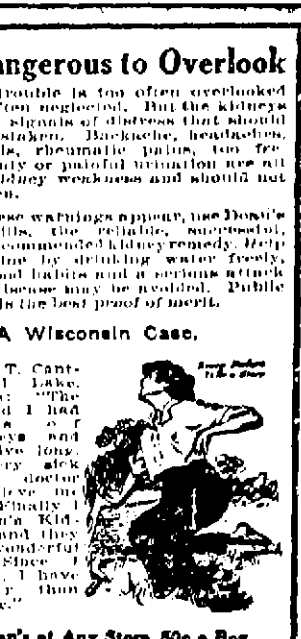

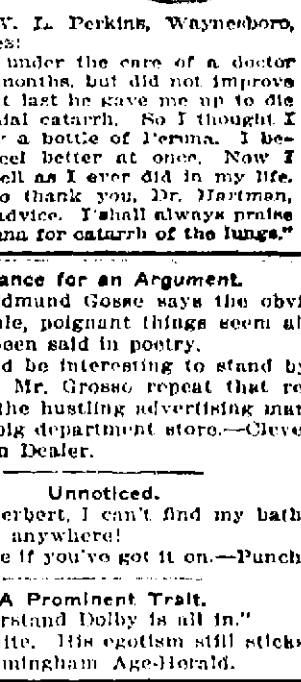

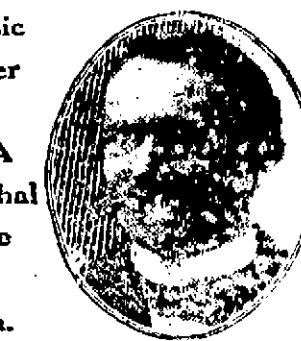

The wolf at the door sometimes comes disguised as a bill collector.

Sore Eyes Granulated Eyelids, Eyes inflamed by exposure to Sun, Dust and Wind quickly relieved by Marine Eye Drops. No Stinging, just Eye Comfort. Your Druggist's 50c per Bottle. Marine Eye Salve Tubes 25c. For Booklet the Eye Care Druggists or Marine Eye Drops Co., Chicago.

Killed By Stomped Elephant. A stampeding elephant trampled and killed three persons as they were following a Brahmin marriage procession through the streets of Bahal, Bengal. The procession, headed by the usual band of musicians, had arrived at the bride's house when one of the elephants became furious. The guests in the howdah leaped to the ground, where the bridegroom's father, a priest, and another guest, were trampled to death under the elephant's feet. Four other persons were injured. This incident was the first of the following day by a police sergeant, and the wedding was postponed.

Murdered In. In a certain literary club years ago one of the members, in proposing the name of a candidate for membership, mentioned, among his qualifications, that he could speak several dead languages. To this the opponent replied that he never heard the gentleman in question speak but one dead language and he murdered that as he went along.

STANL

DR. EUGENE B. TUPPER,
CHIROPRACTOR
Hotel Dixon Tuesday, Thursday
and Saturday
Grand Rapids, Wis.

JOHN W. ARNEY
Optical Specialist

OPTOMETRIST
Eyes examined without charge or obligation. Glasses made to order at Lowest Standard Prices.
Results Absolutely
Guaranteed
Office open Saturdays and Mondays, other dates by appointment
111 Second St. North,
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

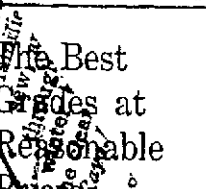

Kellner Coal Co.
Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US
when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 305

Preserve Your Hair
While You Have It
Take care of your hair now,
and keep it. Don't wait until it is gone, for it can never be regained. Get a bottle of Meritol
HAIR TONIC
use it according to directions, and you will ward off the danger of falling hair and early baldness. We don't claim that it will grow out on a bald head, but it will keep your hair at its very best. We positively guarantee that. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. For sale by JOHN E. DALY
EXCLUSIVE AGENCY

HOTEL MARTIN
Milwaukee's Newest
Ernst Claarbach, Pres. John J. Sweeney, Mgr.

Rates $1.00 to $3.00 per day.
50 outside rooms with private bath $7.50
20 outside rooms with private toilet $1.25

Going to Build?
It will pay you to get Estimates from the
J. F. WEINBERG
MFG. CO.
Manufacturers of Sash, Doors, Window Frames and Interior Work.
Custom Planing Done.
Office and factory, 5th Ave. N.
Opposite Foundry. Phone 502

DR. S. E. COTTRILL,
Veterinarian
In Chas. Barn, Fourth Ave. North
Residence phone 595. Office 358.
My Personal Attention Given to All Work

GOAL AND WOOD
The Best Grades at Reasonable Prices

CALCULUS
BUSSITT BROTHERS
WOOD AND CO. YARDS

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE
Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wis., as 2d class mail matter.
Published by W. A. Drumb and A. B. Sutor.
Subscription Price—$1.50; 6 Mo. 75c; 2 Mo. 40c. If paid in Advance
Published Every Wednesday at Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin
Telephone Number 324.
ADVERTISING RATES.
Resolutions, each.....75c
Card of Thanks, each.....25c
Transient Readers, per line.....10c
Display Ad Rates 15c per inch
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1914.

DEMOCRATS IN HARMONY.
The Democrats of Wisconsin decided at the primaries that John C. Karel is to be their candidate in the coming election. Early in the campaign a bitter fight was waged by the factions in the Democratic party and it appeared at that time that the party was irretrievably split.
Recent developments however have proved this to be untrue. In direct opposition to the Republicans who can not, or will not, join forces, the Democrats at the Madison platform convention held yesterday got together, named a state central committee and agreed to bury the hatchet. The Democrats are lined up behind Karel and prepared to wage a fight that will land a Democratic Governor in the chair for the first time in twenty years. There never has in recent years been a more propitious opportunity for victory in the Democratic ranks than this year. It is up to every Democrat to get behind the wagon and aid their shoulder to the wheel.
There was some fear that Karel was too conservative, in other words, a standpat. The concessions made to the Aylward forces and the progressive planks in the new platform have however dispelled this fear and the Democratic press and prominent members of the party are growing more enthusiastic every day as the prospects of victory grow brighter.
The Phillips and La Follette forces are split beyond any hope of ever getting together. The victory will be with the Democrats if the voters get out on November 3 and do their duty.

TREASURY RAID DEFEATED.
The $93,000,000 river and harbor pork barrel measure has been beaten in the United States Senate. Following the refusal of Senators Burton, Kenyon, Norris, Gallinger, and La Follette, leaders of the filibuster against it, to compromise on a 33-2-3 per cent. reduction in all items, President Wilson ordered the Democratic leaders to cut out all new projects or the bill. This means a reduction of 50 per cent. A still further one will be forced however before the measure is passed, for the leaders of the opposition have announced that all old questionable items must go as well as the questionable new ones.
Another triumph for the Wilson administration!
This is the first setback that the clique of old time politicians that for years have succeeded in railroad through both houses of congress this mammoth raid on the United States treasury has received. So obviously is a large percentage of this annual appropriation pure graft, so evident are many of the appropriations "get-together-help-me-and-I-will-help-you" efforts of certain members of Congress to strengthen their holds on their constituencies that no effort is made to conceal it. It is hideous even to the members themselves.

Some of the appropriations are wise and necessary. But to these are added millions of dollars of "pork." The bill provides for river and harbor and other "improvements." This "improvement" racket is used as a cover under which the representatives "bring home the bacon." And this does not mean securing benefits for the people, but trading for special advantages primarily for powerful corporations and real estate interests "back home."
This bill was introduced through the house this year despite the splendid fight made by Congressman Fear of Wisconsin. His telling exposure of the iniquity of this yearly robbery, not only with ridicule and the spoils-hungry mob shoved it thru with laughter and bantering sallies.
But as has already been stated the measure met its Waterloo in the Senate, thanks to the efforts of a coterie of sane, patriotic, and loyal to their trust men backed by President Wilson. The jerkwater creeks and tiny coast intentions that the Lord himself could not make a real harbor of will have to struggle along without "improvement" for a year at least and many will be the bitter tears shed by the favored contractors and "back home" corporations who will now have to look for their living to legitimate competition.

ON RELIABLE.
It is quite improbable that Senator La Follette and his supporters will place an independent ticket in the field. The senator's proudest boast has been that he has never lost his regularity. No Tory can drive him out of the grand old party.
The senator supported Taft. He will support McGovern. He will be for Phillips. It is true that Taft was not elected. It was, as Mr. La Follette remarked, "no job for a fat man." But still La Follette supported him. He will do as much for the Republican ticket this year.—Milwaukee Leader.

UNDER THE SAME SUN.
(New York Sun.)
The sun may be shining too in the Voges and over Lueville and along the line from Lille to Namur, shining with just the same golden joy that blesses our land of peace. How much do we think, as we enjoy its radiance or perhaps ungratefully cavil at its fervor, of the things it looks down upon half way around the world—the flashing fires of death, the bursting of destruction in the air, the heroic, passionate struggles of frantic men, the crimson spots of agony scattered over the devastated fields, and the upturned faces with the pallor of eternal night upon them. Is it not strange that we go about in the ordinary way, eating, drinking, sleeping, buying and selling, even merry-making with careless spirits and vain words, just as if the tragedy of the ages were not in progress within reach of our imaginations? From what deity or demon do we receive the gift of iron thus to harden our hearts?

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL BE RENOMINATED.
The speech of Vice-president Marshall last week announcing that to name but that of President Wilson will be presented to the Democratic party in every state. The program of great constructive legislation which he and his party have put through congress, legislation which has reformed the tariff and currency, and which will soon start business to booming in every state, his masterly diplomacy in eliminating the murderer Huerta and restoring peace without resorting to war or blood shed in Mexico, the unenvied anti-trust laws now being put thru congress, thereby fulfilling all the pledges of the Democratic platform of 1912 have rendered the renomination and re-election of President Wilson not only logical but practically certain. In constructive statesmanship and indomitable courage in fighting the battles of the masses against the privileged few he has made a record no other equalled by any President in times of peace, with the exception of Thomas Jefferson.

Bess Sankey and King Strong in "The Traffic" Daly's Theatre, Thursday evening, Sept. 17

Get Job Work at The Tribune Office

FOURTEEN MILE CREEK
(Too late for last week.)
Hurrah for the Adams Co. fair at Friendship, Sept. 21, 22 and 23. Everybody come.
Mrs. Israel Jero was a caller at the Paul Darn's home one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Wingarden were guests of P. J. Peterson at Saratoga Center Sunday.
Louis Wollert and son Ed. took two big loads of rye to Grand Rapids on Saturday returning home on Sunday.
Miss Judith Carlson who has been working for Mr. Brazeau at Grand Rapids returned home on Saturday.
Miss Lily Jero visited from Friday until Sunday at Fred Holmes at Big Flats.
Oscar Brown who has been working away this summer returned home last week.
Edith Phelps and Richard Carlson spent Saturday evening at Paul Darn's.
Ervin and Leslie Holtz were seen on our streets last Saturday evening.
J. R. Potts and wife were callers at C. E. Ducks Saturday evening.
Miss Florence Darns departed Sunday for Fond du Lac where she will teach school this winter. She taught the same school last year.
School begins Monday in district No. 5 with Miss Inga Anderson as teacher, we wish her success in her undertakings.
Mr. C. E. Duck and Mr. J. E. Potts are helping Mr. Carlson put up a new silo. They each have a new silo to put up for themselves.
Oscar Irwin is putting up a new barn.
Chancy Wingarden was on the sick last week.
Howard Brown and wife and Elmer Brown were Grand Rapids shoppers Saturday.
Andrew Carlson lost a horse last week at Big Flats.
Mr. and Mrs. S. Severson and daughter Inga of Neill were guests at J. Wolcotts last Wednesday.
Hubert Carlson who works at Grand Rapids spent a couple of days last week at home.
Some of the people from here attended church in the Bell schoolhouse on the Ten Mile Creek. Mr. Mellicke of Grand Rapids delivered a very interesting sermon Sunday.
Miss Marie Darns expects to leave Monday for Marshfield where she will visit her grandmother a few days and from there she will go to North Dakota where she will teach school this winter. We all wish her good luck on her long journey.
We wish to extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Peters whose little son was killed Saturday by lightning. Jim Brown worked for J. R. Potts one day last week.

REMINGTON.
(Too late for last week.)
Miss Ella Daniels has gone to work for Mrs. Miller on Mr. Schoenfeld's farm at Big Flats.
Miss Lena Rutz will work for Mrs. Whitley of Cranmoor.
Lambert Brost who has been employed dredging in Minnesota returned home on Saturday, September 5.
Services will be held at the Catholic church at Babcock, Sept. 20, Mass at 9 o'clock a. m.
Miss Ethel Hand will attend the Wood County Training school at the Rapids the coming year.
Alfred Casey returned from Madison where she has been visiting relatives.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sanger returned to their home on Thursday from Grand Rapids where they attended the funeral of their daughter Mrs. Chas. Miller.
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Brost visited the home of their daughter, Mrs. Alvin Caylor of Tomah.
Miss Rose Sanger returned home Sept. 5.
Laurence Brost has gone to Grand Rapids to attend high school.
Chas. Miller and children of the Rapids are guests at the Sanger home.
Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hass are entertaining their cousin of Milwaukee this week.
Chas. Sanger drove to Pittsville on Saturday.
Mrs. Peckoff and son William who Kelley for some time past departed for Grand Rapids where William have been visiting her brother Thomas will attend high school.
Miss Jennie McGinn is attending the Training school at Grand Rapids.
Mrs. Alvin Caylor of Tomah, was the guest of her parents several days last week.
A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brust Aug. 25, in honor of their daughter Miss Margaret, also in honor of Miss Anna Labours both young ladies celebrated together. A large crowd was in attendance. Dancing and music was provided. The party was held at Cranmoor on Mr. Whitley's farm.
R. F. Hass made a business trip to Grand Rapids the latter part of the week.
Miss Margaret Brost has gone to Fond du Lac to attend high school.

SPRING BRANCH.
(Too late for last week.)
Louis Cordts and hired man of Minn. Point who were guests of the former's brother Elbe Cordts returned home Tuesday last week. Joe Busch and niece Elsie Cordts accompanied them to attend the fair at that place.
Our vicinity is being improved by several new silos which are being erected. Volpert of Vandriessen visited the Holtz boys Sunday last week.
Postmaster Wollert and son Ed. were Grand Rapids callers last week Saturday.
Several auto loads of sportsmen from Plainfield are enjoying chicken hunting in this vicinity this week.
—We have just received information that the Herrick Seed Company of Rochester, N. Y., wants lady or gentlemen representatives in this section to sell all kinds of Beans, Shrubs, Trees and Seeds. They inform us that without previous experience it is possible to make good wages every week. Anyone out of employment write them for terms and enclose this notice. 81.

CHEAP COLONIST FARES—VIA CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RY.
—Daily September 24th to October 8th the Chicago and North Western Ry. will place on sale low-fare one-way Colonist tickets to many points in Colorado, Utah, California, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. For rates and detailed information, call on local ticket agents, Chicago and North Western Ry. P. P. Kohler Agent.

Monday's Picnic at Vesper.
(Continued.)
Monday's picnic between Vesper, Arpin and Sherry was certainly a success. The people were there in hundreds even though the day was not promising. The program was a highly talented one, the different choirs rendering selections. The children also carried out their parts well. The speakers were well received and gave extremely interesting addresses, the following gentlemen spoke: Rev. Hoffman, Rev. Bullough, and Rev. Locke. The sports were enjoyed by all, over $50 in prizes was carried to different parts of the county. The ball game between Vesper and Arpin ended in a victory for the former. The winners of the tag-of-war were Arpin, first and Sherry second. The oldest woman on the field was Mrs. Bennett of Pleasant Hill, she being 88 years old, the oldest man was Mr. Hilton he being 85 years old. Thirteen men entered into the button sewing contest; seventeen women ran in the famous women's race; and about twenty-five women ran for hummers when the nail hammering contest came on. Needless to say all had a pleasant time, and look forward to another next year.

Vote of Thanks.
The church picnic committee desires to thank all who helped to make their picnic a success. Our thanks and good will is extended to the many merchants at Vesper, Arpin, Sherry, Grand Rapids and elsewhere who kindly sent donations. Our thanks is also extended to the different editors for their help.
—"No Hunting" signs for sale at this office.

MEEHAN.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Shepherd of Big Flats, Adams county spent last week here among relatives.
The Misses Gracie Gussman and Alva Gussman spent the week of their training school at Grand Rapids for the winter term. They enrolled and commenced work last week.
Miss Nellie Gustin came over from Amherst where she is teaching and spent Saturday with friends.
Harry Slack had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last Thursday. The animal was apparently in good health, but dropped dead in the harness while walking along at work.
Tom Parks got his hand cut quite badly on a corn harvester one day last week. The wound is not serious.

Mrs. L. F. Fox and son Burton went down to Kellner Sunday to visit at the home of Mr. Bert Ward.
Orin Clendenen returned from the west and took charge of the threshing machine and has finished his work down in the town of Grant. He pulled the machine home last week but has got out his corn shredder and will soon be husking again. Orin believes in the old saying that a rolling stone gathers no moss.
Chicken hunters are quite numerous and the explosion of DuPont's smokeless, etc can be heard most any time.
Mrs. Lucy Hale attended the funeral of Chas. Sorbier's daughter at Stevens Point last Saturday.
Mr. Alvin Langston and family and Mr. John Langston and family from near Plover drove over here Saturday and attended the picnic.
There will be a basket party at the home of B. S. Fox the night of Sept. 25. Proceeds will go for the church work.
Orin Pile is adding a coat of red paint to his new barn.
Jello Bros. have purchased a new silo filler and new gasoline engine and are at work filling silos this week. It looks now as if we are to have but one potato to cover here this season. The Caylor and the Produce Co. have sold out their interests here to Alois Firkus of Stevens Point.
Henry Lutz is doing the weighing and looking after the shipping, etc. Owing to the unfavorable weather the Sunday school picnic which was to be held the 5th is postponed until last Saturday. A large crowd was present and all present enjoyed the day. A nice program of speaking and singing was given in the forenoon and after a bountiful picnic dinner all enjoyed themselves with games and races and we will hope to be spared to enjoy many more of these friendly neighborhood gatherings in the name of our Maker.

Subscribe for the Tribune.
SARTOGA CENTER.
Farmers are busy these days cutting corn.
This section was visited by a light frost last week. But very little damage was done, so the people can think themselves very fortunate as a hard frost would do considerable damage. Sunday afternoon was surely a day of rest as it rained steadily all the afternoon and evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Neis Jensen returned home from Chicago Wednesday, where they spent ten days visiting friends and taking in the sights. They report having a good time but were glad to get back home again and enjoy farm life at Sartoga Center.
W. J. Mathews is still working at Grove View.
M. F. Mathews hauled several loads of gravel from the river last week to be used for concrete work at Grove View.
Miss Dorothy McTavish who is going to high school in Grand Rapids spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McTavish at Grove View.
Thomas Chrysal with a crew of men are cutting corn on his farm on the Ten Mile Creek.
Judging from the loads of hunters that go by every morning and from the noise of the guns all day the chicken crop will be greatly reduced by the time the season closes.
Neis Jensen while in Chicago purchased a fine horse to be used on his farm at Sartoga Center.
Albert Muller treated himself to a new wagon one day last week while in Grand Rapids.
Geo. I. Kohn is working for M. F. Mathews and will probably make his home at Grove View this winter. We understand that Robert Thorn is about to sell his farm and quit the business, but as yet there is nothing definite.

On Saturday night of last week a noise that is not heard every night was heard down the line, it was if everybody's cows were in somebody's cornfield and was being driven out by dogs with an occasional gun shot, and in the amount of bellowing, but on further inquiry it was found that Ben Drake who has been keeping Bachelor's Hall on the Toppins farm for the past two years had decided to take to himself a wife in the person of Mrs. Darce Murphy of the southern part of the town and that his friends and neighbors were just assisting them on the occasion. They were all invited in and entertained in a royal manner.

NEW ROME.
(Too late for last week.)
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ziegler and son spent the week at Neeshah.
Miss Lillie Webb is on the sick list this week.
Loren Finch has a very sick cow. Dr. Thurber was called Saturday evening.
Mrs. Patfield of Grand Rapids visited at the P. C. Patfield home the past week.
The Vantassel threshing machine is in our vicinity.
Mr. Burke sold his farm to a Chicago party who took possession this week.
Mr. Harold China went to New York to meet his fiancée, Miss Millie Ratcliff who became his wife on Sunday August 30th. A wedding dinner was served at H. S. Webbs on Sunday, Sept. 6th. On Thursday night they were honored by a charity.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas spent Sunday with the H. S. Shipway family at Big Flats.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Will Luce made a business trip to Nekeosa on Monday.
Mrs. B. C. Burhitt and children spent Tuesday at the Bela Burhitts and Jack Westover homes.
All the farmers are hauling rye now as it is bringing a good price.
Miss Gwendolyn George of Nekeosa visited her aunt Mrs. B. C. Burhitt.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Luce and son Fred and Mrs. Levi Thomas motored to Nekeosa on Saturday.
Miss Freda Hoelt and Miss Nina Christensen spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. B. C. Burhitt.
Mr. Fred Leese and Loyd Davis and their lady friends spent Sunday at the Earl Davis home in Grand Rapids.
Dr. Thurber was called to Loren Finch's, they having a sick calf, but the calf died while the Dr. was there.
Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rowe and family went to visit his people in the south part of the state and to attend a golden wedding.
Miss Florence Bulgrin left Saturday to attend the teachers' training school at your city.
Miss Adelle Foyles is also attending the training school there.
The Hoelt family went to Nekeosa Monday to attend the wedding of Tomie Edwards and their daughter Miss Ella.
P. C. Patfield started filling silos on Saturday.
Omy Bulgrin worked for B. C. Burhitt Saturday cutting corn.

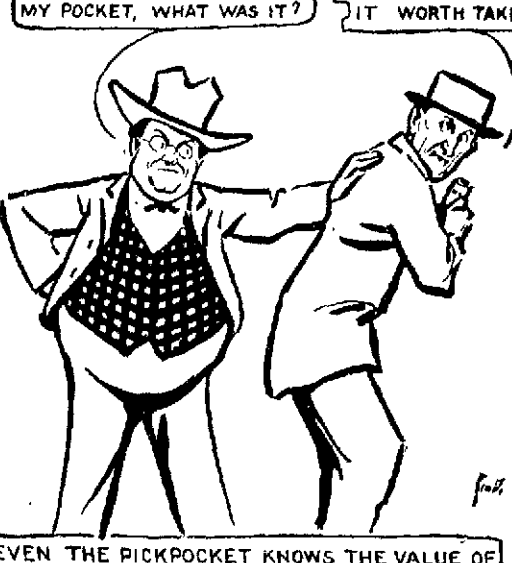

Oh Say, Ladies
—Barker's Antelope will knock that offensive and disagreeable odor from perspiration of the feet or beneath the arms in 15 seconds. For sale by Sam Church, Johnson & Hill Co., and Edw. M. Coyle.

CITY POINT.
P. N. Nelson returned home from Green Bay last Wednesday. While there he attended the funeral of Mrs. Haamussen, Sr.
Our School opened Tuesday morning with Miss Gertrude Stevens Point and Miss Lillian Christopherson as teachers.
John Sullivan and Beanie Fransen are home from the west.
Lulu Nelson and Lillian Christopherson spent a few days of last week in Grand Rapids attending Institute.
Mrs. F. Nelson and babe and Mrs. L. Jensen spent Friday afternoon in Pittsville.
Miss Grace Hancock of Pray visited at F. Hancock's last Saturday.
Miss Austin of Hixton came Saturday to begin school in the District west of here.
Miss Sadie Zimendorfe of Grand Rapids visited at Mrs. Sullivan's last week.
Mrs. Louis Amundson and children returned to their home at Grand Rapids last Friday.
D. S. Cleveland of Pray spent Monday in town inspecting the work being done on the roads.
Mildred Jepson came home from Marshfield where she had spent the summer with friends.
Mr. Moran of Stevens Point spent Monday in town.
Monday was the beginning of chicken hunting season there were hunters all thru the woods.
L. Ellis, L. Kinney and John Sullivan drove out to Bissig's marsh Sunday afternoon.
The McAllister dredge has completed its work here and most of the crew has returned to their homes.
H. A. Lamp recently shipped two carloads of moss.
Hancock was in Pray between trains Saturday.
Frank Hoag and Frank Fransen spent Monday in Marshfield.
C. Crawford and family have moved into the Vanslyke residence.
Mr. Thayer of Moline, Ill., gave an interesting talk in the Congregational church Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. George Schroeder of Grand Rapids is visiting relatives here.
Martin Fransen accompanied by his mother went to Marshfield last Monday.
On Wednesday he was married to Miss Margaret Curtin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elm Curtin. The happy couple returned home last Thursday. Their many friends join in wishing them a happy wedded life.
Louis Wright spent Monday at Alma Center.
Mrs. L. Amundson and children left for their home in Grand Rapids last Friday.
Lulu Nelson and Lillian Christopherson returned home Saturday.
Martin Fransen of City Point and Margaret Curtin of Marshfield were married Sept. 2 by the Catholic priest at Marshfield. They will make their home here, where he is the owner of a store.
The dredge finished digging and hauling out of town ready for shipment.
Mildred Jepson returned home after spending the summer with Tim Curtin at Marshfield.
Mrs. J. A. Christensen attended the wedding of her son Martin last Wednesday.
Mrs. Joe Bissig and daughters returned home to Grand Rapids Saturday.
Miss Edna Austin is teaching the High District.
Grace Hancock attended the wedding dance at Ellis hall also Herman Olson, Bud Hancock, Oscar Birkness, Viola and Olga Reisinger.
Mrs. F. N. Nelson motored to Pittsville last week to have dental work done accompanied by Mrs. E. Jensen, D. S. Cleveland was a business caller here Monday and Tuesday.
Harold Vandoren of Anna Center is visiting at Z. Wright's.
Hunters are numerous.
Frank Hoag, Frank Fransen and John Sullivan were Merrillan visitors Monday.
Mrs. Geo. Schroeder came Tuesday for a week's visit with relatives.
Lizzie Henderson left for Black River Falls, where she will teach.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reeder left on Saturday for Beardstown, Ill., to visit her parents.
Figuring On A New Barn?
Then you're the chap we want to see. We have about the slickest stock of barn material ever brought into this section. We figured on a good many of you people building new barns this year. So we bought for cash, at lowest prices, a splendid assortment of high-grade material, especially for barns. And, take it from us, we can save you a nice bunch of money on your lumber bill.
Don't waste your time, wondering what the stuff would cost you. Make up a list of the items needed, and let us tell you exactly what the cost will be. Bring in your bill next time you are in town.

W. A. MARLING LUMBER CO.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

YOU TOOK SOMETHING FROM MY POCKET, WHAT WAS IT?
THE ONLY THING IN IT WORTH TAKING

EVEN THE PICKPOCKET KNOWS THE VALUE OF THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW

YOU know, all tobacco users know what is the matter with ordinary chewing tobacco!
Everywhere men are saying to their friends that "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew.
Pure, mellow, full-bodied tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.
It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary cheap tobacco makes you spit too much.
The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."
One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
60 Union Square, New York
BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND NO STAMPS TO US

CONOVER - CABLE - KINGSBURY - PIANOS
Manufactured by THE CABLE COMPANY
The Largest Manufacturers of Pianos & Organs in the World.
MRS. F. P. DALY

Mrs. F. P. Daly will receive another Carload of Pianos about September 15th.

Bank Your Fall Profits
in the form of a Bank of Grand Rapids Certificate of Deposit earning 3 per cent interest.
Safe always. Earning a reasonable interest return. Negotiable by endorsement. Accepted as collateral anywhere. Available as cash if needed. An ideal form of investment.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS
West Side

W. A. MARLING LUMBER CO.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

YOU know, all tobacco users know what is the matter with ordinary chewing tobacco!
Everywhere men are saying to their friends that "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew.
Pure, mellow, full-bodied tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.
Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.
It is a ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary cheap tobacco makes you spit too much.
The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."
One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.
WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
60 Union Square, New York
BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND NO STAMPS TO US

DR. EUGENE B. TUPPER,
CHIROPRACTOR
Hotel Dixon Tuesday, Thursday
and Saturday
Grand Rapids, Wis.

JOHN W. ARNEY
Optical Specialist
OPTOMETRIST
Eyes examined without charge or obligation. Glasses
made to order at Lowest Standard Prices.
Results Absolutely
Guaranteed
Office open Saturdays and Mondays, other dates by appointment
111 Second St. North,
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Kellner Coal Co.
Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US
when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 305

Preserve Your Hair
You Have It
Take care of your hair now,
and keep it. Don't wait until it is gone, for it can never be restored. Get a bottle of Meritol
HAIR TONIC
It is according to doctors, and you will find out the danger of falling hair and overgrowth. Meritol is the only hair tonic that will keep your hair in its own place. It positively guarantees to keep your hair in its own place. For sale by JOHN E. DALY
Exclusive Agency

HOTEL MARTIN
Milwaukee's Newest
Ernest Dierbach, Prop. John J. Sweney, Mgr.
Rates $1.00 to $3.00 per day.
50 outside rooms with private bath $1.50
20 outside rooms with private bath $1.25

Going to Build?
It will pay you to get Estimates from the
J. F. WEINBERG
MFG. CO.
Manufacturers of Sash, Doors, Window Frames and Interior Work.
Custom Planing Done.
Office and factory, 5th Ave. N.
Opposite Foundry. Phone 502

DR. S. E. COTTRILL,
Veterinarian
In Chas. Barn, Fourth Ave. North.
Residence phone 595. Office 388.
My Personal Attention Given to All Work

GOAL AND WOOD
The Best Grades at Reasonable
Prices
CALHOUN ST.
Phone 416
BOSSERT BROTHERS
WOOD AND CARPENTERS
101 N. 1st St.

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wis., as 2d class mail matter.
Published by W. A. Drumb and A. B. Sutor.
Subscription Price—$1.50; 6 Mo. 75c; 3 Mo. 40c. If paid in Advance
Published Every Wednesday at Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin
Telephone Number 324.
ADVERTISING RATES.
Resolutions, each.....75c
Card of Thanks, each.....25c
Transient Readers, per line.....10c
Obituary Poetry, per line.....50c Paid Entertainments, per line.....50c
Display Ad Rates 15c per inch
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1914.

DEMOCRATS IN HARMONY.
The Democrats of Wisconsin decided at the primaries that John C. Karel is to be their candidate in the coming election. Early in the campaign a bitter fight was waged by the factions in the Democratic party and it appeared at that time that the party was irretrievably split.
Recent developments however have proved this to be untrue. In direct opposition to the Republicans who can not, or will not, join forces, the Democrats at the Madison platform convention held yesterday got together, named a state central committee and agreed to bury the hatchet. The Democrats are lined up behind Karel and prepared to wage a fight that will land a Democratic Governor in the chair for the first time in twenty years. There never has in recent years been a more propitious opportunity for victory in the Democratic ranks than this year. It is up to every Democrat to get behind the wagon and put their shoulder to the wheel.
There was some fear that Karel was too conservative, in other words, a standpatter. The concessions made to the Aylward forces and the progressive plank in the new platform have however dispelled this far and the Democratic press and prominent members of the party are growing more enthusiastic every day as the prospects of victory grow brighter.
The Philipp and La Follette forces are split beyond any hope of ever getting together. The victory will be with the Democrats if the voters get out on November 3 and do their duty.

TREASURY RAID DEFEATED.
The $93,000,000 river and harbor pork barrel measure has been beaten in the United States Senate. Following the refusal of Senators Burton, Kenyon, Norris, Gallinger, and La Follette, leaders of the filibuster against it, to compromise on a 33-1-2 per cent. reduction in all items, President Wilson ordered the Democratic leaders to cut out all new projects on the bill. This means a reduction of 50 per cent. A still further one will be forced however before the measure is passed, for the leaders of the opposition have announced that all old questionable items must go as well as the questionable new ones.

Another triumph for the Wilson administration!
This is the first setback that the clique of old time politicians that for years have succeeded in railroad through both houses of congress this mammoth raid on the United States treasury has received. So obviously is a large percentage of this annual appropriation pure graft, so evident are many of the appropriations "get-together-help-me-and-I-will-help-you" efforts of certain members of Congress to strengthen their holds on their constituencies that no effort is made to conceal it. It is laughable even to the members themselves.
Some of the appropriations are wise and necessary. But to these are added millions of dollars of "pork." The bill provides for river and harbor and "improvements." The "improvement" joker is used as a cover under which the representatives "bring home the bacon." And this does not mean securing benefits for the people, but trading for special advantages primarily for powerful corporations and real estate interests "back home."
The bill was railroaded thru the house this year despite the splendid fight made by Congressman Fear of Wisconsin. His telling exposure of the iniquity of this yearly robbery, met only with ridicule and the spoils-hungry mob shoved it thru with laughter and bantering sallies.
But as has already been stated the measure met its Waterloo in the Senate, thanks to the efforts of a corps of sane, patriotic, and loyal to the trust men backed by President Wilson. The jerkwater crooks and tiny court minions that the Lord himself could not make a real harbor of will have to struggle along without "improvement" for a year at least and many will be the bitter tears shed by the favored contractors and "back home" corporations who will now have to look for their living to legitimate competition.

OL' RELIABLE.
It is quite improbable that Senator La Follette and his supporters will place an independent ticket in the field. The senator's proudest boast has been that he has never lost his regularity. No Tory can drive him out of the grand old party.
The senator supported Taft. He will support McGovern. He will be for Philipp. It is true that Taft was not elected. It was, as Mr. La Follette remarked, "no job for a fat man." But still La Follette supported him. He will do as much for the Republican ticket this year.—Milwaukee Leader.

UNDER THE SAME SUN.
(New York Sun.)
The sun may be shining too in the Voges and over Luneville and along the line from Lille to Namur, shining with just the same golden joy that blesses our land of peace. How much do we think, as we enjoy its radiance or perhaps ungratefully cavil at its fervor, of the things it looks down upon half way around the world—the flashing fires of death, the bursting of destruction in the air, the fierce, passionate struggles of frantic men, the crimson spots of agony scattered over the devastated fields, and the upturned faces with the pallor of eternal night upon them. Is it not strange that we go about in the ordinary way, eating, drinking, sleeping, buying and selling, even merry-making with careless spirits and vain words, just as if the tragedy of the ages were not in progress within reach of our imaginations? From what deity or demon do we receive the gift of iron thus to harden our hearts?

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL BE RENOMINATED.
The speech of Vice-president Marshall last week announcing that "no name but that of President Wilson will be presented to the Democratic party in every state." The program of great constructive legislation which he and his party have put through congress, legislation which has reformed the tariff and currency and which will soon start business to booming in every state, his masterly diplomacy in eliminating the murderer Huerta and restoring peace without resorting to war or blood shed in Mexico, the enactment of anti-trust laws now being put thru congress, thereby fulfilling all the pledges of the Democratic platform of 1912 have rendered the renomination and re-election of President Wilson not only logical but practically certain. In constructive statesmanship and indomitable courage in fighting the battles of the masses against the privileged few he has made a record never equaled by any President in times of peace, with the exception of Thomas Jefferson.

GOAL AND WOOD
The Best Grades at Reasonable
Prices
CALHOUN ST.
Phone 416
BOSSERT BROTHERS
WOOD AND CARPENTERS
101 N. 1st St.

Bess Sankey and King Strong in "The Traffic" Daly's Theatre, Thursday evening, Sept. 17
Get Job Work at The Tribune Office

FOURTEEN MILE CREEK

(Too late for last week.)
Hurrah for the Adams Co. fair at Friendship, Sept. 21, 22 and 23. Everybody come.
Mrs. Isral Jero was a caller at the Paul Darn's home one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Wingarden were guests of P. J. Peterson at Saratoga Center Sunday.
Louis Wollert and son Ed. took two big loads of rye to Grand Rapids on Saturday returning home on Sunday.
Miss Judith Carlson who has been working for Mr. Brazee at Grand Rapids returned home on Saturday.
Miss Lily Jero visited from Friday until Sunday at Fred Holmes at Big Flats.
Oscar Brown who has been working away this summer returned home last week.
Edith Phelps and Richard Carlson spent Saturday evening at Paul Darn's.
Ervin and Leslie Holtz were seen on our streets last Saturday evening.
J. R. Potts and wife were callers at C. B. Ducks Saturday evening.
Miss Florence Darn departed Sunday for Fond du Lac where she will teach school this winter. She taught the same school last year.
School begins Monday in district No. 5 with Miss Inga Anderson as teacher, who wish her success in her undertakings.
Mr. C. E. Duck and Mr. J. E. Potts are helping Mr. Carlson put up a new silo. They each have a new silo to put up for themselves.
Lawrence Irwin is putting up a new barn.
Chas. Wingarden was on the sick last week.
Howard Brown and wife and Elmer Brown were Grand Rapids shoppers Saturday.
Andrew Carlson lost a horse last week.
Mr. and Mrs. S. Severson and daughter Inga of Neillburg were guests at J. Wolcotts last Wednesday.
Hubert Carlson who works at Grand Rapids spent a couple of days last week at home.
Some of the people from here attended church in the Ball school house on the Ten Mile Creek.
Mr. Melville of Grand Rapids delivered a very interesting sermon Sunday.
Miss Mable Darns expects to leave Monday for Marshfield where she will visit her grandmother a few days and from there she will go to North Dakota where she will teach school this winter. We all wish her good luck on her long journey.
We wish to extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Peters whose little son was killed Saturday by lightning. Jim Brown worked for J. R. Potts one day last week.

REMINGTON.

(Too late for last week.)
Miss Ella Daniels has gone to work for Mrs. Miller on Mr. Shoenfeld's farm at Dalry.
Lena Rutz will work for Mrs. Whitlesey of Cranmoor.
Lambert Brost who has been employed dredging in Minnesota returned home on Saturday, September 5.
Services will be held at the Catholic church at Babcock, Sept. 20, Mass at 8 o'clock.
Miss Ethel Hand will attend the Wood County Training school at the Rapids the coming year.
Alce Casey returned from Madison where she has been visiting relatives.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sanger returned to their home on Thursday from Grand Rapids where they attended the funeral of their daughter Mrs. Chas. Miller.
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Brost visited the home of their daughter, Mrs. Alvin Calor of Tomah.
Miss Rose Sanger returned home Sept. 5.
Laurence Brost has gone to Grand Rapids to attend high school.
Chas. Miller and children of the Rapids are guests at the Sanger home.
Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hass are entertaining their cousin of Milwaukee this week.
Chas. Sanger drove to Pittsville on Saturday.
Mrs. Paschorr and son William who Kelley for some time past departed for Grand Rapids where William have been visiting her brother Thos. will attend high school.
Miss Jennie McGinn is attending the Training school at Grand Rapids.
Mrs. Alvin Caylor of Tomah, was the guest of her parents several days last week.
A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brust Aug. 22, in honor of their daughter Miss Margaret, also in honor of Miss Anna Lohmuth both young ladies being out by dogs with an occasional gun shot, and a large amount of hollering, but on further inquiry it was found that Ben Drake who has been keeping Bachelor's Hall on the Toppins farm for the past two years had decided to take his wife in the person of Mrs. Darce Murphy of the southern part of the town and that his friends and neighbors were just serenading them on the occasion. They were all invited in and entertained in a royal manner.

SPRING BRANCH.

(Too late for last week.)
Louis Cordts and hired man of Mineral Point who were guests of the former's brother Elbe Cordts returned home Tuesday of last week. Joe Busch and niece Elbe Cordts accompanied them to attend the fair at that place.
Our vicinity is being improved by several new silos which are being erected.
Ed. Voller of Vandriessen visited the Holtz boys Sunday of last week.
Postmaster Wollert and son Ed. were Grand Rapids callers last week Saturday.
Mrs. Elbe Cordts and little daughter were afternoon callers at J. S. Irwins Sunday.
Several auto loads of sportsmen from Plainfield are enjoying chicken hunting in this vicinity this week.
—We have just received information that the Herick Seed Company of Rochester, N. Y., wants lady or gentlemen representatives in this section to sell all kinds of roses, shrubs, trees and seeds. They inform us that without previous experience it is possible to make good wages every week. Anyone out of employment wish them for terms and enclose this notice. 8t.

CHEAP COLONIST FARES.

CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RY.
—Daily September 24th to October 8th the Chicago and North Western Ry. will place on sale low-fare one-way Colonist tickets to many points in Colorado, Utah, California, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. For rates and detailed information, call on local ticket agent, Chicago and North Western Ry. P. F. Kohler Agent. 2t.

MEEHAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Shepherd of Big Flats, Adams county spent last week here among relatives.
The Misses Gracie Cushman and Mabel Gross have entered the teachers' training school at Grand Rapids for the winter term. They enrolled and commenced work last week.
Miss Nellie Gustin came over from Amherst where she is teaching and spent Saturday with friends.
Harry Slack had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last Thursday. The animal was apparently in good health, but dropped dead in the harness while walking along at work.
Tom Parks got his hand cut quite badly on a corn harvester one day last week. The wound is not serious.
Mrs. L. F. Fox and son Burton went down to Kellner Sunday to visit at the home of Mr. Bert Ward.
Orrin Clendinning returned from the west and took charge of his threshing machine and has finished his work down in the town of Grant. He pulled the machine home last week. His son, who is now a student and will soon be hustling again. Orrin believes in the old saying that a rolling stone gathers no moss.
Chicken hunters are quite numerous and the explosion of DuPont's shotless, etc. can be heard most any night.
Mrs. Lucy Hale attended the funeral of Chas. Scribner's daughter at Stevens Point last Saturday.
Mr. Alvin Langton and family and Mr. John Langton and family from near Plover Grove over here Saturday and attended the picnic.
There will be a basket party at the home of B. S. Fox the night of Sept. 25. Proceeds will go for the church work.
Orrin Pike is adding a coat of red paint to his new barn.
Felix Bros. have purchased a new silo filler and new gasoline engine and are at work filling silos this week.
It looks now as if we are to have but one potato buyer here this season as Carley and the Produce Co. have sold out their interests here to Alce Fiskus of Stevens Point.
Henry Lutz is doing the weighing and looking after the shipping, etc.
Owing to the unfavorable weather the Sunday school picnic which was to be held the 6th was postponed until last Saturday. A large crowd was present and all present enjoyed the day. A nice program of speaking and singing was given in the forenoon and after a bountiful picnic dinner all enjoyed themselves with games and races and we all hope to be spared to enjoy many more of these friendly neighborhood gatherings in the name of our Maker.

SARTOGA CENTER.

Farmers are busy these days cutting corn.
This section was visited by a light frost last week. But very little damage was done so the people can think themselves very fortunate as a hard frost would do considerable damage Sunday afternoon was surely a day of rest as it rained steadily all the afternoon and evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Nels Jensen returned home from Chicago Wednesday where they spent a few days visiting friends and taking in the sights. They report having a good time but were glad to get back home again and enjoy farm life at Sartoga Center.
W. J. Mathews is still working at Grove View.
Mr. Mathews hauled several loads of gravel from the river last week to be used for concrete work at Grove View.
Miss Dorothy McTavish who is going to high school in Grand Rapids spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McTavish at Grove View.
Thomas Chrysal with a crew of men are cutting corn on his farm on the Ten Mile Creek.
Judging from the loads of hunters that go by every morning and from the noise of the guns all day the chicken crop will be greatly reduced by the time the season closes.
Nels Jensen while in Chicago purchased a fine horse to be used on his farm at Sartoga Center.
Albert Miller treated himself to a new wagon one day last week while in Grand Rapids.
Geo. I. Kehnora is working for M. F. Mathews and will probably make his home at Grove View this winter.
We understand that Robert Thurn is going to sell his farm and start the business, but as yet there is nothing definite.
On Saturday night of last week a noise that is not heard every night was heard down the line, it was if everybody's cows were in somebody's yard and the noise of the cows being driven out by dogs with an occasional gun shot, and a large amount of hollering, but on further inquiry it was found that Ben Drake who has been keeping Bachelor's Hall on the Toppins farm for the past two years had decided to take his wife in the person of Mrs. Darce Murphy of the southern part of the town and that his friends and neighbors were just serenading them on the occasion. They were all invited in and entertained in a royal manner.

NEW ROME.

(Too late for last week.)
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zayic and son spent the week at Necedah.
Miss Lillie Webb is on the sick list this week.
Loren Finch has a very sick cow. Dr. Thurber was called Saturday evening.
Mrs. Patfield of Grand Rapids visited at the F. C. Patfield home the past week.
The Vantassel threshing machine is in our vicinity.
Mr. Burke sold his farm to a Chicago party who took possession this week.
Mr. Harold China went to New York to meet his fiancée, Miss Millie Raitelbeck who became his wife on Sunday August 30th. A wedding dinner was given at H. S. Webb's on Sunday, Sept. 6th. On Thursday night they were honored by a charivari.
Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas spent Sunday with the H. S. Shipway family at Big Flats.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Luca made a business trip to Nekeosa on Monday.
Mrs. B. C. Burbit and children spent Tuesday at the Bela Burbit and Jack Westover homes.
All the farmers are hauling rye now as it is bringing a good price.
Miss Margaret George of Nekeosa visited here with Mrs. B. C. Burbit.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Luca and son Fred and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas motored to Nekeosa on Saturday.
Miss Freda Hoeft and Miss Nina Christensen spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. B. C. Burbit.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowe and family went to visit his people in the south part of the state and to attend a golden wedding.
Miss Florence Bulgrin left Saturday to attend the teachers' training school at your city.
Miss Andie Poyles is also attending the training school there.
The Hoeft family went to Nekeosa Monday to attend the wedding of Tonia Edwards and their daughter Miss Ella.
F. C. Patfield started filling silos on Saturday.
Guy Bulgrin worked for B. C. Burbit Saturday cutting corn.

Monday's Picnic at Vesper.

(Contributed.)
Monday's picnic between Vesper, Arpin and Sherry was certainly a success. The people were there in hundreds even though the day was not promising. The program was a highly talented one, the different teams rendering selections. The children also carried out their parts well. The speakers were well received and gave extremely interesting addresses. The following gentlemen spoke: Rev. Hoffman, Rev. Bullough, and Rev. Locke. The prizes were enjoyed by all over $50 in prizes were given to different parts of the county. The ball game between Vesper and Arpin ended in a victory for the former. The winners of the tug-of-war were, Arpin, first and Sherry second. The oldest woman on the field was Mrs. Bennett of Pleasant Hill, she being 86 years old, the oldest man was Mr. Hilton he being 85 years old. Thirteen men entered into the button sewing contest; seventeen women ran in the married women's race; and about twenty-five women ran for runners when the hand hammering contest came on. Needless to say all had a pleasant time, and look forward to another next year.

Vote of Thanks.

The church picnic committee desires to thank all who helped to make the picnic a success. Our thanks and good will is extended to the many merchants at Vesper, Arpin, Sherry, Grand Rapids and elsewhere who kindly sent donations. Our thanks are also extended to the different editors for their help.
—No Hunting" signs for sale at this office. 2t.

CITY POINT.

F. N. Nelson returned home from Grand Rapids last Wednesday. While there he attended the funeral of Mrs. Rasmussen, Sr.
Our School opened Tuesday morning with Miss Jerguson of Stevens Point and Miss Lillian Christopherson as teachers.
John Sullivan and Bennie Fransen are home from the west.
Lulu Nelson and Lillian Christopherson spent a few days of last week in Grand Rapids attending institute.
Mrs. F. Nelson and babe and Mrs. L. Jensen spent Friday afternoon in Pittsville.
Miss Grace Hancock of Pray visited at F. Hancock's last Saturday.
Miss Austin of Hixton came Saturday to begin school in the District west of here.
Miss Sadie Zimendorff of Grand Rapids visited at Mrs. Sullivan's last week.
Mrs. Louie Amundson and children returned to their home at Grand Rapids last Friday.
D. S. Cleveland of Pray spent Monday in town inspecting the work being done on the roads.
Mildred Jepson came home from Marshfield where she had spent the summer with friends.
Mr. Moran of Stevens Point spent Monday in town.
As Monday was the beginning of chicken hunting season there were hunters all thru the woods.
L. Ellis, L. Kinney and John Sullivan drove out to Bissig's marsh Sunday afternoon.
The McAllister dredge has completed its work here and most of the crew has returned to their homes.
H. A. Lamp recently shipped two carloads of moss.
B. Hancock was in Pray between trains Saturday.
Frank Hoag and Frank Fransen spent Monday in Merrillan.
J. Crawford and family have moved into the VanValkie residence.
Mr. Thayer of Moline, Ill., gave an interesting talk in the Congregational church Sunday morning and evening.
Mrs. George Schroeder of Grand Rapids is visiting relatives here.
Martin Fransen accompanied by his mother went to Marshfield last Monday.
On Wednesday he was married to Miss Margaret Curtin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Curtin. The happy couple returned home last Thursday. Their many friends join in wishing them a happy wedded life.
Louis Wright spent Monday at Alma Center.
Mrs. L. Amundson and children left for their home in Grand Rapids last Friday.
Lulu Nelson and Lillian Christopherson returned home Saturday.
Martin Fransen of City Point and Margaret Curtin of Marshfield were married Sept. 2 by the Catholic priest at Marshfield. They will make their home here, where he is the owner of a store.
The dredge finished digging and hauling out of town ready for shipment.
Mildred Jepson returned home after spending the summer with Tim Curtin at Marshfield.
Mr. J. Christensen attended the wedding of her son Martin last Wednesday.
Mrs. Joe Bissig and daughters returned home to Grand Rapids Saturday.
Miss Edna Austin is teaching the Hoag District.
Gracie Hancock attended the wedding dance at Ellis hall also Herman Olson, Bud Hancock, Oscar Birkness, Viola and Olga Reisinger.
Mrs. F. N. Nelson motored to Pittsville last week to have dental work done accompanied by Mrs. E. Jensen.
D. S. Cleveland was a business caller here Monday and Tuesday.
Harold VanGorden of Alma Center is visiting at Z. Wright's.
Hunters are numerous.
Frank Hoag, Frank Fransen and John Sullivan were Merrillan visitors Monday.
Mrs. Geo. Schroeder came Tuesday for a week's visit with relatives.
Lizzie Henderson left for Black River Falls, where she will teach.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reeder left on Saturday for Beardstown, Ill., to visit her parents.

Subscribe for the Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Shepherd of Big Flats, Adams county spent last week here among relatives.
The Misses Gracie Cushman and Mabel Gross have entered the teachers' training school at Grand Rapids for the winter term. They enrolled and commenced work last week.
Miss Nellie Gustin came over from Amherst where she is teaching and spent Saturday with friends.
Harry Slack had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last Thursday. The animal was apparently in good health, but dropped dead in the harness while walking along at work.
Tom Parks got his hand cut quite badly on a corn harvester one day last week. The wound is not serious.
Mrs. L. F. Fox and son Burton went down to Kellner Sunday to visit at the home of Mr. Bert Ward.
Orrin Clendinning returned from the west and took charge of his threshing machine and has finished his work down in the town of Grant. He pulled the machine home last week. His son, who is now a student and will soon be hustling again. Orrin believes in the old saying that a rolling stone gathers no moss.
Chicken hunters are quite numerous and the explosion of DuPont's shotless, etc. can be heard most any night.
Mrs. Lucy Hale attended the funeral of Chas. Scribner's daughter at Stevens Point last Saturday.
Mr. Alvin Langton and family and Mr. John Langton and family from near Plover Grove over here Saturday and attended the picnic.
There will be a basket party at the home of B. S. Fox the night of Sept. 25. Proceeds will go for the church work.
Orrin Pike is adding a coat of red paint to his new barn.
Felix Bros. have purchased a new silo filler and new gasoline engine and are at work filling silos this week.
It looks now as if we are to have but one potato buyer here this season as Carley and the Produce Co. have sold out their interests here to Alce Fiskus of Stevens Point.
Henry Lutz is doing the weighing and looking after the shipping, etc.
Owing to the unfavorable weather the Sunday school picnic which was to be held the 6th was postponed until last Saturday. A large crowd was present and all present enjoyed the day. A nice program of speaking and singing was given in the forenoon and after a bountiful picnic dinner all enjoyed themselves with games and races and we all hope to be spared to enjoy many more of these friendly neighborhood gatherings in the name of our Maker.

NEW ROME.

(Too late for last week.)
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zayic and son spent the week at Necedah.
Miss Lillie Webb is on the sick list this week.
Loren Finch has a very sick cow. Dr. Thurber was called Saturday evening.
Mrs. Patfield of Grand Rapids visited at the F. C. Patfield home the past week.
The Vantassel threshing machine is in our vicinity.
Mr. Burke sold his farm to a Chicago party who took possession this week.
Mr. Harold China went to New York to meet his fiancée, Miss Millie Raitelbeck who became his wife on Sunday August 30th. A wedding dinner was given at H. S. Webb's on Sunday, Sept. 6th. On Thursday night they were honored by a charivari.
Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas spent Sunday with the H. S. Shipway family at Big Flats.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Luca made a business trip to Nekeosa on Monday.
Mrs. B. C. Burbit and children spent Tuesday at the Bela Burbit and Jack Westover homes.
All the farmers are hauling rye now as it is bringing a good price.
Miss Margaret George of Nekeosa visited here with Mrs. B. C. Burbit.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Luca and son Fred and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas motored to Nekeosa on Saturday.
Miss Freda Hoeft and Miss Nina Christensen spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. B. C. Burbit.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowe and family went to visit his people in the south part of the state and to attend a golden wedding.
Miss Florence Bulgrin left Saturday to attend the teachers' training school at your city.
Miss Andie Poyles is also attending the training school there.
The Hoeft family went to Nekeosa Monday to attend the wedding of Tonia Edwards and their daughter Miss Ella.
F. C. Patfield started filling silos on Saturday.
Guy Bulgrin worked for B. C. Burbit Saturday cutting corn.

Monday's Picnic at Vesper.

(Contributed.)
Monday's picnic between Vesper, Arpin and Sherry was certainly a success. The people were there in hundreds even though the day was not promising. The program was a highly talented one, the different teams rendering selections. The children also carried out their parts well. The speakers were well received and gave extremely interesting addresses. The following gentlemen spoke: Rev. Hoffman, Rev. Bullough, and Rev. Locke. The prizes were enjoyed by all over $50 in prizes were given to different parts of the county. The ball game between Vesper and Arpin ended in a victory for the former. The winners of the tug-of-war were, Arpin, first and Sherry second. The oldest woman on the field was Mrs. Bennett of Pleasant Hill, she being 86 years old, the oldest man was Mr. Hilton he being 85 years old. Thirteen men entered into the button sewing contest; seventeen women ran in the married women's race; and about twenty-five women ran for runners when the hand hammering contest came on. Needless to say all had a pleasant time, and look forward to another next year.

Vote of Thanks.

The church picnic committee desires to thank all who helped to make the picnic a success. Our thanks and good will is extended to the many merchants at Vesper, Arpin, Sherry, Grand Rapids and elsewhere who kindly sent donations. Our thanks are also extended to the different editors for their help.
—No Hunting" signs for sale at this office. 2t.

CONOVER - CABLE - KINGSBURY - PIANOS
Manufactured by
THE CABLE COMPANY
The Largest Manufacturers of Pianos & Organs in the World.
MRS. F. P. DALY

Mrs. F. P. Daly will receive another Carload of Pianos about September 15th.

WISCONSIN
A HOME BANK
UNION STATE SUPERVISORS

Bank Your Fall Profits
in the form of a Bank of Grand Rapids Certificate of Deposit earning 3 per cent interest.
Safe always. Earning a reasonable interest return. Negotiable by endorsement. Accepted as collateral anywhere. Available as cash if needed. An ideal form of investment.

BANK OF GRAND RAPIDS
West Side

Figuring On A New Barn?
Then you're the chap we want to see. We have about the stickiest stock of barn material ever brought into this section. We figured on a good many of you people building new barns this year. So we bought for cash, at lowest prices, a splendid assortment of high grade material, especially for barns. And, take it from us, we can save you a nice bunch of money on your lumber bill.
Don't waste your time, wondering what the stuff would cost. You make up a list of the items needed, and let us tell you exactly what the cost will be. Bring in your bill next time you are in town.

W. A. MARLING LUMBER CO.
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

YOU TOOK SOMETHING FROM MY POCKET, WHAT WAS IT?
THE ONLY THING IN IT WORTH TAKING
EVEN THE PICKPOCKET KNOWS THE VALUE OF THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.

YOU know, all tobacco users know what is the matter with ordinary chewing tobacco!
Everywhere men are saying to their friends that "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew.
Pure, mellow, full-bodied tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.
Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the size of a regular. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.
It is ready chew, cut fine and short so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.
The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how this salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."
One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.
WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
50 Union Square, New York
BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND NO. 10 STAMPS TO US

GRAND RAPIDS BREWING CO.

Telephone 314

— Ashton Stevens, Chicago Examiner.
A GREAT CAST!
A PERFECT PRODUCTION!
A TREMENDOUS STORY!
A PROVED SUCCESS!

Avoid the Rush

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mrs. T. Sayers of Tomahawk is a guest at the Tom Foley home.

Mrs. P. C. Williams left Tuesday for Chicago to visit relatives.

Leon Foley leaves Thursday for Madison to attend the university.

Maud Mulroy and Malie Dudley were at Stevens Point Friday to attend the fair.

Mrs. A. Peerenboom and Miss Kate Hotstater were Sunday visitors in Green Day.

F. Dudley and Mrs. A. C. Smith were Friday visitors at the Stevens Point fair.

Mr. and Mrs. George Forrand and sons and Mrs. Tuttle were at Stevens Point Friday.

Mrs. A. C. Smith left Tuesday for Stanley to visit her daughter and also to see the fair.

—Edward that child, get one of our $3.50 protection heaters, they save the money and do the work. Nash Hardware Co.

Mrs. Fred Khan of Winneconne, who has been the guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Marin, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Postmaster H. L. Nash and wife left on Sunday for Milwaukee to spend several days attending the state fair and the Wisconsin State Postmasters convention.

Mrs. Hanlon, Mrs. Hodge and Miss Hanlon of Racine spent the week end here Tuesday for Stevens Point at the T. E. Mullen home. Miss Hanlon where she will attend the Normal.

George B. McMillan spent yesterday in Fond du Lac where he visited Thomas Patterson of Wild Rose who is well known in this vicinity and who at the present time is in a hospital there, where he is convalescing from a serious operation.

Louis Lyons, who returned last week from the Green Bay hospital, was taken very ill again on Sunday and on Tuesday was again taken to Green Bay where he will probably have to submit to another operation. His condition is serious.

R. L. Nash received a 1915 five passenger Overland touring car the past week which he has sold to A. J. Clumbers who will use the same in connection with his livery. Mr. Nash now has the agency for this popular car and no doubt will sell a large number next season.

Miss Helen Peterson of Arpin who won the Wood county spelling championship which was held in this city last June will take part in the State Fair contest for the championship of the state which will be held in Milwaukee this week. About 50 county champions have entered the contest.

Jacob Kissinger, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Monday. Mr. Kissinger had charge of a crew of rakers on the Scarls' marsh this season and has had his work on Saturday. Mr. Kissinger reports that Scarls and son will harvest nearly 2,000 barrels of new berries this season. Jake has had charge of a crew of rakers on this marsh for many years.

Rev. Redding is spending a few days in Milwaukee.

The infant baby of Mr. and Mrs. William Goldberg is seriously ill.

Mrs. Scribner was a guest at the E. S. King home in Merrill on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Relland attended the Stevens Point fair on Wednesday.

Huntington and Lessig have received another carload of Ford cars the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. DeLong of Edgerton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Mullen.

Mrs. Kate Pepin left yesterday for a few days visit with Milwaukee friends, and to take in the State Fair.

Dave Levin had the misfortune to break his right arm at the wrist on Saturday while engaged in a practice game of football.

Fern Knoll, Arthur Blinnese and Ben Topel are in Milwaukee this week visiting with relatives and attending the state fair.

Leon Foley has resigned his position at the Otto Pharmacy and will leave Friday for Madison where he will attend the university.

—Why allow your room to be damp or cool when you can get a perfect heater for $3.50. Sold on approval. Nash Hardware Co.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ackerman of Minneapolis returned to their home on Monday after a two weeks visit at the H. Blinnese home.

The funeral of the 9-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wood of Eau Claire was held in this city on Saturday. The child died after a few days illness.

The ten year old son of John Shear of Elm Lake walked the ten miles from that station to this city one day last week to have a broken arm set. After Dr. A. L. Ridgman had reduced the fracture, the plucky youngster walked back.

The Barker and Stewart Lumber Co., which has been in operation at Wausau since 1881 has closed its mill and will withdraw from the lumber field. This company has been one of the best known lumber concerns in Northern Wisconsin for several years.

Mrs. Edward E. Daly of Ralph, S. D., is spending a week at the home of her father-in-law, Tim Daly in the town of Seneca. Mr. and Mrs. Daly own over a section of land near Ralph and are at present ranching over 2,000 sheep, besides a large number of cattle and horses.

John Juno, Democratic candidate for Member of Assembly and John A. Hoffman candidate for register of deeds on the democratic ticket were in the city on Friday to attend a common meeting. Both of these gentlemen are among the pioneer residents of Marshfield and are numbered among its best citizens and business men. Mr. Juno was chairman of the county board for two terms and has also held many offices of trust in his home city. Mr. Hoffman was for many years engaged in the wood coal and cement business, having sold out his interests a year ago.

Mrs. Frank Buss and children are visiting in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Pillar are visiting with relatives in Lake Geneva.

Mrs. Will Collier visited in Winona several days the past week.

Miss Irene Cress has been visiting in New London the past week.

Percy Daly was down from Merrill to spend Sunday with his mother.

Mrs. J. F. Miller of Shellrock, Ia., is visiting at the J. L. Thompson home.

Chas. Keip, the west side blacksmith has purchased the A. B. Sutor auto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Horton autoed to Stevens Point on Friday to attend the fair.

Frank Dudley Jr., departed on Monday for Milwaukee to attend the state fair.

Neil Nash has left for Washington D. C., where he will enter Georgetown University.

Nearly 1700 hunting licenses have already been issued by the county clerk this season.

Miss Emma Swain of Chicago is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swain.

Miss Martha Boetcher returned on Sunday after a short visit with friends at Green Bay.

Miss Selma Johnson returned on Saturday from a two weeks visit in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Miss Ella Leitritz of Marshfield has again taken charge of the millinery department at Levin's store.

Miss Minnie Peterson of Madison has accepted the position as head trimmer at Cohen Bros. store.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gussell of Stevens Point have been guests at the Henry Yetter home the past week.

John White, editor of the Marshfield Herald was a caller at this office on Monday while in the city on business.

E. Lakin returned the past week from Fond du Lac where he has been doing carpenter work for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. August Schrieber who have resided in Milwaukee the past two years have moved to this city to reside.

Mrs. E. Bradford departed last week for Nellisville where she will teach in the public schools the ensuing year.

Henry Lipsitz of Biron and brothers Victor and Albert of Saratoga were pleasant callers at this office on Monday.

Mrs. Guy Miller and daughter attended the Stevens Point fair on Friday. Mrs. Miller had some of her fancy work on exhibition.

Frank Heiser, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Leloff and children and Mr. and Mrs. Varnum Shearley and Mr. Vanderbier returned to their homes in Rhineland the past week after spending a week in the city with relatives. They made the trip in the Leloff auto.

Try Tribune Want Ads.

Mrs. Frank Steib returned on Saturday from Merrill where she spent a week visiting with relatives and attending the Lincoln County Fair.

Louis and Antoine Fournier are visiting with relatives in Canada and expect to be gone until October.

Leonard Bender has let the contract for the erection of a new home on Fourth Ave. north to Schroeder and Miller. The house will be 26x28 two stories.

A. H. Koch, the genial manager at Cohen Bros. store enjoyed a two weeks vacation from his duties which he spent visiting friends and relatives near Ansbach.

Geo. N. Wood returned on Monday from the Scarls' marsh where he has been during the cranberry picking season. Mr. Wood reports that the Scarls' have a good crop this year.

George DeLap, foreman at the Tribune office received word on Tuesday that his uncle, Frank VanAlstine had died at Kibbourn. Mr. DeLap left for Kibbourn that evening to attend the funeral.

John Nilles, the west side harness maker, spent a week visiting at his former home in Hilbert and Chilton. Mr. Nilles will also spend several days in Milwaukee attending the state fair.

Prof. M. H. Jackson will deliver an address before the Stevens Point Business Men's Association on October 2. Mr. Jackson has a strong following at the point gained by address he has delivered in that city before.

Arthur Mulroy went to Milwaukee on Saturday night where he met his wife and baby who had been visiting in Chicago. On Sunday they visited with Mr. Mulroy's sister, Mary, who is a trained nurse in St. Mary's hospital.

Dr. J. K. Goodrich, Osteopathic physician, formerly of Elkhart, Ind., has opened an office in the Johnson and Hill building over the Gen. Theatre. Dr. Goodrich is a native of Indiana and comes to this city with a reputation of being an able and efficient osteopathist. His family which is now in Indiana will join him later.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been issued by the county clerk: John W. Donk and Miss Elizabeth Sieg, of Marshfield.

Ignatius Povlaski of Grand Rapids and Miss Mary Teske of Sigel.

Fred Shingo of Grand Rapids and Miss Ann Weinert of Sherry.

Advertised Mail.

Ladies: Hollenback, Miss Eli, Lassa Mrs. Joe.

Gentlemen: Callinan, J. G., Gresson, Mr. J. A., (special), Marou, P. A., Mullen J. H., Necorish, J. H., Powers, Mr. James, The Pendleton Lumber Company, Wall Mr. James H.

R. L. Nash, Postmaster

RUDOLPH

A. J. Kujawa returned home Thursday morning from his trip to Prairie du Chien and Milwaukee.

Fred Corith, who bought Emil Hauschild's place moved his family and household goods up here from Grand Rapids.

The telephone exchange has a new home in the Fox Sharkey house, which the Telephone company recently purchased. The new switch board is giving perfect satisfaction with Irene Golan and Pearl Clark as day operators, and Charlie Ratelle as night operator. After the lines are fixed up and new poles and phones made ready for use the operators will then have their hands full.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobson are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy born Friday, Sept. 11, 1914.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freund are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Karnatz have returned to their home in Milwaukee after a visit with relatives and with friends here and in your city.

Mrs. John Weyers returned to her home in Milwaukee after a visit with relatives here and in your city.

Mrs. Carl Kohna and her Tessa Yeller of Oxford, Wis., visited here a few days while on her way to Phillips to visit her mother.

Mrs. Andrew Sharers left last Wednesday for a weeks visit with her relatives in Monroe.

Dr. Jackson's house is nearly finished and he will soon move back into his office.

Nick Ratelle arrived home Friday evening all safe and sound from Stevens Point, where he and his son Lloyd spent the week. He had 7 head of horses at the fair and got 5 blue ribbons and 2 red ribbons. The stallions Jack and Nero were entered in same class so Jack got blue and Nero red.

The mare and colt got blue ribbons. The three year old and two year old mare colts each got a blue ribbon. One mare got red ribbon and Mr. O'Keefe's mare in the same class got 1st.

Emil Hauschild has moved some of his household goods into the Feichtle house in a couple of the front rooms and he stored some of his furniture.

Jona Ratelle spent Sunday in Grand Rapids.

Gertrude Akey returned home on Monday noon from her visit in Fond du Lac.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Benson and baby of your city were up Sunday to see the new baby in the home of the latter's brother, Will Hams.

Mrs. Emma Roosen, who has been up taking care of her daughter Mrs. Will Hams returned to her home in your city Tuesday noon.

A number from here attended the Stevens Point fair the past week, in spite of the rains.

Emmett Slattery, Chas. Imig, Gilbert Akey, Louis and Chas. Alberts own a silo filler, which they began to operate, by filling Gilbert Akey's silo on Saturday.

Messrs. Fritzeinger and McCamley of your city are up here working on the telephone line.

Lawrence Sharkey returned home Friday from the West where he has been for about a month.

FOURTEEN MILE CREEK.

Are you going? Going where? why to the Adams County Fair at Friendship, September 21, 22, 23. Everybody come.

Mrs. Jim Brown was a caller at Spring Creek from Saturday until Sunday.

Charley Brown who has been working near Hancock is spending a few days at home.

Chicken hunting is the order of the day in this vicinity.

C. E. Duck and wife are entertaining his father and mother of Freeport, Ill., this week.

Jim Brown is working for J. R. Potts.

Andrew Carlson and daughter Edith were Grand Rapids shoppers Tuesday.

Where You Can Talk Business

You are invited to make the First National Bank your banking home. You will then have occasion to visit us frequently on matters concerning your finances, and will come into close touch with our officers.

Your acquaintance will naturally become personal and confidential. You will feel free to consult us in confidence, and the counsel given will work well with your success plans.

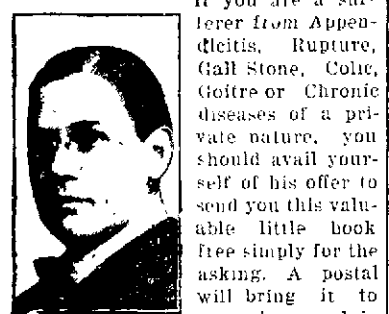

First National Bank, Grand Rapids, Wis.

"The bank that does things for you."

A Medical Book Free

By Dr. N. A. Goddard

Modern Methods of treating Chronic Diseases without Operation, has just come from the pen of Dr. Goddard the Milwaukee Specialist and is one of the most interesting as well as instructive little books the doctor has ever written.

If you are a sufferer from Appendicitis, Rupture, Gall Stone, Colic, Gout or Chronic diseases of a private nature, you should avail yourself of his offer to send you this valuable little book free simply for the asking. A postal will bring it to you, in a plain wrapper. Many so-called surgical diseases, have been proven to be curable by medical treatment, more safely, more easily and cheaply by modern medical methods than was believed possible a few years ago.

After you have read this little book you can consult Dr. Goddard on his monthly visits to Grand Rapids, free of charge and have the satisfaction of knowing that you have secured the expert opinion of a reputable specialist in these matters. If you have been advised to submit to an operation, surely do not fail to consult him before undergoing such an operation. His advice may save you many weeks of suffering, loss of time and expense, possibly your life. Dr. Goddard will be at the Dixon Hotel all day Tuesday, Sept. 29th, and he makes no charges for a friendly visit. Hours 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

You Can Now Sail

on the water and over the water, but you cannot sail under the water. The best you can do under the water is to go chug-chug in a gasoline boat, and that is only a recent accomplishment, prior to which all the experts said that a gas motor could not be operated under water.

Well, it's a sure enough fact that any one who says "it can't be done" is liable to be interrupted by some one doing it. The physical impossibilities of last year are the accomplished deeds of this year or next year. The only certain thing in life is its uncertainty.

Say, this sounds like a sermon, but all I'm trying to do is to keep your mind off this weather. You can sail in here and mix it with the boss. He's open to conviction on any subject excepting short weights and long prices. Nothing doing on those.

BEN THE BOOSTER, with, Kellogg Brothers Lumber Co.

LADIES' AND MISSES' COATS AND MILLINERY AT Cohen Bros. Dept. Store GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN

LADIES' and MISSES FALL and WINTER COATS

The new Fall and Winter styles in Ladies' and Misses' Coats are here and the assortment was never better to select from. The new coats are made up of Broadcloth, Boucle, Astrakhan, Arabian Lamb, Ural Lamb, new mixtures, etc., in three-fourth lengths and longer, some are lined throughout and others half lined with guaranteed satin. They come in all the new fall shades—Plain colors and contrasting shades. All coats are copies of original models.

REMEMBER OUR PRICES SHAT TER WAR-TIME PRICES

Prices Range From

$2.75 to $25.00

Ladies' and Misses Sweaters

We have now a complete line of Ladies' and Misses' All Wool Sweaters, that we are selling at prices lower than the lowest, they are made up in the latest styles and all the new fall shades.

Prices range from 98c to $5.98

Men's and Boys Mackinaws

Now is the time to think about your new Mackinaw. We have the largest assortment of Men's and Boys' Mackinaws we ever had before. Every Mackinaw is a Big Bargain at the price we ask for them.

Prices Range from $3.75 to $7.48

AUTUMN MILLINERY

We are now ready to show you the best line of AUTUMN MILLINERY that has ever been shown in Grand Rapids. The new Autumn Hats are made up in small, medium and large shapes as well as the popular turban. They are cleverly trimmed hats in the popular new silk velvets, Velour de Norde, silk plushes, etc. The trimmings are of imported ostrich and novelty feathers, high grade silk ribbons, gold, silver and jet. In fact all that is new in the trimming line is lavishly displayed. Colors are the season's best, being mostly black, bottle green, brown, midnight blue, taupe, etc. All hats are copies of the highest priced models—No two hats trimmed alike.

Prices Range From

$1.25 to $15.00

A Mountain Breeze Right at Home

If you have one of our electric fans, the greatest of hot weather conveniences. We have them in various sizes for either direct or alternating current. Get one and defy the hot-weather.

Staub's Electric Shop

127 First St. N. East Side

Doing Double Duty

That's pretty nearly what your money does on our goods. You know that dollars are hard enough to earn. It's your duty to make them go as far as possible, and it's our business and pleasure to help you. If we fail in this, we had better "shut up shop." Will you not give us a chance to demonstrate and prove our policy? Use Victoria Flour.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

To all persons enrolling in the Stenotype Department of the Stevens Point Business College during the months of September and October and having an education equivalent to a four years high school training we will GUARANTEE a position within sixty days after graduation at a salary not less than $50.00 per month or their tuition will be refunded.

Write at once for information as the time is short.

This is a most unusual offer.

Stevens Point Business College

O. E. WOOD, Proprietor

IDLE MONEY

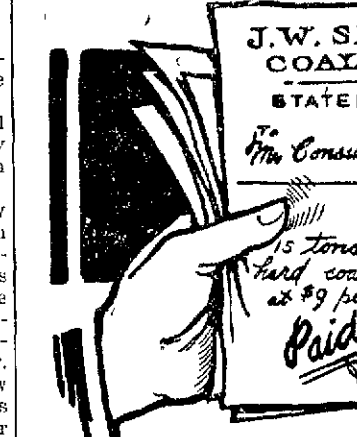

For funds that you will not use for a few months, we issue Time Certificates of Deposit which bear interest at 3 per cent. In this way your funds which are temporarily idle, can be made profitable. Furthermore, you know your money is safe from theft and subject to your call.

We shall be glad to explain the plan more fully to you.

Wood County National Bank

Grand Rapids, Wis.

"SAFETY" (Capital and Surplus $200,000.00) "FIRST"

GONE UP IN SMOKE

One-half of your coal—and it did you no good. Hard luck that. But there is a way to fix it. Here's how:

That stove of yours has seen its best days. You need a new one. You know it—but you have let things drift along. Meanwhile, you have been losing HALF of every hod of coal you have put in it. Of course, you knew it, but you did not think of it that way. You know that half of every lump is gas. Fail to burn that gas and it is like throwing into the ditch half of every dollar you spend in coal.

Rather extravagant? Yes? The ordinary stove made of a lot of separate castings leaks air. They leak air at the wrong place. Places you can not control. RESULT—the best part of your coal—the 14,000 cubic feet of common illuminating gas that is in the average ton of $3.00 soft coal—goes up the flue unburned.

You have lost it. It has gone up in smoke. Save that gas—mix it properly with air and you have the hottest kind of a blue flame. But there is only one way to do this—Buy the only heater that is made tight—holds tight—stays tight.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

It leaks no air. This is the heater that mixes the gas and air and gives you all the heat in the coal. This is the heater that burns any kind of coal and makes a ton of $3.00 soft coal do the work of $8.00 hard coal in a high priced base burner. This is the heater that is a joy and comfort to the housewife. It makes no dirt or smoke in the house. This is the heater that saves labor—fix it in the morning and at night and FORGET IT THE REST OF THE TIME. This is the heater that gives a steady, constant heat from soft coal or lignite. This is the heater that will hold its fire untouched for a day and a half. This is the heater we sell you under a guarantee that is as "good as old wheat at the mill." Burns soft coal, lignite, slack, hard coal or wood. It is just the kind of a heater you want. Come in and see it. See the name "Cole's" on the feed door of each stove. None genuine without it.

NASH HARDWARE COMPANY

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

There is no hot-house method of developing a good sized Bank Account

Time alone will do the work. There's no rapid transit—its growth is accumulation. Happy indeed is the man who can say he owes no man anything. Happier still is the man who can proudly say "I have money in—"

The Bank.

The Citizens National Bank

Capital and Surplus $110,000.00

GERMANS CLAIM 40,000 MEN AND FORTRESS TAKEN

WIRELESS FROM BERLIN DE-CLARES FRENCH DEFENSE AT MAUBEUGE HAS FALLEN.

CAUSES BERLIN TO REJOICE

Reported Victory Held to Be Greatest
Thus Far in the War—
Allies Claim More
Successes.

Berlin, via Sayville, L. I., by Wireless, Sept. 10.—It was announced at the army headquarters here on Wednesday that the French fortress of Maubeuge has fallen before the German siege. Four generals, 40,000 prisoners and 400 guns are declared to have been taken in the victory, the greatest from the German viewpoint
since the war began. It is stated that Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Hesse
has been wounded.

Confirmed in Washington.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—The German embassy here on Wednesday gave out a wireless message received from Berlin, confirming the United Press wireless report of the capture of Maubeuge, France.

The embassy message stated that newspapers in Berlin "emphasize the importance of the capture of 40,000 men" and that the military authorities consider this "a high number, meaning important weakening of the enemy."

Allies Claim Success.
Paris, Sept. 10.—French and British successes marked the fourth day of the great battle, which is being fought along the concave line extending from Meaux to Verdun with Vitry-le-Francois in the center.

On the French left, despite defeated efforts, the Germans have failed to break through the lines of the allies on the right bank of the Ourcq river and,
though heavily reinforced, have lost ground steadily. Gen. Joffre and Field Marshal Sir John French are hurrying more and more troops on the German flank to give their retreat further momentum.

In the center, that part of the line which extends through La Fere-Champenoise, Sompuis and Vitry-le-Francois, with the last named the theater of the greatest activity, the French have pressed back the Germans in a succession of terrific assaults in which the French artillery played a deadly and effective part.

Former Liner Oceanic Sinks.
London, Sept. 10.—The official press bureau issued the following announcement Wednesday night: "The merchant cruiser Oceanic, of the White Star line, was wrecked on Tuesday near the north coast of Scotland and has become a total loss. All officers and crew were saved."

The Oceanic made her last trip from New York to Southampton early last August, arriving at the English port Aug. 8. She was then taken over by the British government and converted into an armed cruiser.

Kaiser Protests to Wilson.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—President Wilson has received a personal cablegram from Emperor William of Germany protesting against the use
by the allied armies of dum dum bullets and the participation in the war
by civilians of Belgium. The message expressed also the German emperor's deep regret at the destruction of the Belgian city of Louvain.

"My heart bleeds for Louvain," is one of the phrases which the emperor is understood to have used. He declared, however, that the population of Belgium had offered such resistance that his generals had in many cases found it necessary to administer severe punishment.

The contents of the message were closely guarded. No one at the White House or state department would even admit officially that it had arrived,
even though press dispatches from London and Copenhagen gave an outline of the dispatch early in the day.
The reason for the secrecy was not divulged.

Pope to Appeal for Peace.
Rome, Sept. 10.—The forthcoming
papal encyclical, the issue of which has been purposely delayed until the result of a decisive battle, will contain an appeal for peace. Pope Benedict
XV. has approached Austria and Germany, through their envoys here, and both informed the pontiff that they were favorably disposed to second his efforts for peace. The czar is understood to be prepared to submit the pope's offer to the consideration of England and Austria. Pope Benedict hopes that his appeal may lead to an armistice which will be a prelude to peace.

Sixteen Travelers Lost.
Grimsby, Sept. 9.—Wreckage of the trawler Nelson has been picked up in the North Sea. The total number of Grimsby trawlers sunk by German ships or mines since the commencement of war is sixteen.

Prelates Escort Ships.
Rome, via Paris, Sept. 9.—Cardinal
Gibbons will leave here today and sail from Naples aboard the steamer Car-napoli, with Cardinal O'Connell, escorting several hundred Americans.

Prince Escapes Bomb.
Antivari, Sept. 9.—While Prince Danilov and the Princess Jutta, his wife, were landing here from a French warship, an Austrian aviator flew over the party and dropped a bomb in an attempt to kill the heir apparent.

English Capture Reserves.
Halifax, N. S., Sept. 9.—The British cruiser Glorious arrived yesterday with the Spanish steamer Montserrat, on which were 150 men said to be Austrian and German reservists, in tow.

Prince Dies in Battle.
London, Sept. 9.—The Berliner Tageblatt of Sept. 1 says that Prince Wilhelm of Schaumburg-Carolath, first lieutenant of the Prussian uhlaus, was killed in battle at Meyse in northern Prussia on Aug. 26. He was 33 years old.

German Ship Reaches Port.
New York, Sept. 9.—The German steamer Magdeburg slipped safely into New York harbor after an exciting voyage from the Canary Islands.

HAELEN, BELGIUM, DESTROYED BY GERMAN SHELLS

Some of the ruined houses of Haelen, which the Kaiser's artillery battered to pieces.

PROGRESS OF WAR AS TOLD BY THE LATE DISPATCHES

French War Office Claims Important Victory Over Germans
Advancing on Paris.

SAY FOE IS IN RETREAT

Events as Far as May Be Ascertained
Seem to Point to an Immediate Decisive Stroke—Austrian Defeat May Not Be as Serious as Might Be Inferred From Reports Emanating
From Russia.

On September 9 General Gallieni,
military governor of Paris, announced that the allies had thrown back the German invading army along the whole line extending from Meaux near Paris, to Chateau Senlis, in Lorraine.

He said that the Germans were retreating over the whole front and that the French and English have assumed the offensive.

The French center, General Gallieni said, has defeated the enemy with tremendous losses.

According to those in a position to obtain authentic information, the casualties have been terrific.

A Russian army, said to number 250,000 men, is now in France, according to the Rome Tribune. The Tribune usually is considered well informed regarding Russian movements.

Official confirmation of the report is refused at the press bureau.

Seizing the psychological moment when preliminaries toward the institution of peace negotiations are under way, President Wilson issued a proclamation fixing Sunday, October 4, as a day for prayers for peace.

Summary of War's Events.
A general summary of the war's standing, so far as it is possible to ascertain the facts would seem to be as follows:

Nancy, being subjected to an attack, said to be directed by the Kaiser himself, evidently had its means
of defense considerably strengthened,
and the French must hold strong positions there. Such an attack would appear to be in accordance with the plan of forcing this part of the French army back toward Paris and incidentally against the advancing German right, thus accomplishing the object of cutting off its line of retreat and possibly effecting its capture. There is a certain element of doubt about this attack on Nancy in view of the fact that the Germans had occupied Lunéville, a strong fortress about eleven miles from it, some ten days ago
and that the fortifications of Nancy are old and obsolete. It would seem more probable if the attack were deflected on Toul.

At any rate, the presence of the infer in that war zone would mean that some decisive stroke is pending. The French have been apprehensive of determined German action in that terrain and are supposed to have a strong force there. This force, though possibly inferior in numbers, has an advantage in its defensive position and ought to give a good account of itself
in the coming action which, for France, may be the final issue.

Germans Forced Back.
Paris reports that the Germans have been forced back in a southeasterly direction by flank movements of General Joffre on the right and General Foch on the left wing. Now this is just the direction in which they swung from north of Paris, and it appears by this report that they have been pushed where they intended to go. There is some confusion here, as General Foch in the same report is reported driving the Germans from Lille. It seems to be certain, though,

that a great battle is being fought along an undulating line between Meaux and Verdun.

The explanation of the German successes on French territory contained in a London dispatch, which attributed them to delay work, is plausible in view of the continuous stream of reinforcements of men and war material which has followed in the wake of the advancing forces. Only a perfect organization, though, could have effected the judicious work of replacing, at the right time and point, fired divisions by fresh ones until their replacement.

Austrian Defeat Discounted.

Time and other conditions seem to be against the probability of East Indian troops having been engaged in action at Termonde, 20 miles southwest of Antwerp, as reported from London. Such appearance of Hindu forces is, to say the least, somewhat premature, as was the announcement of the Archangel reinforcements, unless corresponding arrangements had been made some time before the declaration of war.

According to Berlin dispatches the Austrian defeat in eastern Galicia is not quite of the terrifying character reported from Russian sources. It looks, though, as if that defeat had been a thorough disaster, albeit the extravagant claims of Petrograd should be taken "cum grano salis."

The Vienna confirmation of the Lem-
berg defeat, coming by way of Rome, would now appear as the only and striking example of a beaten power in this conflict admitting its reverses at once and without subterfuge. The same Berlin report mentions the Austrians still continuing their attack on Lublin and also speaks of the formation of an exclusively Polish legion at Cracow under General von Vaczynski.

German Advance Into Russia.
The advance of the Germans by armored trains into Russia in the direction of Alexandrov-Warsaw would indicate either that the Russian attack on Thorn, reported some days ago, was incorrect or that it has now been checked. A pursuit of German invasion in this direction would mean an attempt to use the Vistula river valley as a line of operation against Warsaw, with the additional object of stopping a direct Russian advance on Posen.

The reduction of Italian troops, mobilized on the Austrian frontier, to a peace footing may be regarded as an indication that the government of Victor Emmanuel is determined to observe strictly the situation to a considerable extent, especially in view of the fact that the threatened war action
of Turkey has subsided for the moment. The latter fact may also indicate that the Russian attack on Egypt, where the close relationship of the khedive with the royal house
of Turkey and his well-known German sympathies have caused apprehension.

Joffre Claims Success.
An announcement issued by the official French bureau on September 8,
said:

"General Joffre's plans are being steadily carried out. The allied forces, acting on the offensive, have been successful in checking and forcing back in a northeast direction the German forces opposed to them."

It was officially announced in Paris
that the Germans were retreating from the line of Nanteuil-le-Houdouin
to Verdun.

"A general action has started on the line through Nanteuil-le-Houdouin, Meaux, Sezanne and Vitry-le-Francois
and extending to Verdun," the official statement said. "Thanks to the vigorous action of our troops, strongly supported by the British, the Germans started retreating."

"The Germans had advanced into the region between Coulommiers and La Fere-Gaucher."
Nanteuil-le-Houdouin is 25 miles northeast of the city of Paris and

ten miles southeast of Senlis.
Meaux is 22 miles east of Paris and Sezanne is about fifty-five miles east of the capital. Sezanne is also 25
miles southwest of Epernay.

Vitry-le-Francois is on the bank of the River Marne and 25 miles southwest of Verdun.

Coulommiers is in the department of Seine and Marne, and is thirteen miles southeast of Meaux and thirty miles easterly from Paris.
La Fere-Gaucher is ten miles east of Coulommiers and about forty miles
to the east of Paris.

The official communique issued in Paris, telling of the situation along the whole line, says:

"First.—The allies have advanced their left wing without energetic opposition from the enemy."

"Second.—The situation is unchanged on our center in the region
of Verdun, our forces alternately advancing and retreating. There have been some partial successes on our right in the Vosges."

"Third.—The advancing troops and the allies defending Paris have had several combats on the Ourcq river with the results in favor of the allies being telegraphed to the governor of Maubeuge, expressing the government's admiration for the heroic defense. The commander in chief has placed the name of the governor of Maubeuge in the order of the day for his splendid defense."

Allies Force Battle.
The general engagement was brought about when the allies, which had been in continuous retreat for many days, made a stand in a strongly fortified position to the north and northeast of Paris.

The first clash came when the German troops covering the flank of the main German army encountered advance detachments of the allies at a point near La Fere-Gaucher and were forced to retreat. The main bodies of the opposing armies then took up the struggle and the Germans were forced to retire.

Million Men Take Part in Contest.
It is estimated that 1,000,000 troops were engaged along the line, which extends roughly 120 miles.

The German first army, which had crossed Belgium, rounded the left wing of the allies' army, and then turned southward and to the east of Paris, was forced to fight with its back to that city.

Messages received from Paris say
this army was forced to retreat early in the fighting and was being pursued by French troops. From time to time the Germans turn and engage with the French, while French shells fall continually in their ranks.

Austrians Forced Back.
The following official announcement was given out at Petrograd (St. Petersburg):

"The Austrian army corps between the River Vistula and the River Bug are retreating with enormous losses.
The resistance of the enemy has been broken."

There are evidences of the possibility of a famine in Austria."

Another official communication issued said: "In the sphere of operations around Rawa, thirty-two miles north of this city, setting fire to the structure and consuming the barn
and twenty tons of hay."

The Austrian army which has been operating in the direction of Kholm is retreating, repulsed by the Russian troops, which have taken numerous prisoners, together with artillery and ammunition trains.

Diseases Ravages Austrians.
"Five hundred Austrian soldiers are in hospitals, suffering from dysentery, which is said to be ravaging the ranks of the enemy."

"On the German front there have been only insignificant skirmishes."

A dispatch from Bucharest, coming
by way of Odessa, announces the entry of Russian troops into Czernowitz.
The city is the capital of the province of Bukowina, in Austria-Hungary, and is 146 miles southeast of Lemberg.

The submarine actually had penetrated into the harbor of Bremer-haven, where it fired two torpedoes at the Kaiser's fleet.

In the midst of the excitement the submarine "went to sleep" on the bottom of the harbor. For hours the ship and crew remained there while
all the "sweepers" passed over it.

As soon as he considered it safe
the commander of the little craft gave orders to proceed to the British base

asked to be replenished.

The submarine actually had penetrated into the harbor of Bremer-
haven, where it fired two torpedoes at
the Kaiser's fleet.

In the midst of the excitement the submarine "went to sleep" on the bottom of the harbor. For hours the ship and crew remained there while
all the "sweepers" passed over it.

As soon as he considered it safe
the commander of the little craft gave orders to proceed to the British base

asked to be replenished.

The submarine actually had penetrated into the harbor of Bremer-
haven, where it fired two torpedoes at
the Kaiser's fleet.

In the midst of the excitement the submarine "went to sleep" on the bottom of the harbor. For hours the ship and crew remained there while
all the "sweepers" passed over it.

As soon as he considered it safe
the commander of the little craft gave orders to proceed to the British base

asked to be replenished.

The submarine actually had penetrated into the harbor of Bremer-
haven, where it fired two torpedoes at
the Kaiser's fleet.

In the midst of the excitement the submarine "went to sleep" on the bottom of the harbor. For hours the ship and crew remained there while
all the "sweepers" passed over it.

SEVEN LOSE LIVES IN LA CROSSE FIRE

SLEEPING MEN TRAPPED IN HAY
BARN WHEN BLAZE
STARTED.

ONE DIES AT LYNXVILLE

One Dead, Another Dying From Injuries Received When Livery Stable Burns, and One Missing.

La Crosse.—Seven men, railway construction employees, were burned to death in a fire in a haybarn just outside the city. The men were on their way back to their camp from the city and are supposed to have stopped in the barn to sleep, with the result that the building was set afire by their matches.

Coroner Herman Langstadt and Dr.
Robert A. Flynn, county physician, recovered seven bodies, burned to a crisp and unrecognizable. It is possible that more bodies may still be in the ruins.

The authorities are conducting an inquest. An attempt will be made to ascertain the names of the victims by checking up the lists of the several railway construction crews in the neighborhood. The barn is situated some distance from the town and when the blaze was discovered by the caretakers of the property it was too late to combat it successfully. It was not until after the ruins had been explored that it was found any lives had been lost.

In a livery stable fire, Roland Keely, aged 19, Lynxville, was burned to death, Robert Brewer, aged 20, Lynx-ville, was fatally burned and is dying at a hospital in La Crosse, and John Kirwin, a telegraph operator, is missing. Three cattle were burned with all the carriages and other accoutrements in the place. Keely and Brewer were employees of the livery stable.

BLACKSMITHS NAME HEADS

Wisconsin Horseshoers' Association Ends Annual Convention
at Racine.

Racine.—August Ulrich of Milwaukee, was elected president of the Wisconsin Master Horseshoers' association at the twelfth annual convention held here. The other officers elected were:

First vice-president, William Kor-sch, Fond du Lac; second vice-president, Charles Gauchel, Plymouth;
secretary-treasurer, W. G. Pakrandt, Waukegan.

A motion to have a complete course
of blacksmithing adopted in the state university was lost by a close vote, the majority claiming that in every state
where such system had been adopted, it had failed. Two hundred delegates and visitors were in attendance.

HERMIT CREMATED IN HUT

John Door, Bayfield County Recluse,
May Have Been Slain in Lonely
Cabin by Robbers.

Superior.—Dying alone, as he had lived, the charred body of John Door, also known as John Smith, a recluse living in a secluded spot in the center of Bayfield county, was found in the ruins of his cabin. The discovery was made by woodsmen from a nearby camp who went to call upon the recluse, and reported to county officials for investigation. Whether Door was trapped in his cabin, which was accidentally fired, or murdered and the house burned to cover the crime may never be known.

Find Teacher Is Robber.

Superior.—Joseph Schmitt, Sunday school teacher and prospective candidate for the ministry, arrested here a few days ago, and who admits robbing eleven places, has a deep depression more than an inch in the skull at the top of the head. This he claims to have received as the result of a fall
while working as a carpenter's helper
ten years ago. The police are inclined to blame it for his criminal tendencies.
Physicians believe an operation removing pressure upon the brain will remove his desire to steal.

Lightning Causes Fire.

Cumberland.—During a severe electrical storm, lightning struck the barn of George W. Hatch, eight miles north of this city, setting fire to the structure and consuming the barn
and twenty tons of hay. A thrashing crew of six men and a team of horses had taken refuge in the barn and all were knocked to the floor stunned.
While the barn was burning, lightning struck the building twice.

Election Canvassers Stumped.

Sturgeon Bay.—After a two days'
session the canvassing board adjourning without being able to count
the election returns. The Mary Ann ballot tangled up the inspectors so that few precincts made proper returns. An appeal to the attorney general brought forth instructions to have the ballots returned to the inspectors in the several precincts and recounted.

Sheboygan Man Drowns.

Sheboygan.—When two of the party
in the boat containing Frank Babisch,
his wife, and Joe and Louis Babisch, attempted to change seats, the craft overturned and Frank Babisch
drowned.

Lengthen School Year.

Superior.—With a general improvement of financial conditions in the school districts of Douglas county the sessions of the rural schools have been lengthened to nine months.

Divorce Suit Causes Suicide.

Sheboygan.—Mentally unbalanced,
it is believed, by the action of his wife in instituting divorce proceedings,
William Berg, aged 46, a laborer, committed suicide here by drowning in the Sheboygan river. The widow and ten children survive.

Auto Injuries Kill Marshal.

Kiel.—Edward Hanks, village marshal, is dead as the result of injuries sustained when run down by an automobile driven by a 17-year-old boy.

Burglars Secure Loot.

Oconomowoc.—The general store of Fred Weckert at Stone Bank, north of Oconomowoc, was burglarized and about $500 worth of checks stolen and $30 in money.

Take Booster Trip.

Baraboo.—Business houses closed
and about 300 merchants and families
went on a booster tour through Sauk
county, headed by the Marine band,
under the auspices of the Baraboo
Commercial association.

Wants Poles Removed.

Hurley.—Attempting to force compliance with their request for the removal of poles from a certain street, 100 subscribers have discontinued service.

UNITED BRETHREN PASTORS

Rev. Charles J. Roberts, Janesville, Elected State Superintendent at Annual Conference

Janesville.—With the election of the Rev. Charles J. Roberts, pastor of the Janesville United Brethren church,
as superintendent of the state and the making of appointments for pastorate for the coming year, the annual conference of the United Brethren closed
here. The following were the assignments made for the coming year:

Armenia, to be supplied; Bloomer,
H. A. Smelser, same; Boag, to be supplied; Burr, G. E. Waite, present location; Reed, Blanchardville, L. E.
Strickler, same; Cascade, O. I. Love,
Marion, Ind.; Fennimore, A. W. Phillips, present location Monroe; Gilling-ham, W. H. Adams, same; Janesville, to be supplied; Lima Center, E. L.
Smith, same; Lime Ridge, G. W. Becht-olt, same; Monroe, F. L. Drock, Boag, present location; Meehan, to be supplied; New Auburn, no assignment;
Ontario, A. D. Mechtold, same; Reeve, S. O. Stevens, Cascade; Richland Center, G. W. Everson, same; Turtle Lake, to be supplied; conference evangelist, S. E. Taylor, Richland Center, church student in seminary; Burr, J.
W. Truesdale; Turtle Lake, E. P.
West.

SONS OF NORWAY END MEET

Complete Organization of Fifth District With Headquarters in Madison.

Madison.—The organization of the Fifth district of the Sons of Norway,
which includes the states of Wisconsin and Illinois, was completed at the closing session of a two days' convention. Forty were in attendance.

Madison was chosen as the district
headquarters and the new lodge was named Ole Bull district lodge No. 5.
Officers were elected as follows:

President, Finn Mohr, Chicago;
vice-president, P. S. Kanger, Superior;
secretary, O. T. Ullsvik, Madison;
treasurer, L. J. Westness, Milwaukee;
judge, A. Lofte, Eau Claire; regent,
H. S. Mathison, Chicago; trustees, three years, John A. Wold, Chicago;
two years, E. Leiness, Rhinelander;
one year, O. S. Rice, Madison.

PRIEST IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Father Boyce Meets Tragic Death
Under Car Wheels at New Richmond.

New Richmond.—The Rev. Father
Michael F. Boyce, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, was struck by the locomotive of an Omaha freight train in this city and instantly killed. He tried to save himself by jumping, but was caught under the wheels and dragged five car lengths. He was alone in the automobile. Father Boyce was 50 years old. He was born in Ireland, and saw missionary work in Africa after his ordination. He was stationed in New Richmond fourteen years, and was previously in Chippewa Falls. He was one of the best known priests of the diocese of Superior.

NO SPECIAL FA

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mrs. T. Sayers of Tomahawk is a guest at the Tom Foley home.

Mrs. P. C. Williams left Tuesday for Chicago to visit relatives.

Leon Foley leaves Thursday for Madison to attend the university.

Maud Mulroy and Mattie Dudley were at Stevens Point Friday to attend the fair.

Mrs. A. Deerenboom and Miss Kate Hofstater were Sunday visitors in Green Bay.

F. Dudley and Mrs. A. C. Smith were Friday visitors at the Stevens Point fair.

Mr. and Mrs. George Forand and sons and Mr. Tuttle were at Stevens Point Friday.

Mrs. A. C. Smith left Tuesday for Stanley to visit her daughter and also to see the fair.

—Discard that chili, get one of our $2.50 perfection heaters, they save the money and do the work.

Nash Hardware Co.

Mrs. Fred Klaus of Winneconne, who has been the guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Martin, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Postmaster R. L. Nash and wife left on Sunday for Milwaukee to spend several days attending the state fair and the Wisconsin State Postmasters' convention.

Mrs. Haddon, Mrs. Hodge and Miss Hamilton of Racine spent the week end left Tuesday for Stevens Point at the T. B. Mullen home. Miss Hamilton where she will attend the Normal.

George B. McMillan spent yesterday in Fond du Lac where he visited Thomas Patterson of Wild Rose who is well known in this vicinity and who at the present time is in a hospital here, where he is convalescing from a serious operation.

Louis Lyons, who returned last week from the Green Bay hospital, was taken very ill again on Sunday and on Tuesday was again taken to Green Bay where he will probably have to submit to another operation. His condition is serious.

R. L. Nash received a 1915 live passenger Overland touring car the past week which he has sold to A. I. Chambers who will use same in connection with his livery. Mr. Nash now has the agency for this popular car and no doubt will sell a large number next season.

Miss Helen Peterson of Arpin who won the Wood county spelling championship which was held in this city last June will take part in the State Fair contest for the championship of the state which will be held in Milwaukee this week. About 50 county champions have entered the contest.

Jacob Kissinger, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Monday. Mr. Kissinger and charge of a crew of rakers on this marsh for many years.

John Juno, Democratic candidate for Member of Assembly and John A. Hoffman, candidate for register of deeds on the democratic ticket were in the city on Friday to attend a committee meeting. Both of these gentlemen are among the pioneer residents of Marshfield and are numbered among its best citizens and business men. Mr. Juno was chairman of the county board for two terms and has also held many offices of trust in his home city. Mr. Hoffman was for many years engaged in the wood and cement business, having sold out his interests a year ago.

The Barker and Stewart Lumber Co., which has been in operation at Wausau since 1881 has closed its mill and will withdraw from the lumber field. This company has been one of the best known lumber concerns in Northern Wisconsin for several years.

Mrs. Edward E. Daly of Ralph, S. D., is spending a week at the home of her father-in-law, Tim Daly in the town of Seneca. Mr. and Mrs. Daly own over a section of land near Ralph and are at present ranching over 2,000 sheep, besides a large number of cattle and horses.

John White, editor of the Marshfield Herald, was a caller at this office on Monday while in the city on business.

E. Lakin returned the past week from Fond du Lac where he has been doing carpenter work for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. August Schrieber who have resided in Milwaukee the past two years have moved to this city to reside.

Mrs. E. Bradford departed last week for Neillsville where she will teach in the public schools the ensuing year.

Henry Lipsitz of Biron and brothers Victor and Albert of Saratoga were pleasant callers at this office on Monday.

Mrs. Guy Miller and daughter attended the Stevens Point fair on Friday. Mrs. Miller had some of her fancy work on exhibition.

Frank Helsor, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Leloff and children and Mr. and Mrs. Varum Shearler and Mr. Vanderlie returned to their homes in Rhinelander the past week after spending a week in the city with relatives. They made the trip in the Leloff auto.

Try Tribune Want Ads.

Mrs. Frank Buss and children are visiting in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Pillar are visiting with relatives in Lake Geneva.

Mrs. Will Collier visited in Winona several days the past week.

Miss Irene Cepress has been visiting in New London the past week.

Percy Daly was down from Merrill to spend Sunday with his mother.

Mrs. J. F. Miller of Shellrock, Ia., is visiting at the J. L. Thompson home.

Chas. Keip, the west-side blacksmith has purchased the A. B. Sutor auto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Horton autoed to Stevens Point on Friday to attend the fair.

Frank Dudley Jr., departed on Monday for Milwaukee to attend the state fair.

Neil Nash has left for Washington D. C., where he will enter Georgetown University.

Nearly 1700 hunting licenses have already been issued by the county clerk this season.

Miss Emma Swain of Chicago is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swain.

Miss Martha Boetcher returned on Sunday after a short visit with friends at Green Bay.

Miss Selma Johnson returned on Saturday from a two weeks visit in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Miss Ella Leitritz of Marshfield has again taken charge of the millinery department at Levin's store.

Miss Minnie Peterson of Madison has accepted the position as head trimmer at Cohen Bros. store.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gussell of Stevens Point have been guests at the Henry Yetter home the past week.

John White, editor of the Marshfield Herald, was a caller at this office on Monday while in the city on business.

E. Lakin returned the past week from Fond du Lac where he has been doing carpenter work for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. August Schrieber who have resided in Milwaukee the past two years have moved to this city to reside.

Mrs. E. Bradford departed last week for Neillsville where she will teach in the public schools the ensuing year.

Henry Lipsitz of Biron and brothers Victor and Albert of Saratoga were pleasant callers at this office on Monday.

Mrs. Guy Miller and daughter attended the Stevens Point fair on Friday. Mrs. Miller had some of her fancy work on exhibition.

Frank Helsor, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Leloff and children and Mr. and Mrs. Varum Shearler and Mr. Vanderlie returned to their homes in Rhinelander the past week after spending a week in the city with relatives. They made the trip in the Leloff auto.

Try Tribune Want Ads.

Mrs. Frank Buss and children are visiting in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Pillar are visiting with relatives in Lake Geneva.

Mrs. Will Collier visited in Winona several days the past week.

Miss Irene Cepress has been visiting in New London the past week.

Percy Daly was down from Merrill to spend Sunday with his mother.

Mrs. J. F. Miller of Shellrock, Ia., is visiting at the J. L. Thompson home.

Chas. Keip, the west-side blacksmith has purchased the A. B. Sutor auto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Horton autoed to Stevens Point on Friday to attend the fair.

Frank Dudley Jr., departed on Monday for Milwaukee to attend the state fair.

Neil Nash has left for Washington D. C., where he will enter Georgetown University.

Nearly 1700 hunting licenses have already been issued by the county clerk this season.

Miss Emma Swain of Chicago is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swain.

Miss Martha Boetcher returned on Sunday after a short visit with friends at Green Bay.

Miss Selma Johnson returned on Saturday from a two weeks visit in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Miss Ella Leitritz of Marshfield has again taken charge of the millinery department at Levin's store.

Miss Minnie Peterson of Madison has accepted the position as head trimmer at Cohen Bros. store.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gussell of Stevens Point have been guests at the Henry Yetter home the past week.

John White, editor of the Marshfield Herald, was a caller at this office on Monday while in the city on business.

E. Lakin returned the past week from Fond du Lac where he has been doing carpenter work for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. August Schrieber who have resided in Milwaukee the past two years have moved to this city to reside.

Mrs. E. Bradford departed last week for Neillsville where she will teach in the public schools the ensuing year.

Henry Lipsitz of Biron and brothers Victor and Albert of Saratoga were pleasant callers at this office on Monday.

Mrs. Guy Miller and daughter attended the Stevens Point fair on Friday. Mrs. Miller had some of her fancy work on exhibition.

Frank Helsor, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Leloff and children and Mr. and Mrs. Varum Shearler and Mr. Vanderlie returned to their homes in Rhinelander the past week after spending a week in the city with relatives. They made the trip in the Leloff auto.

Try Tribune Want Ads.

Miss Rose Metzger is visiting in Chicago, Milwaukee and Waterloo.

Arthur Binnebose has gone to River Pines, Ill. to attend college.

Louis and Antoine Fournier are visiting with relatives in Canada and expect to be gone until October.

Leonard Bender has let the contract for the erection of a new home on Fourth Ave. north to Schroeder and Miller. The house will be 26x28 two stories.

A. H. Koch, the general manager at Cohen Bros. store enjoyed a two weeks vacation from his duties which he spent visiting friends and relatives near Auburndale.

Geo. N. Wood returned on Monday from the Searis marsh where he has been during the cranberry picking season. Mr. Wood reports that the Searis' have a good crop this year.

George DeLap, foreman at the Tribune office received word on Tuesday that his uncle, Frank VanAlstine had died at Kilbourn. Mr. DeLap left for Kilbourn that evening to attend the funeral.

John Niles, the west side harness maker is spending a week visiting at the home of his father, Hilbert and Chilton. Mr. Niles will also spend several days in Milwaukee attending the state fair.

Prof. M. H. Jackson will deliver an address before the Stevens Point Business Men's Association on October 2. Mr. Jackson has a strong following in the points named by address he has delivered in that city before.

Arthur Mulroy went to Milwaukee on Saturday night where he met his wife and baby who had been visiting in Chicago. On Sunday they visited with Mr. Mulroy's sister, Mary, who is a trained nurse in St. Mary's hospital.

Dr. J. K. Goodrich, Osteopathic physician, formerly of Elkhart, Ind., has opened an office in the Johnson and Hill building over the Gen. theatre. Dr. Goodrich is nicely located and comes to this city with a reputation of being an able and efficient osteopathist. His family which is now in Indiana will join him later.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been issued by the county clerk: Ted W. DeLap and Miss Elizabeth Sieg, of Marshfield.

Ignatius Povlaski of Grand Rapids and Miss Mary Veskie of Sigel.

Fred Shingo of Grand Rapids and Miss Ann Weinfurter of Sherry.

Advertised Mail.

Ladies: Hollenback, Miss Ed, Lassa Mrs. Joe.

Gentlemen: Callinan, J. G., Greason, Mr. J. A., (special), Mareau, F. A., Mullen J. H., Necorish, J. H., Powers, Mr. James, The Pendleton Lumber Company, Wall Mr. James H.

R. L. Nash, Postmaster

RUDOLPH

A. J. Kujawa returned home Thursday morning from his trip to Prairie du Chien and Milwaukee.

Fred Corith, who bought Emil Hounschild's place moved his family and household goods up here from Grand Rapids.

The telephone exchange has a new home in the Joe Sharkey house, which the Telephone company recently purchased. The new switch board is giving perfect satisfaction with Irene Golan and Pearl Clark as day operators, and Charlie Ratelle was appointed manager and night operator. After the lines are fixed up and new poles and phones made ready for us the operators will then have their hands full.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobson are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy born Friday, Sept. 11, 1914.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freund are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Karnatz have returned to their home in Milwaukee after a visit with relatives and with friends here and in their city.

Mrs. John Weyers returned to her home in Milwaukee after a visit with relatives here and in their city.

Mr. Carl Kunda, a free trader, a Vet. of Oxford, Wis., visited here a few days while on her way to Phillips to visit her mother.

Mrs. Andrew Sharers left last Wednesday for a weeks visit with her relatives in Monroe.

Dr. Jackson's house is nearly finished and he will soon move back into his office.

Nick Ratelle arrived home Friday evening all safe and sound from Stevens Point, where he and his son Lloyd spent the week. He had 7 head of hares at the fair and got 5 blue ribbons and 2 red ribbons. The stallions Jack and Nero were entered in same class so Jack got blue and Nero red.

The mare and colt got blue ribbons. The three year old and two year old colts each got a blue ribbon. One mare got red ribbon and Mr. O'Keefe's mare in the same class got 1st.

Emil Hounschild has moved some of his household goods into the Feichtel house in a couple of the front rooms and he stored some of his furniture.

Jona Ratelle spent Sunday in Grand Rapids.

Certrude Akey returned home on Monday noon from her visit in Fond du Lac.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Benson and baby of your city were up Sunday to see the new baby at the home of the latter's brother, Will Hams.

Mrs. Emma Roosen, who has been up taking care of her daughter Mrs. Will Hams returned to her home in your city today noon.

A number from here attended the Stevens Point fair the past week, in spite of the rains.

Emmett Slattery, Chas. Imig, Gilbert Akey, Louis and Chas. Alberts own a silo filler which they began to operate by filling Gilbert Akey's silo on Saturday.

Measrs. Fritzsinger and McCandley of your city are up here working on the telephone line.

Lawrence Sharkey returned home Friday from the West where he has been for about a month.

FOURTEEN MILE CREEK.

Are you going? Going where? why to the Adams County Fair at Friendship, September 21, 22, 23. Everybody come.

Mrs. Jim Brown was a caller at Spring Creek from Saturday until Sunday.

Charley Brown who has been working near Hancock is spending a few days at home.

Chicken hunting is the order of the day in this vicinity.

C. E. Duck and wife are entertaining his father and mother of Freeport, Ill., this week.

Jim Brown is working for J. R. Potts.

Andrew Carlson and daughter Edith were Grand Rapids shoppers Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Steih returned on Saturday from Merrill where she spent a week visiting with relatives and attending the Lincoln County Fair.

Arthur Binnebose has gone to River Pines, Ill. to attend college.

Louis and Antoine Fournier are visiting with relatives in Canada and expect to be gone until October.

Leonard Bender has let the contract for the erection of a new home on Fourth Ave. north to Schroeder and Miller. The house will be 26x28 two stories.

A. H. Koch, the general manager at Cohen Bros. store enjoyed a two weeks vacation from his duties which he spent visiting friends and relatives near Auburndale.

Geo. N. Wood returned on Monday from the Searis marsh where he has been during the cranberry picking season. Mr. Wood reports that the Searis' have a good crop this year.

George DeLap, foreman at the Tribune office received word on Tuesday that his uncle, Frank VanAlstine had died at Kilbourn. Mr. DeLap left for Kilbourn that evening to attend the funeral.

John Niles, the west side harness maker is spending a week visiting at the home of his father, Hilbert and Chilton. Mr. Niles will also spend several days in Milwaukee attending the state fair.

Prof. M. H. Jackson will deliver an address before the Stevens Point Business Men's Association on October 2. Mr. Jackson has a strong following in the points named by address he has delivered in that city before.

Arthur Mulroy went to Milwaukee on Saturday night where he met his wife and baby who had been visiting in Chicago. On Sunday they visited with Mr. Mulroy's sister, Mary, who is a trained nurse in St. Mary's hospital.

Dr. J. K. Goodrich, Osteopathic physician, formerly of Elkhart, Ind., has opened an office in the Johnson and Hill building over the Gen. theatre. Dr. Goodrich is nicely located and comes to this city with a reputation of being an able and efficient osteopathist. His family which is now in Indiana will join him later.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licences have been issued by the county clerk: Ted W. DeLap and Miss Elizabeth Sieg, of Marshfield.

Ignatius Povlaski of Grand Rapids and Miss Mary Veskie of Sigel.

Fred Shingo of Grand Rapids and Miss Ann Weinfurter of Sherry.

Advertised Mail.

Ladies: Hollenback, Miss Ed, Lassa Mrs. Joe.

Gentlemen: Callinan, J. G., Greason, Mr. J. A., (special), Mareau, F. A., Mullen J. H., Necorish, J. H., Powers, Mr. James, The Pendleton Lumber Company, Wall Mr. James H.

R. L. Nash, Postmaster

RUDOLPH

A. J. Kujawa returned home Thursday morning from his trip to Prairie du Chien and Milwaukee.

Fred Corith, who bought Emil Hounschild's place moved his family and household goods up here from Grand Rapids.

The telephone exchange has a new home in the Joe Sharkey house, which the Telephone company recently purchased. The new switch board is giving perfect satisfaction with Irene Golan and Pearl Clark as day operators, and Charlie Ratelle was appointed manager and night operator. After the lines are fixed up and new poles and phones made ready for us the operators will then have their hands full.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobson are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy born Friday, Sept. 11, 1914.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freund are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Karnatz have returned to their home in Milwaukee after a visit with relatives and with friends here and in their city.

Mrs. John Weyers returned to her home in Milwaukee after a visit with relatives here and in their city.

Mr. Carl Kunda, a free trader, a Vet. of Oxford, Wis., visited here a few days while on her way to Phillips to visit her mother.

Mrs. Andrew Sharers left last Wednesday for a weeks visit with her relatives in Monroe.

Dr. Jackson's house is nearly finished and he will soon move back into his office.

Nick Ratelle arrived home Friday evening all safe and sound from Stevens Point, where he and his son Lloyd spent the week. He had 7 head of hares at the fair and got 5 blue ribbons and 2 red ribbons. The stallions Jack and Nero were entered in same class so Jack got blue and Nero red.

The mare and colt got blue ribbons. The three year old and two year old colts each got a blue ribbon. One mare got red ribbon and Mr. O'Keefe's mare in the same class got 1st.

Emil Hounschild has moved some of his household goods into the Feichtel house in a couple of the front rooms and he stored some of his furniture.

Jona Ratelle spent Sunday in Grand Rapids.

Certrude Akey returned home on Monday noon from her visit in Fond du Lac.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Benson and baby of your city were up Sunday to see the new baby at the home of the latter's brother, Will Hams.

Mrs. Emma Roosen, who has been up taking care of her daughter Mrs. Will Hams returned to her home in your city today noon.

A number from here attended the Stevens Point fair the past week, in spite of the rains.

Emmett Slattery, Chas. Imig, Gilbert Akey, Louis and Chas. Alberts own a silo filler which they began to operate by filling Gilbert Akey's silo on Saturday.

Measrs. Fritzsinger and McCandley of your city are up here working on the telephone line.

Lawrence Sharkey returned home Friday from the West where he has been for about a month.

FOURTEEN MILE CREEK.

Are you going? Going where? why to the Adams County Fair at Friendship, September 21, 22, 23. Everybody come.

Mrs. Jim Brown was a caller at Spring Creek from Saturday until Sunday.

Charley Brown who has been working near Hancock is spending a few days at home.

Chicken hunting is the order of the day in this vicinity.

C. E. Duck and wife are entertaining his father and mother of Freeport, Ill., this week.

Jim Brown is working for J. R. Potts.

Andrew Carlson and daughter Edith were Grand Rapids shoppers Tuesday.

Where You Can Talk Business

You are invited to make the First National Bank your banking home. You will then have occasion to visit us frequently on matters concerning your finances, and will come into close touch with our officers.

Your acquaintance will naturally become personal and confidential. You will feel free to consult us in confidence, and the counsel given will work well with your success plans.

First National Bank, Grand Rapids, Wis.

"The bank that does things for you."

A Medical Book Free

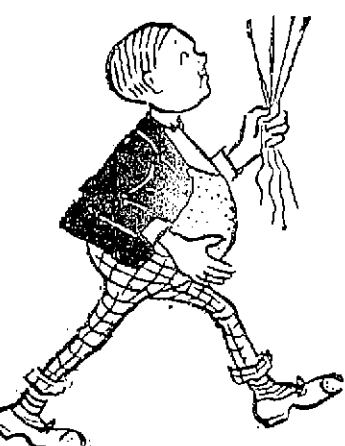

By Dr. H. A. Goddard

Modern Methods of treating Chronic Diseases without Operation, has just come from the pen of Dr. Goddard the Milwaukee Specialist and is one of the most interesting as well as instructive little books the doctor has ever written.

If you are a sufferer from Appendicitis, Rupture, Gall Stone, Colic, Gout or Chronic diseases of a private nature, you should avail yourself of his offer to send you this valuable little book free simply for the asking. A postal will bring it to you, in a plain wrapper. Many so-called surgical diseases, have been proven to be curable by medical treatment, more safely, more easily and cheaply by modern medical methods than was believed possible a few years ago.

After you have read this little book you can consult Dr. Goddard on his monthly visits to Grand Rapids, free of charge and have the satisfaction of knowing that you have secured the expert opinion of a reputable specialist in these matters. If you have been advised to submit to an operation, surely do not fail to consult him before undergoing such an operation. His advice may save you many weeks of suffering, loss of time and expense, possibly your life. Dr. Goddard will be at the Dixon Hotel all day Tuesday Sept. 23th, and he makes no charges for a friendly visit. Hours 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

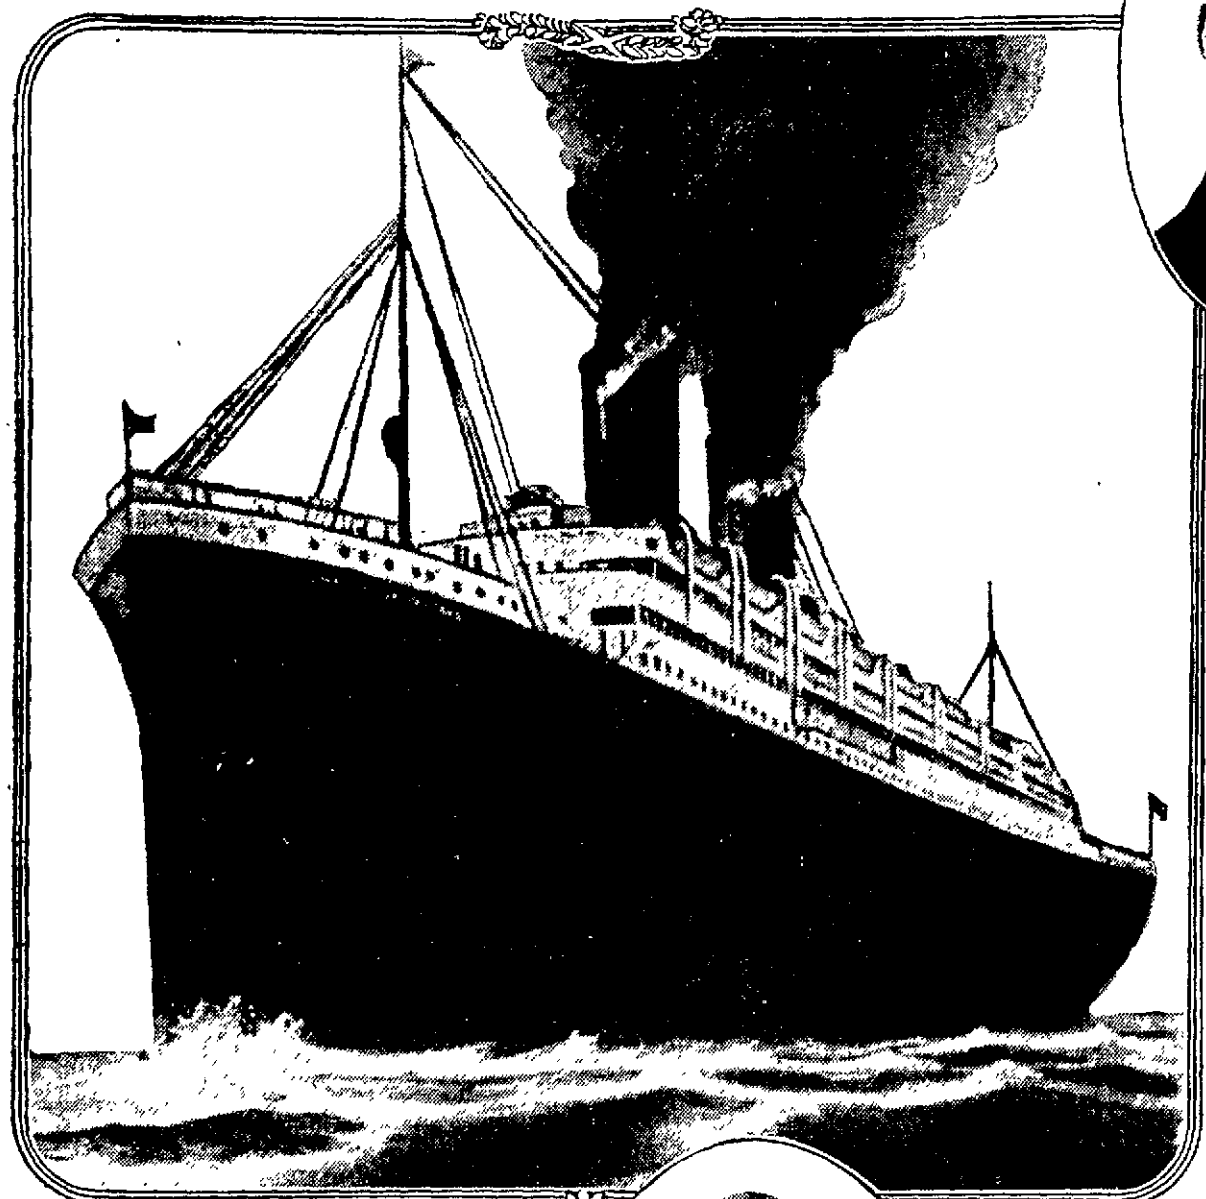

You Can Now Sail

on the water and over the water, but you cannot sail under the water. The best you can do under the water is to go chug-chug in a gasoline boat, and that is only a recent accomplishment, prior to which all the experts said that a gas motor could not be operated under water.

Well, it's a sure enough fact that any one who says "it can't be done" is liable to be interrupted by some one doing it. The physical impossibilities of last year are the accomplished deeds of this year or next year. The only certain thing

WHAT EVIL STAR HANGS OVER FATHER POINT?

THE EMPRESS OF IRELAND

HERE is a legend told in the great woods along the Rimouski river of southeastern Canada that when a certain star hangs over Father Point all good men should keep to their homes, for on that night danger lurks on the St. Lawrence river off the point and the hunter and woodman of the interior are in danger of their lives.

Father Point is near the mouth of the Rimouski river and is on the south shore of the St. Lawrence. The people of that place are used to caring for the poor and distressed. They have seen so much disaster and heartbreak they have long ceased to regard such occurrences for long.

The history of Father Point dates back before the coming of the white man. The language of the Indians gives legends of the evil star.

One winter while the Indians of the Rimouski region were planning a trapping expedition to the Champlain river, the star rose above the point and by that sign forbade the Indians to embark. There were old men in the village who had heard of the legend and who told the young men to remain at home until the star had passed on. The young men laughed at the counsel of the old men and tried to depart. Then the old men went to the water and destroyed the canoes of the young men. They threw them on the fire and sat by in silence, while the young men railed at the older heads for the superstition.

But the Great Manitou took revenge for the rebellion of the young men. The legends tell how the Great Manitou sent the deepest snow that had ever fallen. The trails were buried and none were able to leave their wigwams. Famine came because they could not go on the hunt as formerly. The young men died and there were few left to tell the tale.

Then came the French. One night when the wind howled around Father Point and sighed in the branches of the trees of the Rimouski river, the star reached the zenith above the fatal spot. "Don't go out tonight," chanted the Indian medicine men. "There is death in the land. Don't go out tonight."

But the French left their homes in spite of the warnings. All the young men of the river country marched away, because had not the great General Montcalm commanded? They were going to the defense of Quebec. Their boats took to the river that night and they mocked the star as it twinkled from above the crags. As their boats moved up the St. Lawrence toward Quebec the boats of Wolfe bore in sight. As the sailors of Wolfe's command passed Father Point the watch on the boat saw the star, so the records say. He pointed upward, for the star was in the zenith and it was of great brilliancy.

The men went on up the stream. The French landed and were welcomed to Quebec. The English followed them. They, too, landed, but it was many weary months after. Before that time the French soldiers had laughed many times about the warnings of the old Indian medicine chiefs. Before that time the English had forgotten the star which hung over Wolfe's vessel, but the watchman of that night did not forget and the Indian medicine men did not forget.

Then one night Wolfe, with his men, crept up the heights of Abraham above Quebec and when day broke he commanded the view of the city.

The French rushed to the defense of the city. On the plains of Abraham they fought most valiantly, but they seemed unable to stand before the onslaughts of the English. Every man from the banks of the Rimouski died in that terrible conflict. Montcalm, who had ordered them to the defense of Quebec, also was killed in battle and as he was about to die he reverently thanked God he was spared the sorrow of surrendering the fortress to the English.

The English won the victory, but the annals of that fight show that every officer and man who rode on the boat that night the star shone and even General Wolfe himself felt bleeding that morning. The watchman alone survived the

THOUGHT ONLY OF PAINTING

That Model Might Be Suffering From Strained Muscles Did Not Occur to the Artist.

Adolf Friedrich Menzel, the famous German artist, was an untiring worker, as many of his models can testify. Once at work on a painting, he became so engrossed in it that he forgot the aching muscles of his model, and made them stand for hours at a time without rest. One of them

MADE IMMORTAL BY GENIUS

Writer Tells of Sordid Places That Are Made Bright by Memories of Dickens.

Mr. F. Hopkinson Smith, while in London, sought out and visited the various places made memorable by their connection with Charles Dickens' name. Mr. Smith was especially impressed by the fact that memories of Dickens were still vivid in the minds of the people. A little printer boy gives the following account in "Das Buch der Alley": "I was posing as a soldier for one of his great mural paintings. He had me placed upon a great wooden stand. After keeping in a certain position for about two hours, my muscles were so strained that I could stand it no longer, and asked him if he could not rest for a while. At first, Menzel was inclined to scold, but when he realized that two hours had actually flown, he apologized. 'I'm very sorry to make you so uncomfortable. I had almost forgotten you, as a painter will when heart and soul goes into his work. Wait!' he exclaimed. 'Stay just where you are. That's an excellent pose!' I had just commenced to descend the ladder, and as I did so I evidently struck a pose that was suitable for another part of the composition, for the artist immediately picked up his palette and went to work with renewed zeal. At length he finished and laid down his brush. 'Thank heavens!' I thought, 'Now we can rest.' But I had no more than reached the ground when Menzel said: 'Now that we have had our rest, you may get up on the stand again, and I'll proceed with the first picture.' Of course I had to comply, and did, but not without a great deal of inward irritation, as you can easily imagine.—Youth's Companion.

A missionary in the Philippines gives motion picture shows in remote districts. down, looking out into the back yard. It was the modest and stuffiest old place you can imagine; but it was there that Dickens wrote the most of the 'Pickwick Papers.'—Youth's Companion.

Great Age. "What are you talking into that graphophone?" "My class speeches." "Class speeches?" "I'm tired of our correspondence school. This record will be sent in turn to every member of the class."

contention. Didn't the star hang over the river on their way to Europe? Didn't the simple-minded shudder and conceal themselves and fall to start on any venture until after the spell of the star was gone?

Didn't Belle Elmore continue on her way with the doctor and didn't she meet death in a mysterious manner in London? The papers then were full of the details of the strange murder. Belle Elmore's body was found in London in the basement of a house which she and her husband, Doctor Crippen, had occupied. Investigations pointed to Doctor Crippen as the slayer. They tried to show that he had an unwholesome attachment for Ethel LeNeve. Stories watched him daily in hopes he would commit some act which would throw suspicion his way. He expressed surprise that the woman should have been so horribly slain. He kept about, but the simple-minded folk say the spell of the evil star was upon him. The star had allowed Belle Elmore to die in London. It had allowed Wolfe and the French soldiers to die at Quebec, but it wanted Doctor Crippen to meet his fate at the port of Father Point.

When night fell Doctor Crippen could not withstand the spell. He and Ethel LeNeve fled the country. Disguising himself as a Canadian, he returned home and dressing the LeNeve girl as his son he fled London and crossed the Atlantic, playing right into the hands of fate, the Canadian simple men say.

As the vessel neared the Canadian river, Captain Kendall, who later was to figure as captain of the ill-starred Empress of Ireland, saw the couple. The man looked the part of the respectable Canadian father. The boy, however, looked the part of a girl. Her face was boyish enough, but she had a girl-like air.

"She is a girl," Captain Kendall said. He watched her closely. Her locks were short, but she did not have the boyish features. She had not the adventurous curiosity of a boy. She was always hiding on board the vessel by herself. She did not like the company of others. She was too shy. Then Captain Kendall took a newspaper with photographs of Doctor Crippen. He examined the photograph carefully and compared it detail after detail with the man he had for a passenger. Yes, he was sure the man was Crippen. The wireless telegraph was set to work. The Dominion police were notified and they boarded the vessel before it even landed. They arrested Doctor Crippen and the short-haired Ethel LeNeve. The girl went free. She never had gone against the decrees of the star, but Doctor Crippen was sent back to London, where he paid the penalty according to the rigid English law of those who slay their wives.

HIS PRAYER ANSWERED. "Ah!" he sighed, "if you only gave me the least hope!" "Gracious!" interrupted the hard-hearted belle. "I've been giving you the least I ever gave to any man."

HUMAN UNDERSTANDING. "I understand that you have written a book?" "Yes," replied Professor Hibrow. "But that does not imply that I have written a book that you understand."

AN INFLUENCE TOWARD SECLUSION. "Are you going to keep a diary?" "No. If you use up all your time writing up a diary, nothing happens to you worth telling about."

SOMEWHAT. Bill—What's your friend's name? Jill—Robin Albatross. "What a funny name." "Why, it's a 'bird' of a name."

WHEAT CROP LARGE

TOTAL PRODUCTION OF CEREAL WILL REACH 896,000,000 BUSHELLS.

REPORTING BOARD ESTIMATE

Department of Agriculture issues its Totals for September 1 on Conditions and Production of United States Crop.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The crop reporting board, department of agriculture, made the following estimates of the condition and production of the crops on September 1.

Winter wheat, preliminary estimate, yield per acre, 19.1 bushels; five year average, 15.6 bushels; total production, 675,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 675,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 623,000,000 bushels.

Spring wheat—Condition Sept. 1, 66; last year, 75.3; yield per acre, 12.3 bushels; five year average, 13.3 bushels; total production, 321,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 325,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 240,000,000 bushels.

All wheat—Yield, per acre, 16.8 bushels; five year average, 14.7 bushels; total production, 896,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 811,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 763,000,000 bushels.

Price Sept. 1 93.3 cents; last year, 71.1 cents.

Corn—Condition, Sept. 1, 71.7; last year, 65.1; yield per acre, 24.9 bushels; five year average, 28.9 bushels; total production, 2,588,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 2,534,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 2,447,000,000 bushels.

Price, Sept. 1, 61.5 cents; last year, 76.4 cents.

Oats—Condition, Sept. 1, 75.3; last year, 74.0; yield per acre, 29.1 bushels; five year average, 30.8 bushels; total production, 1,118,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 1,152,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 1,122,000,000 bushels.

Price, Sept. 1, 42.3; last year, 39.3 cents.

Barley—Condition, Sept. 1, 82.4; last year, 73.4; yield, per acre, 20.3 bushels; five year average, 24.3 bushels; August forecast, 203,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 178,000,000 bushels.

Price, Sept. 1, 52.5 cents; last year, 58.4 cents.

Rye—Preliminary estimate yield per acre, 16.8 bushels; five year average, 16.1 bushels; total, 43,000,000; August forecast, 43,000,000; 1913 final, 41,000,000.

Price, Sept. 1, 75.4 cents; last year, 63 cents.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Providence, R. I., Sept. 4.—The cotton mills of Providence have been obliged to work night and day in order to supply the ever increasing orders which has been sent for the last few weeks.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Vice-President Marshall gave out a statement Wednesday in which he declared that President Wilson will be the Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1916.

Paris, Sept. 8.—A Havas agency dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, says that the newspapers there announce that Germany has refused Austria's request for a loan and that the bankers have taken similar action.

BUILDERS OF CANAL HONORED

House Passes Bill Extending the Thanks of Congress to Col. Goethals and His Associates.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The house unanimously passed a bill extending the thanks of congress to Col. George W. Goethals and his associates in the construction of the Panama canal. Brig. Gen. William C. Gorgas, Col. H. F. Hodges, Lieut. Col. William L. Siebert and Commander H. H. Rousseau. The bill advances Col. Goethals to the rank of major general and Col. Gorgas to the rank of major general of the medical department.

WRITERS ABOUT WAR HELD

Germany Must Give Reason or United States Protest Will Go to Berlin.

Washington, Sept. 9.—An inquiry by the senate department is to be made regarding the detention of American newspaper correspondents by Germany. If it develops that there is no good reason for their being held a vigorous protest will be made to the government at Berlin. John T. McCutcheon, James O'Donnell Bennett, Harry Hansen, Irvin S. Cobb and Roger Lewis, are being held in Aix-la-Chapelle by the German authorities.

U. S. Takes Over Wireless Station. Washington, Sept. 10.—The navy department on Tuesday formally took over the wireless station at Tucker, N. J., pursuant to an executive order issued Saturday by President Wilson.

Noted Briton Is Dead. London, Sept. 10.—Sir J. Henckler Heaton, father of penny postage between Great Britain and the United States, died at Geneva, Switzerland. He was at Carlsbad before the war in poor health.

Firm Fails: Owes Million. New York, Sept. 7.—A petition in bankruptcy with liabilities listed at more than a million dollars was filed in the federal district court by Carl F. Eker and Herman N. Eker & Co., dealers in metal and hardware.

May Wheat Reaches $1.31. Chicago, Sept. 7.—May wheat reached the highest point in years when it was forced up to $1.31. The price was $1.25 1/2 when the market opened and this gradually advanced. The scene in the pit was exciting.

U. S. Missionaries Menaced by Turks. Athens, Sept. 7.—Unconfirmed rumors that Mohammedan priests are urging the Turkish people to wage a holy war upon all foreigners reached the Greek foreign office. American missionaries are imperiled.

Aviator Is Found Dead. Bardonia, Ky., Sept. 7.—Discovery of the body of Charles Hilbard, an aviator, beside his wrecked machine here revealed a midair death mystery. No one knew he had gone into the air until his body was found.

Earthquake at Seattle, Wash. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 8.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here Sunday. The disturbance was recorded on the University of Seattle seismograph. No damage was done in this vicinity.

Many Hurt in Train Wreck. Chicago, Sept. 8.—Nearly a score of persons were hurt when a passenger train from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad crashed head-on into an engine as it was nearing the Union station.

Families of Soldiers Pay No Rent. London, Sept. 10.—Sixty families who occupy houses belonging to the Sheffield firm have been notified that they need not pay rent while their men folk are serving their country in the war.

Went Tax Railroad Tickets. Washington, Sept. 8.—At a conference Democrats of the ways and means committee practically abandoned the idea of taxing railroad tickets as one method of raising additional revenue as a war tax.

$2,000,000 for Food Supply. Bordeaux, France, Sept. 8.—The government authorized an advance of $2,000,000 to the chamber of commerce for the purchase of corn and supplies to meet the needs of the country during the war.

WILL PRAY FOR PEACE

PRESIDENT DESIGNATES OCTOBER 4 AS PRAYER DAY.

Chief Executive Requests All God-Fearing Persons in U. S. to Petition God for End of War.

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Wilson issued a proclamation designating Sunday, October 4, as the day of prayer in the United States for peace in Europe. The proclamation follows:

"Whereas, great nations of the world have taken up arms against one another and war now draws millions of men into battle whom the counsel of statesmen have not been able to save from a terrible sacrifice; and

"Whereas, in this as in all things it is our privilege and duty to seek the counsel and aid of Almighty God, humbling ourselves before him, confessing our weakness and our lack of any wisdom equal to these things, and

"Whereas, it is the especial wish and longing of the people of the United States, in prayer and counsel and all friendliness, to serve the cause of peace;

"Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do designate Sunday, the fourth day of October next, a day of prayer and supplication and do request all God-fearing persons to repair on that day to their places of worship, there to unite their petitions to Almighty God that, overruling the counsel of men, setting straight the things that cannot govern or alter, taking pity of the nations now in the throes of conflict, in his mercy and goodness showing the way where men can see none, he vouchsafe his children peace without which there can be neither happiness nor true friendship, nor any wholesome fruit of toil or thought in the world; praying also to this end that he forgive our sins, our ignorance of his holy will, our weakness and many errors, and lead us in the paths of obedience to places of vision and to thoughts and counsels that purge and make wise.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this eighth day of September in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

"(Signed) "WOODROW WILSON."

"By the president: "William J. Bryan, "Secretary of State."

MEXICANS TO FIGHT U. S.?

General Aguilar Reported to Have Said He Would Attack Americans at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Sept. 8.—General Candido Aguilar of the constitutional forces is reported here to have declared he would attack the American troops at Vera Cruz to prove the world the constitutionalists were not in league with the Americans and that they had never had any assistance from the white house. Preparations already are being made for the advance, several contingents having been established along the route of the Inter-oceanic railway four miles from Vera Cruz, it is said. Passengers arriving over this road reported they saw the outposts.

Bandits Shoot 2 on Train. Daring Robbery Occurs on Grand Trunk at Detroit by Masked Bandits.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7.—Two passengers on a Grand Trunk passenger train, inbound from Toronto, were shot and one of them probably fatally wounded by two masked robbers, who boarded the train soon after it entered the city. The injured men are: Cornelius Bozokar, a traveling salesman of Berlin, O., and Joseph Seltzer of Shelby, O. The former was shot through the stomach and physicians established along the route of the Inter-oceanic railway four miles from Vera Cruz, it is said. Passengers arriving over this road reported they saw the outposts.

Extra Paid by Congress. Washington, Sept. 10.—The million-dollar emergency appropriation asked by Secretary Bryan to meet extraordinary diplomatic and consular expenses because of the European war was passed by the house.

Families of Soldiers Pay No Rent. London, Sept. 10.—Sixty families who occupy houses belonging to the Sheffield firm have been notified that they need not pay rent while their men folk are serving their country in the war.

Went Tax Railroad Tickets. Washington, Sept. 8.—At a conference Democrats of the ways and means committee practically abandoned the idea of taxing railroad tickets as one method of raising additional revenue as a war tax.

$2,000,000 for Food Supply. Bordeaux, France, Sept. 8.—The government authorized an advance of $2,000,000 to the chamber of commerce for the purchase of corn and supplies to meet the needs of the country during the war.

Earthquake at Seattle, Wash. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 8.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here Sunday. The disturbance was recorded on the University of Seattle seismograph. No damage was done in this vicinity.

Many Hurt in Train Wreck. Chicago, Sept. 8.—Nearly a score of persons were hurt when a passenger train from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad crashed head-on into an engine as it was nearing the Union station.

Families of Soldiers Pay No Rent. London, Sept. 10.—Sixty families who occupy houses belonging to the Sheffield firm have been notified that they need not pay rent while their men folk are serving their country in the war.

Went Tax Railroad Tickets. Washington, Sept. 8.—At a conference Democrats of the ways and means committee practically abandoned the idea of taxing railroad tickets as one method of raising additional revenue as a war tax.

$2,000,000 for Food Supply. Bordeaux, France, Sept. 8.—The government authorized an advance of $2,000,000 to the chamber of commerce for the purchase of corn and supplies to meet the needs of the country during the war.

Earthquake at Seattle, Wash. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 8.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here Sunday. The disturbance was recorded on the University of Seattle seismograph. No damage was done in this vicinity.

Many Hurt in Train Wreck. Chicago, Sept. 8.—Nearly a score of persons were hurt when a passenger train from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad crashed head-on into an engine as it was nearing the Union station.

Families of Soldiers Pay No Rent. London, Sept. 10.—Sixty families who occupy houses belonging to the Sheffield firm have been notified that they need not pay rent while their men folk are serving their country in the war.

Went Tax Railroad Tickets. Washington, Sept. 8.—At a conference Democrats of the ways and means committee practically abandoned the idea of taxing railroad tickets as one method of raising additional revenue as a war tax.

$2,000,000 for Food Supply. Bordeaux, France, Sept. 8.—The government authorized an advance of $2,000,000 to the chamber of commerce for the purchase of corn and supplies to meet the needs of the country during the war.

Earthquake at Seattle, Wash. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 8.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here Sunday. The disturbance was recorded on the University of Seattle seismograph. No damage was done in this vicinity.

Many Hurt in Train Wreck. Chicago, Sept. 8.—Nearly a score of persons were hurt when a passenger train from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad crashed head-on into an engine as it was nearing the Union station.

Families of Soldiers Pay No Rent. London, Sept. 10.—Sixty families who occupy houses belonging to the Sheffield firm have been notified that they need not pay rent while their men folk are serving their country in the war.

Went Tax Railroad Tickets. Washington, Sept. 8.—At a conference Democrats of the ways and means committee practically abandoned the idea of taxing railroad tickets as one method of raising additional revenue as a war tax.

JAY OF THE BLOUSE

HAS BECOME INDISPENSABLE PART OF WARDROBE.

Nothing Really Seems Able to Take Its Place, Either for Usefulness or for the Pretty Effect It Gives Costume.

Those who have neglected to provide themselves with separate blouses for warm weather wear have doubtless before this time realized their mistake. The separate blouse of silk, linen or of sheer cotton has a very important place in the wardrobe of the modern woman. For golf, tennis, walking, rowing and for all summer sports there is nothing that can take the place of the separate waist.

Fashionable blouses that are worn this season, with a separate skirt of tub material, or with a coat and skirt to complete a costume is, without doubt, prettier than blouses ever were before.

The waist that the smart girl will want—that is, if she is not too stout—is one that is of two materials. The models of this type vary a little, but the general lines are the same. The heavier material is used for the fronts, which are straight strips about two and a half to three inches wide each. These continue up in a rounded or V-shaped piece that fits the neck much the same as the neck and front facing of an ordinary kimono, with the exception that the fronts do not lap over each other, but meet edge to edge.

The sleeves are finished with a band of the heavy material and at the wrist line with a shaped vest piece that comes well down over the hips and fastens at the front. The back, sides and sleeves of the blouse are of the sheer goods and are generally cut in one piece. The effect when finished is that of something between the new long-waisted blouse and the long-lived loose blouse.

A feature that is very marked in the new sport waists is the set-in sleeve. There is nothing particularly new in the shaping of the sleeve itself, but the fact that it is not cut in one with a part of the waist, as has been the custom for several seasons, makes it striking, and at the same time the change is decidedly pleasing.

The sleeves are generally long, but some blouses do show a three-quarter length. They are either finished in bishop style or the regulation coat type.

There is much to be said in favor of silk for the sport blouse. Such blouses keep clean longer than linen or cotton waists, and should they become tumbled it is a very easy matter to press them in one's room with an electric iron. Another thing in their favor is that they are easily laundered.

Skin Lotion. A lotion composed of two ounces of lettuce juice, two drams of eau de Cologne, two ounces of distilled vinegar and four ounces of elder flower water is said to be especially good for allaying heat and irritation of the skin. Dab the skin with it frequently.

EASILY MADE UTILITY BOX

Useful and Attractive Article for the Bureau May Be Put Together for a Few Cents.

The material required to make a utility box for the bureau is as follows: Six oblong pill boxes, ten cents; two yards of ribbon, three-quarter inch, ten cents; one yard broad ribbon, 16 cents. Total 35 cents.

Remove the drawers from each pill box. Arrange the outside cover sections in three rows of two each, as in illustration. Paste these boxes together in this position. Take the narrow ribbon and cover the four sides of each drawer by pasting. Sew on the short side of one of the drawers a button.

ton, on another a hook and so on, as in illustration. These can serve as handles as well as labels for the contents of each drawer. Slide the drawers into place. Take the broad ribbon and, starting at the bottom, wrap it around the outside of the cabinet, pasting it at the bottom. Cut a piece of paper the exact size of the bottom and paste it over the ribbon, thus hiding neatly the seaming place of the ribbon. Finish by making a rose, rosette or bow of the remaining ribbon and tack it on the top.

NEATEST OF HAIR RECEIVERS Washable Article is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who is Making a Journey.

A hair receiver that is washable is a boon. Of course, the china ones are also sanitary, but the receiver in question is really for the traveler's bag or grip. She can take it with her on a journey and save the combings, if she so wishes, or dispose of them when opportunity offers. It does seem that there is one thing that the every-day housewife will forget to provide, a hair receiver; and once hair, somehow, will hop out of the wastepaper basket and float about the room, in spite of all we can do. When the traveler has a little lingerie receiver, she simply takes it from her grip and hangs it on the edge of her dresser and deposits all her combings therein. The receiver is really nothing more than a tiny bit of lawn or washable silk, shaped into a ball-like bag. There is a shirring at the top of the material and the bottom. The beginning of the shirring is but a rather narrow strip of Beauty Don'ts. Don't forget that bright colors should not be worn by those who are inclined to be stout. Don't rub the eyes too roughly with the towel after washing. They are liable to get inflamed if you do. Don't cut your eyelashes with the idea of making them grow. You will do them lasting harm instead. Don't dress your hair too low over the brows. Thin and scanty eye brows are largely caused through this. Don't lean your elbows on the table. If you make a habit of doing this the skin of the elbows will become scaly and hard. Don't forget that glycerin and cucumber have a very softening effect upon the skin, rubbed into the skin regularly every night. Don't give up walking in the hot weather. Remember that a certain amount of exercise is necessary every day if you want to keep well.

Ivory Kept White. As the French Ivory toilet sets are now so much in vogue and people are having trouble to keep them from turning yellow, they may be glad to know that by wiping them with alcohol instead of water they will retain their natural color. This also applies to piano keys. Water should not be used on them.

After the Tango. When your feet are sore or tired, soak them for 20 minutes in water to which have been added a teaspoonful of epsom salts, a tablespoonful of ammonia and a tablespoonful of common salt.

The Radium Spangle. The hit of the season is the opalescent or radium cup spangle. This idea appears in manifold designs on necklaces, brooches, earrings, etc. Spangled pendants and tassels are features of note. Silk and beaded tassels are included in the running. For the street dress or suit of severe tailored lines, sectional gumples and half ornaments with loops are in moderate use. Some of the most novel of these are in leather with beaded designs. Rich ornaments of galalith, in odd Egyptian designs and colorings, are seen. In many instances they appear in combination with passementerie effects and drops.

SHOW THE FEET AND ANKLES Styles in the New Dresses Make the Donning of Dainty Footwear an Absolute Necessity.

The trend of style in the skirts and new dresses and suits tends to a continued display of feet and ankles. Hence the necessity for dainty footwear. The new colonial pumps are in a combination of materials and colors. The vamps are usually of patent leather or dull calfskin combined with colored uppers or flaps of suede, figured cloth or kid. The principal colors are champagne and fawn.

The latest button slipper or low shoe is made of putty-colored antelope and black patent leather, with noddle straps and buttons. The shoe fits high over the instep, with a snug fit up to the ankle and an ornamental anklet strap. The latest novelty in evening slippers is made of black satin embroidered in silver, crystal beads and rhinestones. Buckles are not so prominent, and all ornaments are very small.

TAILORED EFFECT A very attractive model of white bottaline. Note the new drapery on the skirt.

Airy Nightclothes Hygienic. Since there has been such an outcry against the style of clothes worn by men and women (in what is virtually a torrid climate during the summer months) because of the unhygienic warmth, especially in men's clothing, a crusade has been begun against nightclothes. One authority claims that pajamas are too restricting for wear except when traveling, as in the case of commercial men, who change their beds nightly and are exposed to temperature changes. For once it is claimed that women dress more sensibly than men, as sheer cool nightgowns are hygienic and allow ventilation, so inducing refreshing sleep, especially when the gown is sleeveless.

GERMANS CLAIM 40,000 MEN AND FORTRESS TAKEN

WIRELESS FROM BERLIN DE-
CLARES FRENCH DEFENSE AT MAUBEUGE HAS FALLEN.

CAUSES BERLIN TO REJOICE

Reported Victory Held to Be Greatest
Thus Far in the War—
Allies Claim More
Successes.

Berlin, via Sayville, L. I., by Wireless, Sept. 10.—It was announced that the army headquarters here on Wednesday that the French fortress of Maubeuge has fallen before the German siege. Four generals, 40,000 prisoners and 400 guns are declared to have been taken in the victory, the greatest from the German viewpoint
since the war began. It is stated that Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Hesse
has been wounded.

Confirmed in Washington.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—The German embassy here on Wednesday
gave out a wireless message received from Berlin, confirming the United Press wireless report of the capture of Maubeuge, France.

The embassy message stated that newspapers in Berlin "emphasize the importance of the capture of 40,000
men" and that the military authorities
consider this "a high number, meaning important weakening of the enemy."

Paris, Sept. 10.—French and British successes marked the fourth day of the great battle, which is being fought near the center of the line extending from Meaux to Verdun with Vitry-le-Francois in the center.

On the French left, despite defeated
efforts, the Germans have failed to break through the lines of the allies on the right bank of the Ourcq river and,
though heavily reinforced, have lost
ground steadily. Gen. Joffre and Field
Marshal Sir John French are hurrying
more and more troops on the German flank to give their retreat further momentum.

In the center, that part of the line
which extends through La Fere-Champenoise, Sompuis and Vitry-le-Francois, with the last named the theater of
the greatest activity, the French have pressed back the Germans in a successful series of attacks in which the French artillery played a deadly and
effective part.

Former Liner Oceanic Sinks.
London, Sept. 10.—The official press
bureau issued the following announcement Wednesday night: "The merchant cruiser Oceanic, of the White Star line, was wrecked on Tuesday
near the north coast of Scotland and has become a total loss. All officers and crew were saved." The Oceanic made her last trip from New York to Southampton early last August, arriving at the English port Aug. 8. She was then taken over by the British government and converted into an armed cruiser.

Kaiser Protests to Wilson.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—President Wilson has received a personal cablegram from Emperor William of Germany protesting against the use
by the allied armies of dum dum bullets and the participation in the war
by civilians of Belgium. The message expressed also the German emperor's deep regret at the destruction of the Belgian city of Louvain.

"My heart bleeds for Louvain," is one of the phrases which the emperor
is understood to have used. He declared, however, that the population of Belgium had offered such resistance
that his generals had in many cases
found it necessary to administer severe punishment.

The contents of the message were closely guarded. No one at the White House or state department would even admit officially that it had arrived,
even though press dispatches from London and Copenhagen gave an outline of the dispatch early in the day.
The reason for the secrecy was not divulged.

Pope to Appeal for Peace.
Rome, Sept. 10.—The forthcoming
papal encyclical, the issue of which has been purposely delayed until the result of a decisive battle, will contain an appeal for peace. Pope Benedict
XV. has approached Austria and Germany, through the papal nuncio here, and informed the pontiff that they were favorably disposed to second his efforts for peace. The czar is understood to be prepared to submit the pope's offer to the consideration of England and Austria. Pope Benedict
hopes that his appeal may lead to an armistice which will be a prelude of peace.

Sixteen Travelers Lost.
Grimsby, Sept. 9.—Wreckage of the traveler Nelson has been picked up in the North Sea. The total number of Grimsby travelers sunk by German ships or mines since the commencement of war is sixteen.

Prelates Escort Ships.
Rome, via Paris, Sept. 9.—Cardinal
Gibbons will leave here today and sail from Naples aboard the steamer Gupota, with Cardinal O'Connell, escorting several hundred Americans.

Prince Escapes Bomb.
Antwerp, Sept. 9.—While Prince Danillo and the Princess Jutta, his wife, were landing here from a French
warship, an Austrian aviator flew over
the party and dropped a bomb in an attempt to kill the heir apparent.

English Capture Reserves.
Haitian, N. S. Sept. 9.—The British cruiser Glorious arrived yesterday with
the Spanish steamer Montserrat, on which were 150 men said to be Austrian and German reservists, in tow.

Prince Dies in Battle.
London, Sept. 9.—The Berliner Tag-
blatt of Sept. 1 says that Prince Wilhelm of Schomberg-Carolstadt, first lieutenant of the Prussian uhlans, was killed in battle at Merve in northern Prussia on Aug. 25. He was 33 years old.

German Ship Reaches Port.
New York, Sept. 9.—The German steamer Magdeburg slipped safely into New York harbor after an exciting voyage from the Canary Islands.

HAELLEN, BELGIUM, DESTROYED BY GERMAN SHELLS

Some of the ruined houses of Haelen, which the Kaiser's artillery, battered to pieces.

PROGRESS OF WAR AS TOLD BY THE LATE DISPATCHES

French War Office Claims Important Victory Over Germans
Advancing on Paris.

SAY FOE IS IN RETREAT

Events as Far as May Be Ascertained
Seem to Point to an Immediate Decisive Stroke—Austrian Defeat May Not Be as Serious as Might Be Inferred From Reports Emanating
From Russia.

On September 9 General Gallieni,
military governor of Paris, announced that the allies had driven back the German invading army along the whole line extending from Meaux near Paris, to Chateau Senlis, in Lorraine.

He said that the Germans were retreating over the whole front and that the French and English have assumed
the offensive.

The French center, General Gallieni said, has defeated the enemy with immense losses.

According to those in a position to obtain authentic information, the casualties have been terrific.

A Russian army, said to number 250,000 men, is now in France, according to the Rome Tribune. "The Tribune" usually is considered well informed regarding Russian movements.

Official confirmation of the report is refused at the press bureau.

Setting the psychological moment when preliminaries toward the institution of peace negotiations are under way, President Wilson issued a proclamation fixing Sunday, October 4, as a day for prayers for peace.

Summary of War's Events.
A general summary of the war's standing so far as it is possible to ascertain the facts would seem to be
as follows:

Nancy, being subjected to an attack, said to be directed by the Kaiser himself, evidently had its means
of defense considerably strengthened,
and the French must hold strong positions there. Such an attack would appear to be in accordance with the plan of forcing this part of the French
army back toward Paris and incidentally against the advancing German right, thus accomplishing the object of cutting off its line of retreat and possibly effecting its capture. There is a certain element of doubt about this attack on Nancy in view of the fact that the Germans had occupied Lunenburg, a strong fortress about eleven miles from it, some ten days ago
and that the fortifications of Nancy are old and obsolete. It would sound more probable if the attack were directed on Toul.

At any rate, the presence of the Kaiser in that war zone would mean that some decisive stroke is pending. The French have been apprehensive of determined German action in that terrain and are supposed to have a strong force there. This force, though possibly inferior in numbers, has an advantage in its defensive position and
ought to give a good account of itself
in the coming action which, for France, may be the last issue.

Germanes Forced Back.
Paris reports that the Germans have been forced back in a southwesterly direction by flank movements of General Joffre on the right and General Foch on the left wing. Now this is just the direction in which they swung from north of Paris, and it appears by this report that they have been pushed where they intended to go. There is some confusion here, as General French in the same report is reported driving the Germans from Lille. It seems to be certain, though,

that a great battle is being fought
along an undulating line between Meaux and Verdun.

The explanation of the German successes on French territory contained in a London dispatch, which attributed them to relay work, is plausible in view of the continuous stream of reinforcements of men and war material which has followed in the wake of the advancing forces. Only a perfect organization, though, could have effected the judicious work of replacing, in the right time and point, the divisions of fresh ones until their recuperation.

Austrian Defeat Discounted.
Time and other conditions seem to be against the probability of East Indian troops having been engaged in action at Termonia, 30 miles southwest of Antwerp, as reported from London. Such appearance of Hindu
forces is, to say the least, somewhat premature, as was the announcement of the Archangel reinforcements, unless corresponding arrangements had been made some time before the declarations of war.

According to Berlin dispatches the Austrian defeat in eastern Galicia is not quite of the terrifying character
reported from Russian sources. It looks, though, as if that defeat had been a thorough disaster, albeit the extravagant claims of Petrograd
should be taken "cum grano salis."

The Vienna confirmation of the Lem-
berg defeat, coming by way of Rome,
would now appear as the only and
striking example of a beaten power in this conflict admitting its reverses at once and without subterfuge. The same Berlin report mentions the Austrians still continuing their attack on Lublin and also speaks of the formation of an exclusively Polish legion at Cracow under General von Vaczy-
ski.

German Advance Into Russia.
The advance of the Germans by armored trains into Russia in the direction of Alexandrow-Warsaw would indicate either that the Russian attack on Tarnopol, reported some days ago, was incorrect or that it has now been checked. A pursuit of German invasion in this direction would mean
an attempt to use the Vistula river valley as a line of operation against Warsaw, with the additional object
of stopping a direct Russian advance
on Posen.

The reduction of Italian troops, mobilitized on the Austrian frontier, to a peace footing may be regarded as an indication that the government of Victor Emmanuel is determined to observe strictly the situation to a considerable extent, especially in view of the fact that the threatened war action
of Turkey has subsided for the moment. The latter fact may also momentarily divert British forces in regard to Egypt, where the close relationship of the khedive with the royal house
of Turkey and his well-known German
sympathies have caused apprehension.

Joffre Claims Success.
An announcement issued by the official French bureau on September 8,
said:

"General Joffre's plans are being successfully carried out. The allied Ger-ces, acting on the offensive, have been successful in checking and forcing back
in a northeast direction the German forces opposed to them."

It was officially announced in Paris
that the Germans were retreating from the line of Nanteuil-le-Houdouin
to Verdun.

A general action has started on the line through Nanteuil-le-Houdouin,
Meaux, Sezanne and Vitry-le-Francois
and extending to Verdun," the official statement said. "Thanks to the vigorous action of our troops, strongly supported by the British, the Germans
started retreating."

"The Germans had advanced into
the region between Coulommiers and La Fere-Gaucher," the statement said.
Nanteuil-le-Houdouin is 25 miles northeast of the city of Paris and

ten miles southeast of Senlis.
Meaux is 22 miles east of Paris and Sezanne is about fifty-five miles east of the capital. Sezanne is also 25
miles southwest of Epernay.

Vitry-le-Francois is on the bank of the River Marne and 25 miles southwest of Verdun.

Coulommiers is in the department of Seine and Marne, and is thirteen miles southeast of Meaux and thirty miles easterly from Paris.

La Fere-Gaucher is ten miles east
of Coulommiers and about forty miles
to the east of Paris.

The official communique issued in Paris, telling of the situation along the
whole line, says:

"First—The allies have advanced their left wing without energetic opposition from the enemy."

"Second—The situation is unchanged on our center in the region
of Verdun, our forces alternately advancing and retreating. There have been some partial successes on our
right in the Vosges."

"Third—The advancing troops and the allies defending Paris have had several combats on the Ourcq river
with the results in favor of the allies."

"Fourth—The minister of war has telegraphed to the governor of Mau-beuge, expressing the government's admiration for the heroic defense. The commander in chief has placed the name of the governor of Maubeuge in the order of the day for his splendid defense."

Allies Force Battle.
The general engagement was brought about when the allies, which had been in continuous retreat for many days, made a stand in a strongly fortified position to the north and
northeast of Paris.

The first clash came when the German troops covering the flank of the main German army encountered advance detachments of the allies at a point near La Fere-Gaucher and were forced to retire. The main bodies of the opposing armies then took up the struggle and the Germans were forced to retire.

Million Men Take Part in Contest.
It is estimated that 1,000,000 troops
were engaged along the line, which extends roughly 120 miles.

The German first army, which had
crossed Belgium, rounded the left flank of the allies' army, and then turned southward and to the east of Paris, was forced to fight with its back
to that city.

Messages received from Paris say
this army was forced to retreat early in the fighting and was being pursued
by French troops. From time to time
the Germans turn and engage with the French, while French shells fall continually on their ranks.

Austrians Forced Back.
The following official announcement was given out at Petrograd (St. Petersburg):

"The Austrian army, corps between the River Vistula and the River Burs
are retreating with enormous losses.
The resistance of the enemy has been broken."

"There are evidences of the possibility of a famine in Austria."

Another official communication issued said: "In the sphere of operations around Rawa, thirty-two miles northwest of Lemberg, in Galicia, the Russian forces continue a number of serious engagements. The Austrian army which has been operating in the direction of Kholm is retreating, repulsed by the Russian troops, which have taken numerous prisoners, together with artillery and ammunition
trains."

Disease Ravages Austrians.
"Five hundred Austrian soldiers are in hospital, suffering from dysentery, which is said to be ravaging the ranks
of the enemy."

"On the German front there have been only insignificant skirmishes."

A dispatch from Bucharest, coming
by way of Odessa, announces the entry of Russian troops into Czernowitz.
The city is the capital of the province of Bukovina, in Austria-Hungary, and is 146 miles southeast of Lemberg.

The mines, the same passage which the German destroyers used in coming out to the North sea for the fight of Heligoland. When the operations were finished all the British vessels with the exception of one submarine returned to their base.

There was much anxiety as to the fate of this vessel, and as nearly a day passed without news of it the fleet began to conclude it had been lost. Just as this fear began to be viewed as a certainty the submarine came into the midst of the fleet and three miles, said:

"I was on deck and the men below tried to make a meal when our vessel was suddenly shaken. I turned in the direction of the report and saw the cruiser in a perpendicular position, amidst a fountain of smoke, water and steam. Its stern was uppermost.
The cruiser poised thus only for a moment, and then came another explosion and the Pathfinder was practically blown to atoms. It went down in less than four minutes from the time it struck the mine."

SEVEN LOSE LIVES IN LA CROSSE FIRE

SLEEPING MEN TRAPPED IN HAY
BARN WHEN BLAZE
STARTED.

ONE DIES AT LYNXVILLE

One Dead, Another Dying From Injuries Received When Livery Stable Burns, and One
Missing.

La Crosse.—Seven men, railway construction employees, were burned to death in a fire in a haybarn just outside the city. The men were on their way back to their camp from the city
and are supposed to have stopped in the barn to sleep, with the result that the building was set afire by their matches.

Coroner Herman Langstadt and Dr.
Robert A. Flynn, county physician, recovered seven bodies, burned to crisp and unrecognizable. It is possible that more bodies may still be in
the ruins.

The authorities are conducting an inquest. An attempt will be made to ascertain the names of the victims by checking up the lists of the several railway construction crews in the neighborhood. The barn is situated some distance from the town and when the blaze was discovered by the caretakers of the property it was too late to combat it successfully. It was not until after the rules had been explored that it was found any lives had been lost.

In a livery stable fire, Roland Keely,
aged 19, Lynxville, was burned to death, Robert Brewer, aged 20, Lynx-ville, fatally burned and is dying at hospital in La Crosse, and John Kirwin, a telegraph operator, is missing. Three cattle were burned with all the carriages and other accoutrements in the place. Keely and Brewer
were employees of the livery stable.

Blacksmiths Name Heads
Wisconsin Horsehoers' Association
Ends Annual Convention
at Racine.

Racine.—August Ulrich of Milwaukee, was elected president of the Wisconsin Master Horsehoers' association at the twelfth annual convention held here. The other officers elected were:

First vice-president, William Kornegh, Fond du Lac; second vice-president, Charles Gauchell, Plymouth;
secretary-treasurer, W. G. Pakrandt, Waukesha.

A motion to have a complete course
of blacksmithing adopted in the state university was lost by a close vote, the majority claiming that in every state
where such system had been adopted,
it had failed to win two hundred delegates
and visitors were in attendance.

Hermit Cremated in Hut
John Door, Jayfield County Reclus,
May Have Been Seen in Lonely
Cabin by Robbers.

Superior.—Dying alone, as he had lived, the charred body of John Door,
also known as John Smith, a reclusive, was cremated in the center of Jayfield county, was found in the ruins of his cabin. The discovery was made by woodmen from a nearby camp who went to call upon the recluse, and reported to county officials
for investigation. Whether Door was trapped in his cabin, which was accidentally fired, or murdered and the house burned to cover the crime may never be known.

Find Teacher Is Robber.
Superior.—Joseph Schmitt, Sunday
school teacher and prospective candidate for the ministry, arrested here on five days ago, and who admits robbing eleven places, has a deep depression
more than an inch in the skull at the top of the head. This he claims to have received as the result of a fall
while working as a carpenter's helper
ten years ago. The police are inclined to blame it for his criminal tendencies.
Physicians believe an operation removing pressure upon the brain will remove his desire to steal.

Lightning Causes Fire.
Cumberland.—During a severe electrical storm, lightning struck the barn of George W. Hatch, eight miles north of this city, setting fire to the structure and consuming the barn
and twenty tons of hay. A thrashing crew of six men and a team of horses
had taken refuge in the barn and all were knocked to the floor stunned.
While the barn was burning, lightning struck the building twice.

Train Victim Identified.
Portage.—Authorities have made positive identification of the man killed by a car at the Milwaukee road depot here Aug. 23 as Julius Schwab-meter, an engineer, of South Milwaukee.

Despondent; Commits Suicide.
Janesville.—A despondent through lack of work, Adolph Sheek, aged 48, Watertown, hanged himself with a bit of baling wire and tobacco twine. The body was found by a woman.

Ogden Estate in Probate.
Madison.—In the estate of Francis
A. Ogden, multimillionaire, Judge Zimmerman granted administration to the Central Wisconsin Trust company, this city, to W. C. Noel, a relative.
Bonds of $50,000 were required.

Burglars Secure Loot.
Oconomowoc.—The general store of Fred Weickert at Stone Bank, north of Oconomowoc, was burglarized and about $500 worth of checks stolen and $30 in money.

Take Booster Trip.
Baraboo.—Business houses closed
and about 300 merchants and families
went on a booster tour through Sauk
county, headed by the Marine band,
under the auspices of the Baraboo
Commercial association.

Wants Poles Removed.
Hurley.—Attempting to force compliance with their request for the removal of poles from a certain street, 100 subscribers have discontinued service.

UNITED BRETHREN PASTORS

Rev. Charles J. Roberts, Janesville, Elected State Superintendent at Annual Conference

Janesville.—With the election of the Rev. Charles J. Roberts, pastor of the Janesville United Brethren church,
as superintendent of the state and the making of appointments for pastors for the coming year, the annual conference of the United Brethren closed
here. The following were the assignments made for the coming year:

Armenia, to be supplied; Bloomer,
H. A. Smelser, same; Boag, to be supplied; Burr, G. E. Waite, present location; Reed, Blanchardville, L. E.
Strickler, same; Cascade, O. L. Love,
Marion, Ind.; Fennimore, A. W. Phillips, present location; Monroe; Gilling-
ham, W. H. Adams, same; Janesville,
to be supplied; Lima Center, E. L.
Smith, same; Lima Ridge, G. W. Becht-olt, same; Monroe, F. L. Drock, Boag, present location; Meehan, to be supplied; New Auburn, no assignment;
Ontario, A. D. Meckard, same; Reese,
S. O. Stevens, Cascade; Richmond
Center, G. W. Everson, same; Turtle
Lake, to be supplied; conference evangelist, S. E. Taylor, Richmond Center, church student in seminary; Burr, J.
W. Truesdale; Turtle Lake, E. P.
West.

Sons of Norway End Meet
Complete Organization of Fifth District With Headquarters in Madison.

Madison.—The organization of the Fifth district of the Sons of Norway,
which includes the states of Wisconsin and Illinois, was completed at the closing session of a two days' convention. Forty were in attendance.

Madison was chosen as the district
headquarters and the new lodge was named Ole Bull district lodge No. 5.
Officers were elected as follows:

President, Finn Mohn, Chicago;
vice-president, P. S. Kanter, Superior;
secretary, O. T. Ullsvik, Madison;
treasurer, L. J. Westness, Milwaukee;
judge, A. Lofte, Eau Claire; regent,
H. S. Matheson, Chicago; trustees, three, W. J. Johnson, Wisconsin;
two years, E. Leines, Rhineland;
one year, O. S. Rice, Madison.

Priest Killed by Train
Father Boyce Meets Tragic Death
Under Car Wheels at New Richmond.

New Richmond.—The Rev. Father
Michael F. Boyce, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception,
was struck by the locomotive of an Omaha freight train in this city and instantly killed. He tried to save himself by jumping, but was caught under
the wheels and dragged five car
lengths. He was alone in the automobile. Father Boyce was 60 years old. He was born in Ireland, and saw military work in Africa after his ordination. He was stationed in New Richmond fourteen years, and was previously in Chippewa Falls. He was one of the best known priests of the diocese of Superior.

No Special Fair Service
Railroad Commission Refuses Petition of Agricultural Board for Shuttle Trains to Grounds.

Madison.—The state railroad commission dismissed a petition of the Wisconsin state board of agriculture for an order requiring the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad to furnish shuttle train service between the union depot at Milwaukee and the state fair ground on the city's regular passenger trains from the main line to the state fair ground line during fair week. The petition was dismissed because of the danger that the shuttle service would involve and because the diverting of regular passenger traffic would interfere with the United States mail service contract.

Janesville Pioneer Dies.
Janesville.—Oscar Nowlan, 73 years old, a pioneer of Janesville and for many years one of the leading contractors of the state, died here from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, which he suffered several years ago.
For years Mr. Nowlan contracted almost exclusively for the construction of state buildings. He and his business partner were the contractors who built the south wing of the old state capitol, the school for the deaf at Delavan, and several normal schools.

Election Canvassers Stumped.
Sturgeon Bay.—After a two days'
session the canvassing board adjourning without being able to count
the election returns. The Mary Ann ballot tangled up the inspectors so that they were unable to make proper returns. An appeal to the attorney general brought forth instructions to have the ballots returned to the inspectors in the several precincts and recounted.

Sheboygan Man Drowns.
Sheboygan.—When two of the party
in the boat containing Frank Babisch,
his wife, and Joe and Louis Babisch, attempted to change the boat, the craft overturned and Frank Babisch
drowned.

Lengthen School Year.
Superior.—With a general improvement of financial conditions in the school districts of Douglas county the sessions of the rural schools have been lengthened to nine months.

Divorce Suit Causes Suicide.
Sheboygan.—Mentally unbalanced,
it is believed by the action of his wife in instituting divorce proceedings,
William Berg, aged 46, a laborer, committed suicide here by drowning in the Sheboygan river. The widow and ten children survive.

Auto Injuries Kill Marshal.
Kiel.—Edward Hanks, village marshal, is dead as the result of injuries
sustained when run down by an automobile driven by a 17-year-old boy.

Deny Petition of New Trial.
Antigo.—The motion of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad for a new trial in the case of John Callahan, who obtained a judgment on June 23 for $12,000, has been denied by Judge Hogan.

Capt. Lewis Takes Vacation.
Madison.—Capt. Hugh Lewis, messenger of the house of representatives at Washington, has returned for a rest after a long period of continuous service during the present session.

VETERAN NURSE DIES

MRS. FLICK OF MADISON, DIS-TINGUISHED DURING WAR.

Was Reputed Oldest Settler of Dane County, Where She Came as Child.

Madison.—Mrs. E. B. Flick, vet-

GENERAL ELECTION NOTICE.

Wood County, County Clerk's Office.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at a general election to be held in several towns, wards, villages and election precincts of said county, on the first Tuesday succeeding the first

Monday of November, A. D. 1914, being the third day of said month,

the following officers are to be elected:

A GOVERNOR, in place of Francis

E. McGoover, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of

January, A. D. 1915.

A LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, in place of Thomas Morris, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday

of January, A. D. 1915.

A SECRETARY OF STATE, in place of John S. Donald, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday

of January, A. D. 1915.

A STATE TREASURER, in place of Henry Johnson, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of

January, A. D. 1915.

AN ATTORNEY GENERAL, in place of Walter C. Owen, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday

of January, A. D. 1915.

A UNITED STATES SENATOR, in place of Isaac Stephenson, whose term of office will expire on the fourth day of March, 1915.

A REPRESENTATIVE IN CONgress for the Eighth Congressional District, in place of J. C. Kinnear, Marathon, Portage, Waupaca, Waushara, Wood and Shawano.

A MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY, for

Wood County, in place of J. C. Conway, whose term of office will expire

on the second Wednesday in January,

A. D. 1915.

A COUNTY CLERK, in place of F.

H. Eberhardt, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of

January, A. D. 1915.

A COUNTY TREASURER, in place of Nate Anderson, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of

January, A. D. 1915.

A SHERIFF, in place of A. J. Cowell, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of January, A. D.

1915.

A CORONER, in place of John

Werner, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of January,

A. D. 1915.

A CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT

COURT, in place of A. B. Bever, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of January, A. D.

1915.

A DISTRICT ATTORNEY, in place of Chas. E. Briere, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday

of January, A. D. 1915.

A REGISTER OF DEEDS, in place of E. E. Ames, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday of

January, A. D. 1915.

A COUNTY SURVEYOR, in place of Wm. Corcoran, whose term of office will expire on the first Monday

of January, A. D. 1915.

Also such other officers as are by law required to be elected at such election.

In accordance with Section 1, of Article XII of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, and chapter 177 of the Laws of 1912, the following

Joint Resolutions adopted by the Legislature of the state of Wisconsin at the regular session of 1913, and and 1913 are made a part of the foregoing notice and are to be voted upon at said election, to-wit:

Joint Resolution No. 12.

To add section 13 to article VIII of the Constitution, relating to state insurance.

WHEREAS, At the biennial session of the Legislature for the year

1911, an amendment to the Constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"RESOLVED by the assembly, the senate concurring, that there be added to Article VIII of the state constitution a new section to read: Section

13. The state may grant insurance upon such risks and in such manner as may be prescribed by law, and the limitations or restrictions imposed in this constitution shall not apply to this subject; but provision shall be made for annual accounting for all policies assumed and for the separation and safeguarding of all funds and property held by the state on account of any such insurance; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be,

and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE.—(If adopted, this amendment will enable the legislature to pass a law providing for the recall

of all officers including elective constitutional officers, but not including judicial officers.)

(Jt. Res. No. 22.S.)

Joint Resolution No. 17.

To amend Article XII of the constitution, providing for the recall of public officers.

RESOLVED, by the senate, the assembly concurring, that Article

XII of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section to read:

Section 12. The legislature shall provide for the removal by recall from office by the voters of the electoral district in which the officer is elected, of every public officer in the state of Wisconsin holding an elective office except judicial officers; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the foregoing

proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be,

and the same is hereby agreed to by

this legislature.

NOTE.—(If adopted, this amendment will enable the legislature to pass a law providing for the recall

of all officers including elective constitutional officers, but not including judicial officers.)

(Jt. Res. No. 22.S.)

Joint Resolution No. 21.

To amend section 3a, of article XI, of the constitution, relating to powers of cities and villages.

WHEREAS, At the biennial session of the Legislature for the year

1911, an amendment to the Constitution was proposed and agreed to by

a majority of the members elected

to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"RESOLVED by the senate, the assembly concurring, that there be added after section 3 of article XI, of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, a new section to read:

(Article XI) 3a. Cities and villages shall have power and authority to amend their charters, and to frame and adopt new charters, and to enact all laws and ordinances relating to their municipal affairs, subject to the constitution and general laws of the state; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the foregoing

proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be,

and the same is hereby agreed to by

this legislature.

NOTE.—(If adopted, this amendment will empower cities and villages to amend their own charters and determine their own powers and authority, instead of, as now, restricting them to only such powers as are granted to them by the legislature.)

3. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of state and shall be sufficient to require the submission of a proposed amendment to the constitution to the people when signed by ten percent of the qualified electors calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be of any one county.

4. Any proposed amendment or amendments to this constitution, agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the legislature, shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and be submitted to the people by the secretary of state upon petition filed with him signed by five percent of the qualified elector, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be residents of any one county.

5. The legislature shall provide for furnishing the electors the text of all amendments to the constitution to be voted upon by the people.

6. If the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution; provided, that if more than one amendment be submitted, they shall be submitted

in such manner that the electors

may vote for or against such amendments separately; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the foregoing

proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be,

and the same is hereby agreed to by

this legislature.

NOTE.—(If adopted, this amendment will change the method of amending the constitution so that amendments may be adopted by an affirmative vote of three-fifths of the members elected to both houses of the legislature, and if the same shall be approved by three-fifths of the members elected to each of the two houses such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and the same shall be published for three months before the next general election and shall be submitted to the qualified electors at such election; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution; provided, that if more than one amendment be submitted, they shall be submitted

in such manner that the electors

may vote for or against such amendments separately; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the foregoing

proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be,

and the same is hereby agreed to by

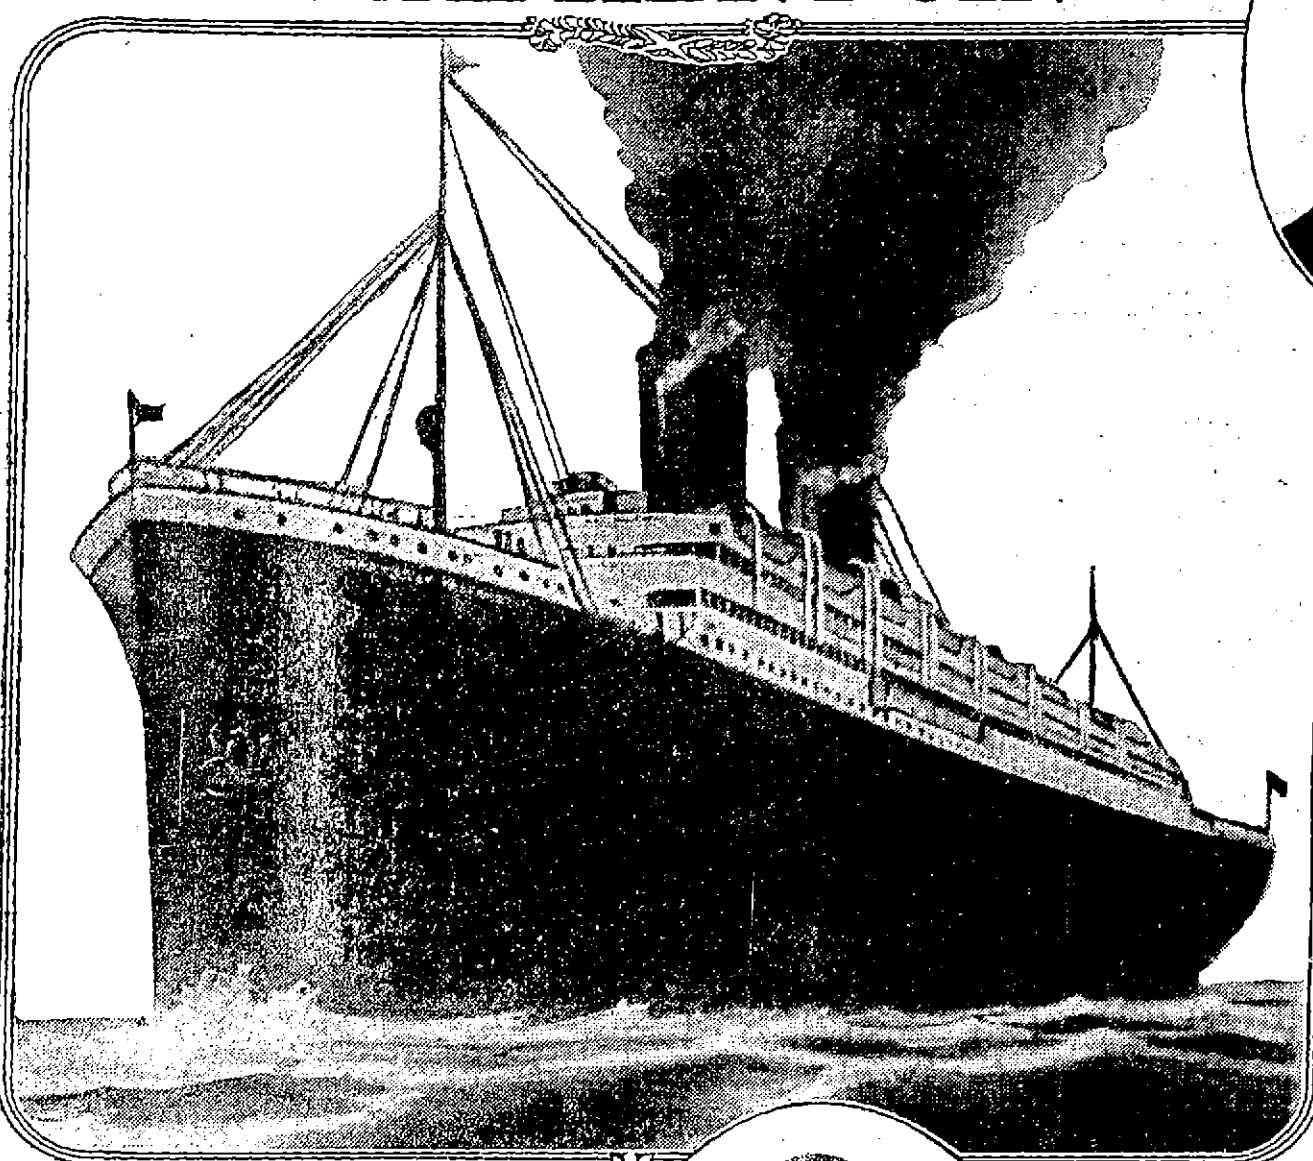

this legislature.

NOTE.—(If adopted, this amendment will change the method of

amending the constitution so that

WHAT EVIL STAR HANGS OVER FATHER POINT?

THE EMPRESS OF IRELAND

HERE is a legend told in the great woods along the Rimouski river of southeastern Canada that when a certain star hangs over Father Point all good men should keep to their homes, for on that night danger lurks on the St. Lawrence river off the point and the hunter and woodmen of the interior are in danger of their lives.

Father Point is near the mouth of the Rimouski river and is on the south shore of the St. Lawrence. The people of that place are used to caring for the poor and distressed. They have seen so much disaster and heartbreak they have long ceased to regard such occurrences as long.

The history of Father Point dates back before the coming of the white man. The language of the Indians gives legends of the evil star. One winter while the Indians of the Rimouski region were planning a trapping expedition to the Champlain river, the star rose above the point and by that sign forbade the Indians to embark. There were old men in the village who had heard of the legend and who told the young men to remain at home until the star had passed on. The young men laughed at the counsel of the old men and tried to depart. Then the old men went to the water and destroyed the canoes of the young men. They threw them on the fires and sat by in silence, while the young men railed at the older heads for the superstition.

But the Great Manitou took revenge for the rebellion of the young men. The legends tell how the Great Manitou sent the deepest snow that had ever fallen. The trails were buried and none were able to leave their wigwams. Families came because they could not go on the hunt as formerly. The young men died and there were few left to tell the tale.

Then came the French. One night when the wind howled around Father Point and sighed in the branches of the trees of the Rimouski river, the star reached the zenith above the fatal spot. "Don't go out tonight," chanted the Indian medicine men. "There is death in the land. Don't go out tonight."

But the French left their homes in spite of the warnings. All the young men of the river country marched away, because had not the great General Montcalm commanded? They were going to the defense of Quebec. Their boats took to the river that night and they mocked the star as it twinkled from above the crags. As their boats moved up the St. Lawrence toward Quebec the boats of Wolfe were in sight. As the sailors of Wolfe's command passed Father Point the watch on the boat saw the star, so the records before that time the English had forgotten the star which hung over Wolfe's vessel, but the watchman of that night did not forget and the Indian medicine men did not forget.

Then one night Wolfe, with his men, crept up the heights of Abraham above Quebec and when day broke he commanded the view of the city. The French rushed to the defense of the city. Before the stars of Abraham they fought most valiantly, but they seemed unable to stand before the onslaughts of the English. Every man from the banks of the Rimouski died in that terrible conflict. Montcalm, who had ordered them to the defense of Quebec, also was killed in battle and as he was about to die he reverently thanked God he was spared the sorrow of surrendering the fortress to the English.

The English won the victory, but the annals of that fight show that every officer and man who rode on the boat that night the star shone and even General Wolfe himself felt bleeding that morning. The watchman alone survived the

THOUGHT ONLY OF PAINTING
That Model Might Be Suffering From Strained Muscles Did Not Occur to the Artist.

Adolf Friedrich Menzel, the famous German artist, while in a waiting workshop, one day on his models came to rest. Once at work on a painting, he became so engrossed in it that he forgot the aching muscles of his models, and made them stand for hours at a time without rest. One of them

MADE IMMORTAL BY GENIUS
Writer Tells of Sordid Places That Are Made Bright by Memories of Dickens.

Mr. F. Hopkinson Smith, while in London, sought out and visited the various places made memorable by their connection with Charles Dickens' name. Mr. Smith was especially impressed by the fact that memories of Dickens were still vivid in the minds of the people. A little printer boy

MR. F. HOPKINSON SMITH

gives the following account in "Das Buch der Alley":
"I was posing as a soldier for one of his great mural paintings. He had me placed upon a great wooden stand after keeping in a certain position for back no response. The officers had to admit, with reluctance, that the great vessel had gone out of sight and would not be seen again. Marine agencies sending out queries all along the coast received the same reply of silence which told as eloquently as the roar of cannon that the ship had gone down and could speak no more."

Then came a court of inquiry. Investigation committees tried to learn whether the crew of the Empress of Ireland or the crew of the St. David was to blame for the disaster. They learned little, but up in the woods of the Rimouski, back as far as Lake Mistigouche, and even in the wilds of New Brunswick they tell how just before contention. Didn't the star blaze above Father Point when they sailed down the river on their way to Europe? Didn't the simple-minded shudders and conceal themselves and fall to start on any venture until after the spell of the star was gone? Didn't Belle Elmore continue on her way with the doctor and didn't she meet death in a mysterious manner in London? The papers then were full of the details of the strange murder. Belle Elmore's body was found in London in the basement of a house which she and her husband, Doctor Crippen, had occupied. Investigations pointed to Doctor Crippen as the slayer. They tried to show that he had an unrighteous attachment for Ethel LeNeve. Spies watched him daily in hopes he would commit some act which would throw suspicion his way. He expressed surprise that the woman should be missing. He expressed that she should have been horribly slain. He kept about, but the simple-minded folk say the spell of the evil star was upon him. The star had allowed Wolfe and the French soldiers to die at Quebec, but it wanted Doctor Crippen to meet his fate at the port of Father Point.

When night fell Doctor Crippen could not withstand the spell. He and Ethel LeNeve fled the country. Disguising himself as a Canadian returning home and dressing the LeNeve girl as his son he fled London and crossed the Atlantic, playing right into the hands of fate, the Canadian simple men say.

As the vessel neared the Canadian river, Captain Kendall, who later was to figure as captain of the ill-fated Empress of Ireland, saw the couple. The man looked the part of the respectable Canadian father. The boy, however, looked the part of a girl. Her face was boyish enough, but she had a girl's eye.

"She is a girl," Captain Kendall said. He watched her closely. Her locks were short, but she did not have the boyish features. She had not the adventurous curiosity of a boy. She was always hiding on board the vessel by herself. She did not like the company of others. She was too shy. Then Captain Kendall took a newspaper with photographs of Doctor Crippen. He examined the photograph carefully and compared it detail after detail with the man he had for a passenger. Yes, he was sure the man was Crippen. The wireless telegraph was set to work. The Dominion police were notified and they boarded the vessel before it even landed. The arrested Doctor Crippen and the short-haired Ethel LeNeve. The girl went free. She never had gone against the decrees of the star, but Doctor Crippen was sent back to London, where he paid the penalty according to the rigid English law of those who slay their wives.

HIS PRAYER ANSWERED.
"Ah!" he sighed, "If you only gave me the least hope!"
"Gracious!" interrupted the hard-hearted belle. "I've been giving you the least I ever gave to any man."

HUMAN UNDERSTANDING.
"I understand that you have written a book?"
"Yes," replied Professor Hilroy. "But that does not imply that I have written a book that you understand."

AN INFLUENCE TOWARD SECLUSION.
"Are you going to keep a diary?"
"No. If you use up all your time writing up a diary, nothing happens to you worth telling about."

SOMEWHAT.
Bill—What's your friend's name?
Jill—Robin Albatross.
"What a funny name."
"Why, it's a bird of a name."

comfortable. I had almost forgotten you, as a painter will when heart and soul goes into his work. Wait!" he exclaimed. "Stay just where you are. I had just commenced to descend the ladder, and as I did so I evidently struck a pose that was suitable for another part of the composition, for the artist immediately picked up his palette and went to work with renewed zeal."

At length he finished and laid down his brush. "Thank heavens!" I thought. "Now we can rest." But I had no more than reached the ground when Menzel said: "Now that we have had our rest, you may get up on the 'first picture'."

Of course I had to comply, and did, but not without a great deal of inward irritation, as you can easily imagine. Youth's Companion.

A missionary in the Philippines gives motion picture shows in remote districts.

U. S. Missionaries Menaced by Turks. Athens, Sept. 7.—Unconfirmed rumors that Mohammedan priests are urging the Turkish district commander, by Carl P. Baker and Herman N. Baker & Co., dealers in metal and hardware.

May Wheat Reaches $1.31. Chicago, Sept. 7.—May wheat reached the highest point in years when it was forced up to $1.31. The advance was $1.25, when the market opened and this gradually advanced. The scene in the pit was exciting.

U. S. Missionaries Menaced by Turks. Athens, Sept. 7.—Unconfirmed rumors that Mohammedan priests are urging the Turkish district commander, by Carl P. Baker and Herman N. Baker & Co., dealers in metal and hardware.

Aviator Is Found Dead. Bardonia, Ky., Sept. 7.—Discovery of the body of Charles Hibbard, an aviator, beside his wrecked machine, here revealed a mid-air death mystery. No one knew he had gone into the air until his body was found.

Wheat Crop Large. TOTAL PRODUCTION OF CEREAL WILL REACH 895,000,000 BUSHELS.

REPORTING BOARD ESTIMATE
Department of Agriculture Issues Its Totals for September 1 on Conditions and Production of United States Crop.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The crop reporting board, department of agriculture, made the following estimates of the condition and production of the crops on September 1:
Wheat—Condition, Sept. 1, 17.7; last year, 17.7; yield per acre, 12.2 bushels; five year average, 13.3 bushels; total production, 221,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 236,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 240,000,000 bushels.
All wheat—Yield, per acre, 16.8 bushels; five year average, 14.7 bushels; total production, 890,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 911,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 763,000,000 bushels.
Price, Sept. 1, 93.3 cents; last year, 71.1 cents.
Corn—Condition, Sept. 1, 71.7; last year, 65.1; yield per acre, 24.9 bushels; five year average, 28.9 bushels; total production, 2,598,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 2,634,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 2,447,000,000 bushels.
Price, Sept. 1, 61.5 cents; last year, 75.4 cents.
Oats—Condition, Sept. 1, 75.3; last year, 74.0; yield per acre, 29.1 bushels; five year average, 30.6 bushels; total production, 1,116,000,000 bushels; August forecast, 1,153,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 1,122,000,000 bushels.
Price, Sept. 1, 42.3; last year, 39.3 cents.
Barley—Condition, Sept. 1, 82.4; last year, 73.4; yield, per acre, 20.3 bushels; five year average, 21.3 bushels; August forecast, 203,000,000 bushels; 1913 final, 178,000,000 bushels.
Price, Sept. 1, 75.4 cents; last year, 63 cents.
Rye—Preliminary estimate yield per acre, 16.5 bushels; five year average, 16 bushels; total, 43,000,000; August forecast, 43,000,000; 1913 final, 41,000,000.
Price, Sept. 1, 75.4 cents; last year, 63 cents.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR
Providence, R. I., Sept. 4.—The cotton mills of Providence have been obliged to work night and day in order to supply the ever increasing orders which has been felt for the last few weeks.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Vice-President Marshall gave out a statement Wednesday in which he declared that President Wilson will be the Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1916.

Paris, Sept. 8.—A Havas agency dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, says that the newspapers there announce that Germany has rejected Austria's request for a loan and that the bankers have taken similar action.

BUILDERS OF CANAL HONORED
House Passes Bill Extending the Thanks of Congress to Col. Goethals and His Associates.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The house unanimously passed a bill extending the thanks of congress to Col. George W. Goethals and his associates in the construction of the Panama canal. Brig. Gen. William C. Gorgas, Col. H. H. Hodges, Lieut. Col. William L. Stewart and Commander H. H. Rousseau. The bill advances Colonel Goethals to the rank of major general of the line and General Gorgas to the rank of major general of the medical department.

WRITERS ABOUT WAR HELL
Germany Must Give Reason or United States Protest Will Go to Berlin.

Washington, Sept. 9.—An inquiry by the senate department is to be made regarding the detention of American newspaper correspondents by Germany. If it develops that there is no good reason for their being held in a vigorous protest will be made to the government at Berlin. John T. McCutcheon, James O'Donnell, Bennett, H. H. Hagan, Levin S. Cobb and Roger Lewis are being held in Berlin-Chapelle by the German authorities.

U. S. Takes Over Wireless Station.
Washington, Sept. 10.—The navy department on Tuesday formally took over the wireless station at Tucker, N. J., pursuant to an executive order issued Saturday by President Wilson.

Noted Briton Is Dead.
London, Sept. 10.—Sir J. Henniker Heaton, father of penny postage between Great Britain and the United States, died at Geneva, Switzerland. He was 84 years old. He had been in poor health.

Firm Falls; Owes Millions.
New York, Sept. 7.—A petition in bankruptcy with liabilities listed at more than a million dollars was filed in the federal district court, by Carl P. Baker and Herman N. Baker & Co., dealers in metal and hardware.

May Wheat Reaches $1.31.
Chicago, Sept. 7.—May wheat reached the highest point in years when it was forced up to $1.31. The advance was $1.25, when the market opened and this gradually advanced. The scene in the pit was exciting.

U. S. Missionaries Menaced by Turks. Athens, Sept. 7.—Unconfirmed rumors that Mohammedan priests are urging the Turkish district commander, by Carl P. Baker and Herman N. Baker & Co., dealers in metal and hardware.

Aviator Is Found Dead. Bardonia, Ky., Sept. 7.—Discovery of the body of Charles Hibbard, an aviator, beside his wrecked machine, here revealed a mid-air death mystery. No one knew he had gone into the air until his body was found.

Wheat Crop Large. TOTAL PRODUCTION OF CEREAL WILL REACH 895,000,000 BUSHELS.

REPORTING BOARD ESTIMATE
Department of Agriculture Issues Its Totals for September 1 on Conditions and Production of United States Crop.

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Wilson issued a proclamation designating Sunday, October 4, as the day of prayer in the United States for peace in Europe. The proclamation follows:
"Whereas, great nations of the world have taken up arms against one another and war now draws millions of men into battle whom the counsel of statesmen have not been able to save from a terrible sacrifice; and
Whereas, in this as in all things it is our privilege and duty to seek counsel and succor of Almighty God, humbling ourselves before him, confessing our weakness and our lack of any wisdom equal to these things; and
Whereas, it is the especial wish and longing of the people of the United States, in prayer and counsel and all friendliness, to serve the cause of peace;
Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do designate Sunday, the fourth day of October next, a day of prayer and supplication, and do request all God-fearing persons to repair on that day to their places of worship, there to unite their petitions for Almighty God that, overruling the counsel of men, settling straight the things they cannot govern or alter, taking pity of the nations now in the throes of conflict, in his mercy and goodness showing the way where men can see none, he vouchsafe his children, healing peace again and restore once more that concord among men and nations without which there can be neither happiness nor true friendship, nor any wholesome fruit of toil or thought in the world; praying also to this end that he forgive our sins, our ignorance of his holy will, our weakness and many errors, and lead us in the paths of obedience to places of vision and to thoughts and counsels that purge and make wise.
In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
Done at the city of Washington this eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth.
(Signed)
"WOODROW WILSON."
By the president: William J. Bryan, "Secretary of State."

MEXICANS TO FIGHT U. S.?
General Aguilar Reported to Have Said He Would Attack Americans at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Sept. 9.—General Canales, agent of the constitutional forces is reported here to have declared he would attack the American troops at Vera Cruz to prove the world the constitutionalists were not in league with the Americans and that they had never had any assistance from the white house. Preparations already are being made for the advance, several outposts having been established along the route of the inter-oceanic railway four miles from Vera Cruz, it is said. Passengers arriving over this road reported they saw the outposts.

BANDITS SHOOT 2 ON TRAIN
Daring Robbery Occurs on Grand Trunk at Detroit by Masked Bandits.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7.—Two passengers on a Grand Trunk passenger train, inbound from Toronto, were shot and one of them probably fatally wounded by two masked robbers, who boarded the train soon after it entered the city. The injured man, a Canadian, was taken to the hospital. The robbers, a traveling salesman of Berlin, O., and Joseph Seltzer of Shelby, O. The former was shot through the stomach and physicians said his recovery was doubtful. The passengers were unable to say how much money the robbers secured. Within a few minutes after the robbery the police had arrested half a dozen suspects.

Mrs. Russell Sage Is 86.
Lawrence, L. I., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Russell Sage celebrated her eighty-sixth birthday. No special observance marked the day as Mrs. Sage has not been in her accustomed health recently.

While suffering from no malady, the aged philanthropist is constantly under the care of physicians to ward off the infirmities of age.

Extras Paid by Congress.
Washington, Sept. 10.—The million-dollar emergency appropriation acted by Secretary Bryan to meet extraordinary diplomatic and consular expenses because of the European war was passed by the house.

Families of Soldiers Pay No Rent.
London, Sept. 10.—Sixty families who occupy houses belonging to a shield firm have been notified that they need not pay rent while their men folk are serving their country in the war.

Many Hurt in Train Wreck.
Chicago, Sept. 8.—Nearly a score of persons were hurt when a passenger train on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad crashed head-on into an engine as it was nearing the Union station.

Earthquake at Seattle, Wash.
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 8.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here Sunday. The disturbance was recorded on the University of Seattle seismograph. No damage was done in this vicinity.

Won't Tax Railroad Tickets.
Washington, Sept. 8.—At a conference of Democrats of the ways and means committee practically abandoned the idea of taxing railroad tickets as one method of raising additional revenue as a war tax.

$2,000,000 for Food Supply.
Bordeaux, France, Sept. 8.—The government authorized an advance of $2,000,000 to the chamber of commerce for the purchase of corn and supplies to meet the needs of the country during the war.

WILL PRAY FOR PEACE
PRESIDENT DESIGNATES OCTOBER 4 AS PRAYER DAY.
Chief Executive Requests All God-Fearing Persons in U. S. to Petition God for End of War.

JAY OF THE BLOUSE
HAS BECOME INDISPENSABLE PART OF WARDROBE.
Nothing Really Seems Able to Take Its Place, Either for Usefulness or for the Pretty Effect It Gives to Costumes.

Those who have neglected to provide themselves with separate blouses for warm weather wear have doubtless before this time realized their mistake. The separate blouse of silk, linen or of sheer cotton has a very important place in the wardrobe of the modern woman. For golf, tennis, walking, rowing and for all summer sports there is nothing that can take the place of the separate waist. The fashionable loose blouse that is worn this season, with a separate skirt of tub material, or with a coat and skirt to complete a costume is, without doubt, prettier than blouses ever were before. The waist that the smart girl will want—that is, if she is not too stout—is one that is of two materials. The models of this type vary a little, but the general lines are the same. The heavier material is used for the fronts, which are straight strips about two and a half to three inches wide each. These continue up in a rounded or V-shaped piece that fits the neck much the same as the neck and front facing of an ordinary kimono, with the exception that the fronts do not lap over each other, but meet edge to edge. The sleeves are finished with a band of the heavy material and at the waist line with a shaped vest girdle that comes well down over the hips and fastens at the front. The back, sides and sleeves of the blouse are of the sheer goods and are generally cut in one piece. The effect when finished is that of something between the new long-waisted basques and the long-lived loose blouse. A feature that is very marked in the new sport waists is the set-in sleeves. There is nothing particularly new in the shaping of the sleeve itself, but the fact that it is not cut in one with a part of the waist, as has been the custom for several seasons, makes it striking, and, as the blouse is decidedly pleasing. The sleeves are generally long, but some blouses do show them three-quarter length. They are either finished in blouse style or the regulation coat type. There is much to be said in favor of silk for the sport blouse. Such blouses keep clean longer than linen or cotton waists, and should they become soiled it is a very easy matter to press them in one's room with an electric iron. Another thing in their favor is that they are easily laundered.

Skin Lotion.
A lotion composed of two ounces of lettuce juice, two drams of oil of cologne, two ounces of distilled vinegar and four ounces of elder flower water is said to be especially good for getting heat and irritation of the skin. Rub the skin with it frequently.

EASILY MADE UTILITY BOX
Useful and Attractive Article for the Bureau May Be Put Together for a Few Cents.
The material required to make a utility box for the bureau is as follows: Six oblong pill boxes, ten cents; two yards of ribbon, three-quarter inch, ten cents; one yard broad ribbon, 15 cents, 25 cents.
Remove the drawers from each pill box. Arrange the outside cover sections in three rows of two each, as in illustration. Paste these boxes together in this position. Take the narrow ribbon and cover the four sides of each drawer by pasting. Sew on the short side of one of the drawers a button.

BEAUTY DON'TS
Don't forget that bright colors should not be worn by those who are inclined to be slow.
Don't rub the eyes too roughly with the towel after washing. They are liable to get inflamed if you do.
Don't cut your eyelashes with the idea of making them grow. You will do them lasting harm instead.
Don't dress your hair too low over the brows. Thin and scanty eyebrows are largely caused by this.
Don't lean your elbows on the table. If you make a habit of doing this the skin of the elbows will become scaly and hard.
Don't forget that glycerin and cucumber have a very softening effect upon the skin. Rubbed into the skin regularly at night.
Don't give up walking in the hot weather. Remember that a certain amount of exercise is necessary every day if you want to keep well.
Ivory Kept White.
As the French Ivory toilet sets are now so much worn and people are having trouble to keep them from turning yellow, they may be glad to know that by wiping them with alcohol instead of water they will retain their natural color. This also applies to piano keys. Water should not be used on them.
After the Tango.
When your feet are sore or tired, soak them for 20 minutes in water to which have been added a tablespoonful of epsom salts, a tablespoonful of ammonia and a tablespoonful of common salt.
The Radium Spangle.
The bit of the season is the opalescent or radium cup spangle. This appears in manifold designs on neck or on lace alone or in combination with beads. Sparkled pendants and tassels are features of note. Silk and beaded tassels are included in the running. For the street dress or suit of severe tailored lines, sectional pendants and tassels are worn with loops in the skirt or on the belt. Some of the most of these are in leather with beaded designs. Rich ornaments of gold, in odd Egyptian designs and colorings, are seen. In many instances they appear in combination with precious stone effects and drops.

SHOW THE FEET AND ANKLES
Styles in the New Dresses Make the Donning of Dainty Footwear an Absolute Necessity.
The trend of style in the skirts and new dresses and suits tends to a continued display of feet and ankles. Hence the necessity for dainty footwear. The new colonial pumps are a combination of materials and colors. The vamps are usually of patent leather or dull calfskin combined with colored uppers or linings of suede, figured cloth or kid. The principal colors are champagne and fawn.
The latest button stunner or low shoe is made of putty-colored antelope and black patent leather, with sandal straps and buttons. The shoe fits high over the instep, with a snug fit up to the ankle and an ornamental ankle strap. The latest novelty in evening slippers is made of black satin embroidered in silver, crystal beads and rhinestones. Buckles are not so prominent, and all ornaments are very small.

TAILORED EFFECT
A very attractive model of white bontaline. Note the new drapery on the skirt.
Airy Nightclothes Hygienic.
Since there has been such an outcry against the style of clothes worn by men and women (in what is virtually a torrid climate during the summer months) because of the unhygienic warmth, especially in men's clothing, a crusade has been begun against nightclothes. One authority claims that pajamas are too restricting for wear except when travelling, as in the case of commercial men, who change their beds nightly and are exposed to temperature changes. For once it is claimed that women dress more sensibly than men, as sheer cloth nightgowns are hygienic and allow ventilation, so inducing refreshing sleep, especially when the gown is sleeveless.

Designs on Candles.
To make white candles look pretty pick out some very pretty paper plates—some that are not too large for your candles—wrap the plates around the candle with the design to the wax. Take an electric globe or a taper (lighted) and run up and down the candle on all sides. When you think the wax has softened enough to allow the design to come off and allow the print to stay on until the wax hardens, again, then remove. Some one-day candles in gold ink make pretty candles.—Christian Science Monitor.

Handkerchief Linen.
A lot of composed of two ounces of lettuce juice, two drams of oil of cologne, two ounces of distilled vinegar and four ounces of elder flower water is said to be especially good for getting heat and irritation of the skin. Rub the skin with it frequently.

NEATEST OF HAIR RECEIVERS
Washable Article Is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who Is Making a Journey.
A hair receiver that is washable is a boon. Of course, the china ones are also sanitary, but the receiver in question is really for the traveler's bag or grip. She can take it with her on a journey and save the combings, if she so wishes, or dispose of them when opportunity offers. It does seem that that old saying about "a good receiver will never let you down" is really true. The receiver is really nothing more than a tiny bit of lawn or washable silk, fitted into a ball-like bag. There is a string at the top of the material and the bottom. The beginning of the is but a rather narrow strip of

Washable Article Is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who Is Making a Journey.

A hair receiver that is washable is a boon. Of course, the china ones are also sanitary, but the receiver in question is really for the traveler's bag or grip. She can take it with her on a journey and save the combings, if she so wishes, or dispose of them when opportunity offers. It does seem that that old saying about "a good receiver will never let you down" is really true. The receiver is really nothing more than a tiny bit of lawn or washable silk, fitted into a ball-like bag. There is a string at the top of the material and the bottom. The beginning of the is but a rather narrow strip of

Washable Article Is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who Is Making a Journey.

A hair receiver that is washable is a boon. Of course, the china ones are also sanitary, but the receiver in question is really for the traveler's bag or grip. She can take it with her on a journey and save the combings, if she so wishes, or dispose of them when opportunity offers. It does seem that that old saying about "a good receiver will never let you down" is really true. The receiver is really nothing more than a tiny bit of lawn or washable silk, fitted into a ball-like bag. There is a string at the top of the material and the bottom. The beginning of the is but a rather narrow strip of

Washable Article Is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who Is Making a Journey.

A hair receiver that is washable is a boon. Of course, the china ones are also sanitary, but the receiver in question is really for the traveler's bag or grip. She can take it with her on a journey and save the combings, if she so wishes, or dispose of them when opportunity offers. It does seem that that old saying about "a good receiver will never let you down" is really true. The receiver is really nothing more than a tiny bit of lawn or washable silk, fitted into a ball-like bag. There is a string at the top of the material and the bottom. The beginning of the is but a rather narrow strip of

Washable Article Is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who Is Making a Journey.

A hair receiver that is washable is a boon. Of course, the china ones are also sanitary, but the receiver in question is really for the traveler's bag or grip. She can take it with her on a journey and save the combings, if she so wishes, or dispose of them when opportunity offers. It does seem that that old saying about "a good receiver will never let you down" is really true. The receiver is really nothing more than a tiny bit of lawn or washable silk, fitted into a ball-like bag. There is a string at the top of the material and the bottom. The beginning of the is but a rather narrow strip of

Washable Article Is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who Is Making a Journey.

A hair receiver that is washable is a boon. Of course, the china ones are also sanitary, but the receiver in question is really for the traveler's bag or grip. She can take it with her on a journey and save the combings, if she so wishes, or dispose of them when opportunity offers. It does seem that that old saying about "a good receiver will never let you down" is really true. The receiver is really nothing more than a tiny bit of lawn or washable silk, fitted into a ball-like bag. There is a string at the top of the material and the bottom. The beginning of the is but a rather narrow strip of Washable Article Is a Boon, Especially to the Woman Who Is Making a Journey.

